A PURE BUTTER CIRCULAR

Philadelphia Merchants Issue a Circular to Farmers and Dairy-men. The combined pure butter interests of Philadelphia have issued an unusual circular during the past week. It is addressed to the Farmers and Dairy-men of Pennsylvania and reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned dealers in pure butter, being especially interested in the success of the Grout bill, made repeated visits to the national capitol when this measure was under consideration in the Senate and House.

"We take great pleasure in stating that the Hon. Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania was untiring in his efforts to aid in the passage of this bill, which is of inestimable benefit to the dairy interests, and we very much doubt if it would have become a law, with its many desirable features, if Senator Penrose had not labored so earnestly in its behalf.

"Wealthily oleomargarine dealers and manufacturers, from various sections of the United States co-operating with other powerful interests, worked with unceasing zeal to defeat this measure and thereby seriously cripple the great dairy interests, but on account of the unwavering fidelity of Senator Penrose to the farmers and dairymen, their efforts were rendered unsuccessful.

"In view of this we would respectfully urge all farmers and dairymen to advocate the election of members of the senate and house of representatives in Pennsylvania who will support re-election to the United States Senate, the Hon. Boies Penrose, of Philadelphia, Pa."

This circular is signed by W. R. Bryce & Co., 23 South Water street, Bickel & Miller, 322 South Front street and twelve other of the largest wholesale butter merchants and firms in the city.

PATTISON OPPOSED BY LABOR

Tinplate Workers Urge Wage Earners to Oppose His Election as Governor.

At the recent tin plate conference of the Amalgamated Association the following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas, R. E. Pattison has been selected as one of the candidates for governor of this great commonwealth; and

"Whereas, It is well known to organized labor that said R. E. Pattison is a most bitter enemy of organized labor as was evidenced by his action during his last administration by his vetoing Senate bill No. 19, session of 1885, providing for a better protection of wages of labor and providing for a better system of collection, and his vetoing House bill No. 626, securing to mechanics and laborers the right to file liens on real estate for wages due.

"Also by sending troops to Homestead during the strike of 1892, after he had promised a committee of the workmen that no troops would be sent there in view of the fact that Adjutant General Greenland had reported that peace prevailed and that the presence of troops was not necessary for the preservation of order; and

"Whereas, It was stated to a committee of citizens of Homestead by General Snowden, the representative of Governor Pattison, that 'the mills are open, and any one who the company permits to enter to work will be protected by the troops.'

"Therefore, in view of all these facts, it is resolved by the members of the conference committee and the other members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, that we do condemn unqualifiedly, and without reserve, the action of former Governor R. E. Pattison, and we recommend that all union men vote and use their influence to defeat this enemy of organized labor."

The Road to Anarchy.

One of the most dangerous tendencies of modern American life, apparently becoming every day more prevalent, is the disposition wantonly and recklessly to speak ill of those who are charged with the performance of public duties. Instead of the respect which in the days of our fathers was exhibited toward those selected by the people for office, it is the habit of our time to offer them only abuse. If we ever succeed in entirely destroying the confidence of the people in those who administer the government we shall have reached the time when the government itself is ready to perish. It is a kind of slander which is closely akin to treason and leads directly on the road to anarchy and the overthrow of our cherished institutions. It is the breeding ground where grow the sentiments and impulses of creatures like Giltzue and Czolgosz.—From Judge Pennypacker's Erie speech.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 29th, 1902.

Editor Press:—

President Roosevelt continues to improve slowly and it is believed that he will be able to use his injured leg next week, when he will review the Grand Army parade, on the 8th. After doing so, he will return with Mrs. Roosevelt to Oyster Bay to remain for two weeks. Secretary Cortelyou told your correspondent Saturday that Mr. Roosevelt hoped to secure absolute rest at Oyster Bay and to be free from all callers except such as he might summon on important business. If he can secure the retirement which he desires at his summer home, he would prefer staying there to going to some resort in the mountains, but if his friends will not permit him to rest on Long Island, he will be forced to go to some more inaccessible point. After remaining two weeks in Oyster Bay, the President will return to Washington and occupy the temporary White House until election-day when he will go home to vote, and it is hoped that when he returns to this city again, the renovated White House will be in a condition to receive him and his family.

