A STORY OF CÆSAR.

The Quality of Mercy as Exercised by the Great Roman.

Cæsar traveled with the retinue of a man of rank, and on his way to Rhodes he fell in with an adventure which may be something more than legend. When he was crossing the Ægean, his vessel is said to have been taken by pirates. They carried him to Pharmacusa, an island off the Carian coast, which was then in their pos-session, and there he was detained for six weeks with three of his attendants, while the rest of his servants were sent to the nearest Roman station to raise his ransom.

The pirates treated him with politeness. He joined in their sports, played games with them, looked into their habits and amused himself with them as well as he could, frankly telling them at the same time that they would be hanged.

The ransom, a very large one, about £10,000, was brought and paid. Cæsar was set upon the mainland, near Mi-letus, where, without a moment's delay, he collected some armed vessels, delay, he concrete some armed vessels, returned to the island, selzed the whole crew while they were dividing their plunder, and took them away to Pergamus, the seat of government in the Asiatic province, where they were convicted and crucified. Clemency was not a Roman characteristic. It was therefore noted with some surprise that Cæsar interceded to mitigate the severity of the punishment. The poor wretches were strangled before they were stretched on their crosses and were spared the prolongation of their torture .- James Anthony Froude.

Man's Wonderful Stomach.

The human stomach possesses most wonderful powers of adaptation to circumstances. When Lieutenant Bligh and his eighteen men were cast off from the Bounty by the mutineers in an open boat, they subsisted for fortyone days on a daily allowance of one-twenty-fifth of a pound of biscuit per man and a quarter of a pint of water. Dr. Tanner in 1880 fasted for forty days, subsisting, it is said, on water alone, and Succi and other fasting men have since excelled this.

Kaffirs, North American Indians and the fat boy in "Pickwick" may well be quoted as fearful examples of vo-racity, but even their gastronomic feats are exceeded by the full grown Eski-mo, who will daily eat twenty pounds of flesh and oil if he has the chance while on the authority of Admiral Saritcheff a Yakut of Siberia has been known to consume in twenty-four hours "the hind quarter of a large ox, twenty pounds of fat and a quantity of melted butter for his drink!"

Tennyson's Tactlessness.

Several stories are told of Tenny-son's thoughtless speeches. "What fish is this?" he once asked his hostess where he was dining. "Whiting," she replied. "The meanest fish there is," he remarked, quite unconscious that he could have wounded any one's feelings. Yet his kindness of heart was such that when his partridge was afterward given him almost raw he ate steadily through it for fear his hostess might be vexed.

On one occasion Tennyson was very to be obtained by the second s under each arm.

"I heard you like these, so I brought them," he said genially. It was his idea of a peace offering.

Lightning's Marks on the Body. A curious and not uncommon effect of lightning is the formation of certain rborescent or treelike marks upon the body. By early observers they were believed to be due to the presence of ueighboring objects, which were pho-tographed upon the skin. Various ex-planations were offered by different authorities. Richardson has shown by experiment that the blood is the best elec trical conductor of all human tissues and that these marks are merely the impressions of the blood vessels on the due to the a tion of the light on the blood in the vessels .- Exchange.

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrahoea Remedy. "B. L. A man likes to hear a woman say she has never been kissed, even if he does not believe it.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea; was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. Fear.

Fear causes more disease than do microbes, more deaths than famine, more failures than panies; it costs more than war, is always a failure and is never necessary. Fear weakens the heart's action, induces congestion, invites indigestion, produces poison through decomposing foods and is thus the mother of autopoisoning, which el-ther directly causes or greatly aids in the production of quite 90 per cent of all our diseases.—G.