The most interesting development in Washington this week consists of the extensive changes made in the diplomatic corps, announced at the State Department Saturday. Mr. Charlemagne Tower, ambassador to Russia, is to become ambassador to Berlin. Mr. Robert S. McCormick, now ambassador to Austria-Hungary, is to become ambassador to Russia. Mr. Bellamy Storer, now Minister to Spain, becomes ambassador to Austria-Hungary. Mr. Arthur S. Hardy, now Minister to Switzerland, becomes ambassador to Spain. Mr. Charles Page Bryan, now Minister to Brazil, becomes Minister to Switzerland and Mr. David E. Thompson of Nebraska, becomes Minister to Brazil. The most notable feature in these new appointments is the thoroughness with which the President has put into practice his policy of rewarding merit in the government service. All of the men appointed to important posts have served the country creditably at lesser points. Instead of their being selected because of their political influences and their ability to sway local public opinion they are selected because Mr. Roosevelt believes that having rendered efficient service, they deserve promotion, and because, having gained diplomatic experience in the past, they will be in a position to further the interests of the United States in the countries to which they are assigned better than would an inexperienced man. No more direct denial of the statements that Mr. Roosevelt has abandoned his civil service position could have been made than is contained in the announcement of these appointments. Mr. Thompson, the only appointee from civil life, is a man of known ability and he is appointed to a post of minor importance where he can gain his experience without serious loss to the country, as might be the case had he been appointed to a European court, while he has the assurance that, so long as President Roosevelt's policy is carried out, faithful service in Brazil will gain for him promotion in the diplomatic corps.

There is manifest a certain apathy in the campaign which is the occasion of some anxiety to the Republican leaders. Chairman Babcock was recently in Washington and stated that the only danger to Republican success was in the "stay-at-home" vote. He said he had good grounds for believing that no votes would be lost to the party by the conversion of the voters to Democratic doctrines, but there was an element of danger in too great confidence on the part of those who were reluctant to go to the polls and vote, except in close campaigns. The Democrats are considerably worried at the prospect of the loss of two votes from Texas. No steps have been taken thus far toward electing a successor to the late Representative de Graffenreid and the selection of a Congressman for governor will leave another vacancy in the delegation.

Geo. W. Huntley's Nominating Speech.

The following nominating speech was delivered by Geo. W. Huntley, Esq., at the Republican County Convention, held at this place, Sept. 23:

MR. CHAIRMAN:—A duty devolving on this Convention is the nomination of a candidate to represent our county in the next General Assembly of the State Legislature. It behooves us to name a man worthy of the high honor conferred upon him; a man qualified to faithfully serve the people, one who will receive their suffrage at the polls. I believe Cameron county has men who can fill any requirements that its people may demand, but in this case we have a man particularly fitted for this particular place. Such a man is Hon. Henry H. Mullin. He is a self-made man, he having by industry, courage and integrity, climbed the ladder, step by step, from a slate picker at the coal mines, to a printers devil, and from printers devil to Editor of one of our leading journals; and who has become one of the most progressive citizens of our county.

Born in our State, he came to our county a mere lad and has resided with us thirty-four years. He has married one of our daughters and built a home in our midst, and we have watched him rise by his own efforts, to his present honorable standing in our community.

He has always worked for the interest of the county and the honor of its citizens. He has been a friend to the widow and orphan, a help to the old soldier, and counselor to many others, without distinction of nationality, religious creed or political affiliations. He can be approached by everybody and can ascertain the people's wants, and knowing their wants, he also knows how to secure them. He is better acquainted with the county and its people than any other man, knows the condition of all our citizens, and having the mind and heart to endeavor to accomplish their every demand, he is therefore, preeminently qualified to serve the people. He is acquainted with the political leaders of the state, besides having served two terms as Clerk in the House and another term as Member. He has practical experience for this office which few men have.

He is, furthermore, imbued with the noble principles that were inculcated by the lamented McKinley, and promulgated by the courageous Roosevelt. I came from the lower end of the county to make this nomination as a token of our loyalty to him and I do so with the hope that it will receive the approval of the delegates here assembled, and with the belief that it will have the endorsement of the voters on election day.

I nominate Honorable Henry H. Mullin.

Baptist Church Notes.

Anniversary services at the First Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. The pastor's brother, Rev. W. Pugsley, Jr., of Toronto, Canada, will preach. Special music by the choir. Bible school at close of morning worship. C. E. Crandwell, Supt. Y. P. S. C. E. 6, p. m., B. Olmsted President. Prayer-meeting Wednesday evening 7:30. Study of prophecy, Friday evening, Oct. 10, 7:30. All welcome. Remember Sunday evening hour has changed from 7:30 to 7 o'clock.

Bright Prospects.

County Chairman Robertson, of Alleghany county says the Republican candidate for Governor will have 30,000 majority in that county. The Republican party is thoroughly united throughout the state and the entire state ticket will have an immense majority. Let the Republicans of Cameron do their duty and assist in swelling the big vote for CONTINUED PROSPERITY.

Commissioners Convention.

County Commissioners Gaskill, Vogt and Mason accompanied by their clerk, I. K. Hockley, attended the convention of County Commissioners at Gettysburg this week, where no doubt they had a pleasant time.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

SPENCE.
Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Spence have the sympathy of our citizens in the death of their four months old son, which took place last Monday evening. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the family residence on Broad street. Rev. Pugsley, of Baptist church officiating.

To LET.—A furnished house, with modern improvements. Terms reasonable. Address, Box 83, East Emporium.

BRIEF MENTION.

An exchange says that a man has invented a chair that can be adjusted to 800 different positions, and adds that "it is designed for a boy to sit in when he goes to church."

"That settles it," said an old farmer who was just on the point of renting his farm and moving into town, when he was told that a rural mail route was to be laid past his door: "I'll build a tenant house, keep my old home, have my daily paper and die where I have worked for forty years."—Ex.

The history of the industrial changes which have of late been occurring with such rapidity is to be found in its most interesting form in the careers of the "Captains of Industry" now before the public in connection with the larger interests of production transportation and finance. A knowledge of these men their derivation, their leading characteristics, weakness and abilities, throws much light upon the news of the day in which their names constantly recur. In making the effort to present a fairly complete series of studies of these men The Cosmopolitan Magazine has furnished the public with one of the most interesting serials ever published. In the October number H. C. Frick Cyrus H. K. Curtis, David H. Moffat, Woodrow Wilson and H. H. Vreeland furnish interesting studies.

"What We Have Done for Our New Possessions" is the title of the double page of pictures in the October Woman's Home Companion. It shows the real effect of our good government in the West Indies and the Philippines. Another feature of special interest is "The Fate of 'Cups' and 'Dinah,'" or the final, hitherto unpublished chapter of "Stringtown on the Pike." "Woven With the Ship" reaches its dramatic conclusion. There is a clever story by Mrs. Bishop, called "The Garden Plot," and another laughable "Nurse Norah" story. Other features are "The Children of the Poor in Great Cities," "How Mrs. Roosevelt Keeps House," "The Old Fiddlers' Contest" and a page of beautiful pictures of mothers and children. The chief feature of the number, however, is the fall fashions. Published by The Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year, ten cents a copy; sample copy free.

Bridge Broke Down.

On Monday William McGee, who drives team for D. C. Hayes, had a very narrow escape from injury. While crossing the bridge near the furniture factory, which leads to lands of Charles Weller, the same gave way, precipitating the team and wagon into the stream. Mr. McGee was pinned under the wagon, but escaped without injury. The horses were also as fortunate. Men who saw the accident hurried to the scene and freed the man who was fast under the wagon. It is a miracle that he was not seriously injured.

Returns From Vacation.

Rev. O. S. Metzler, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church, returned yesterday from an extended visit to the Pacific coast, having visited all the principal cities of the west during his trip, gathering valuable information that will be helpful and entertaining to his friends. The Rev. gentleman will occupy his pulpit in M. E. Church next Sunday morning and evening and no doubt will receive a welcome reception.

Terribly Burned.

John Burnett, residing on Spring street, met with a painful accident Tuesday morning, at Climax Powder works. He was employed in the recovery department and was preparing to empty a tank of acid the cap flew off, completely covering his face and neck with the fluid, fearfully burning him. He is confined to his home and fears are entertained that he may lose his eyesight. Dr. Smith is attending him, and informs the PRESS that while the gentleman's face is severely burned, he thinks his eyes are not permanently injured.

Dr. Swallow Here.

Dr. Swallow and two other gentlemen were in Emporium Tuesday evening and talked to a few boys and some gentlemen. The Dr. was "frozen" by his former Cameron county supporters, not one taking any stock in his stuff. His visit here was a total failure, the clergy of Emporium refusing positively to have anything to do with his "cause."

For Sale.

A new six room residence, located on Fourth st., Emporium; modern conveniences such as bath, gas and closet. Lot 100x200. Will be sold at a bargain. L. E. SPECKT. 30-4.

Wilson Weakened.

J. C. Miller, the Chairman of the Republican County Committee of Elk county, received the following disgusting letter from Ed. M. Wilson, on Friday last:

Clarion, Pa., Sept. 24, 1902.

Hon. J. C. MILLER, Chairman Republican County Committee Ridgway, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—I have decided that the situation in this Senatorial district at this time does not justify a contest by me with any hope of success, and that it is out of the question for any Republican candidate to receive enough votes in Cameron, Forest and Clarion counties to equalize the majority Mr. Hall will receive in Elk county, which was conceded by his opponents after I received the nomination. I have written Senator Penrose to this effect, and have forwarded to the Secretary of the Commonwealth at Harrisburg, Pa., my withdrawal as the Republican nominee.

If you desire to have any other person in the district accept this nomination and reconvene the conference, as provided by the ballot Act, please let me know the time and place, and I will have the three conferees from this county attend, and will cheerfully do anything I can to aid you in any way. I desire to convey to you my personal regards, and to thank you for the interest you have taken in the matter. I regret that my judgment has compelled me to come to this conclusion at this late time. This is final. With best wishes, I remain Yours truly,

ED. M. WILSON.

We have serious doubts if anything could ever be final with so vacillating a man as Mr. Wilson has proved himself to be in this matter, but one thing is settled—Mr. Wilson is certainly not the man the Republican party was searching for, as he is sorely lacking in nerve. We need a man who can stand up against the boasting gall of Constant Candidate Hall and prove his boast a lie just as Col. Clearwater did so valiantly in 1900. The time was never ripe to lay out this arrogant king of the Elk county ring than just now, and all we need is a man of nerve to stand up and make the fight. Mr. Wilson was selected because he lived in Clarion county, and it was thought he could carry that county against Hall because there is a bitter feeling there against him among the Democrats. Mr. Hall and his heels are laughing up their sleeves just now and expecting an easy victory in the district. They should not laugh quite so soon. It is not too late to find a good man yet and one can be found who is able to defeat the proud and haughty king of Elk county. The ballot law gives plenty of opportunity to fill the vacancy and a man may yet be found to go out to battle with this autoerat of the St. Marys brewery. The people are ready and anxious to down him if they have a chance and they can vote against him this year, without fear, as we have a secret ballot now.—Ridgway Advocate.

Engineer's Hallucination.

An Olean Dispatch says: T. J. Lynch, a Pennsylvania engineer, whose locomotive was wrecked in a collision at Franklinville, a week ago, has since been wandering about the country, on foot, in an overwrought, frantic condition. He imagined at the time of the wreck that many people had been killed and that he was to be held responsible. Nearly crazed with the belief he started on his travels and was not seen by his friends until to-day, when he came here nearly exhausted and still bemoaning the terrible occurrence at Franklinville. He still believed that he had caused the death of many victims. When assured that he had not been in blame and that nobody had been killed, he was not sufficiently sane to understand and be comforted. Relatives are carrying for him. Lynch is a resident of Buffalo. He formerly lived in Olean.

Family Wedding.

Mr. Charles A. Newton and Miss Caroline Conway were united in marriage at the residence of Mr. Jos. Newton last evening, Rev. Ingersoll officiating. The happy couple departed on Erie mail for eastern points.

George Narby and Miss Annie Conway were united in marriage last evening by Father Downey. The many friends of the young people extend congratulations.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. John Butler, one of Emporium's industrious young gentlemen and Miss Nellie Murray a most estimable young lady, daughter of our greatly respected citizens Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Murray, were united in marriage at St. Mark's church last Monday morning. They immediately left for Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points to pass their honeymoon. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Mankey Affair.

Hon. A. R. Moore, Referee in Bankruptcy, met the creditors of Mankey Mfg. Co., last Friday. Mr. William Hackenberg, of this place, has been appointed manager of the affairs of the late firm and being a careful business man will no doubt be satisfactory to all concerned.

WEATHER REPORT.

(Forecast by T. B. Lloyd.)
FRIDAY, Showers.
SATURDAY Fair, cooler.
SUNDAY, Fair.

He Won't Support Pattison.

This story is told by Col. John W. Frazier. It's a good one, and must be true:

Hans Hinkenlooper keeps a provision store at Overbrook, within a block or two of the residence of ex-Governor Pattison. Proximity influences misled Hans into supporting the Union party last Fall, and believing that he might go farther on the downward road to destruction, he was invited to go to Reading to assist in notifying Pattison of his nomination for Governor. Wanting a day of Hinkenlooper went up to Reading with the gang.

While Pattison and Guthrie were frantically preaching "Reform," and Nolan was keeping the throats of the boys moist so they could yell for "Reform," a half-dozen pickpockets from New York went through the crowd and "touched" Hans for eighty-five dollars. On the way back to Philadelphia, Mr. Pattison said: "Mr. Hinkenlooper, I was very glad to see you at Reading today. I presume you intend voting for Pattison, Guthrie and Reform."

"No, sir. I goes back mit der old barty."

"Why, how is that Mr. Hinkenlooper?" asked Mr. Pattison, the apostle of non-partisan Reform.

"Vel I was a Republican for more as twenty-five years and noddings habben to me, but youst as soon ven I go mit der Battison Reformers he schtal mina hocketpooks. So I go back mit der old barty. It vos petter."

And Mr. Hinkenlooper's experience will hold many another steady in "der old barty."

"It vos petter."
