Onion Soup.
Onion soup is often liked by people who disdain the savory herb in any other form. There is no doubt of the wholesomeness of the onion, and those who have never tried the soup are recommended to use this celebrated recipe of the elder Dumas: Take, for three pints of soup, four Bermuda onions or eight common white ones, mince them and fry to a golden brown in two tablespoonfuls of butter. Pour in two quarts of water, season with pepper and salt and boil until the onions are quite soft. Beat the yolks of three eggs, mix with the soup and pour the mixture over finger slices of toasted bread. Milk may be used instead of water in this soup.

Cradles Hundreds of Years Ago.
In manuscripts of the ninth and tenth centuries we have pictures of cradles formed of part of a tree trunk dug out, with holes bored through the sides for the passage of straps intended to tie the baby down in his bed. These dug-out cradles are still common in modern Greece. When we come to consult the manuscripts and bas-reliefs of the fifteenth century, we notice that the cradles are no longer mere baskets or beds on rockers, but little swinging beds suspended between two pillars, the prototype of the modern berceuse.

The Harm of Damp Houses.
It is dangerous to health and even to life in a damp, moldy house, or one built over a moldy cellar. Many years ago the London Lancet in an article on diphtheria traced the disease in certain cases to the presence of certain molds and fungoid growths which seemed to be breathed into the throat. Remember, one of the best disinfectants is lime. Moldy cloths, such as shoes and other articles that are unfit for use, should be destroyed at once.

Every page of the Old Testament has a star of promise for the world's night of sin.

OUR GOOD TIMES ARE HERE TO STAY.

That is the View of Head of British Industrial Commission.

Members of the commission representing more than a score of the trades unions of England, who are the guests of Alfred Mosely, C. M. G., a wealthy Englishman, in a tour of this country to study its trade conditions, methods of manufacture and the relations of capital and labor, arrived in this city in their special car last night. To-day they will visit Cramps, Baldwins, and other industrial plants, and will be entertained at a banquet in the evening.

"We have," said Mr. Mosely, visited New York, Albany, Schenectady, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Chicago, Dayton and Pittsburgh. We leave here on Tuesday evening and call on President Roosevelt on Wednesday morning. We return to New York on Wednesday and separate for ten days to allow each man to investigate matters concerning his own trade. We meet again in New York on December 8, 9, 10, at the annual meeting of the Civic Federation. On our return we shall make our views known in reports, pamphlets and illustrated lectures, having secured many views here."

Asked for his personal views as to how our industrial methods compare with those of Great Britain, said: "I should say you are far ahead of us in the wholesale way you do things and the modern machinery you employ. Perhaps we are ahead of you in shipbuilding, but in nearly all things else you are in the lead. You know our purpose in coming here was to try and impress on our people the need for up-to-date methods. I feel that our improvement must come through our workmen. Capital does not seem to rise to the opportunities of trade, perhaps because we have been too successful in the past."

Speaking generally Mr. Mosely said he was convinced that the high protective tariff had been a big blessing to this country. "If I were an American I should let well enough alone," he said, "and should oppose any tinkering with the tariff. As an Englishman I believe that moderate free trade is best for our country. I regard your trusts as the the greatest industrial blessing you have. If there are evil trusts you will find they will curb themselves."

"Your present condition of prosperity is the astonishment, wonder and envy of the old world. The rest of Europe is in a very bad way while you are enjoying times such as you have never known before. I think your good times have come to stay. Conditions have changed. You are no longer an agricultural country, you are an industrial country."

Mr. Mosely was asked if he did not think the Beef Trust an evil. "In the first place," he said, "there is no beef trust and in the second I believe the high prices of meats are the result of natural conditions. High prices for food products have come to stay. The demand has increased while the sources of supply have been curtailed. That tells the whole story."—Phila. Inquirer.

The Christmas Number of The Delineator.

To do justice to this number, which for beauty and utility touches the highest mark, it would be necessary to print the entire list of contents. It is sufficient to state that in the best modern writers and artists are generously represented. The book contains over 230 pages, with 34 full page illustrations, of which 20 are in two or more colors. The magnitude of this December number, for which 725 tons of paper and six tons of ink have been used, may be understood from the fact that 91 presses running 14 hours a day, have been required to print it; the binding alone of the edition of 915,000 copies representing over 20,000,000 sections which had to be gathered individually by human hands.

The Best Remedy for Croup.
(From the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe.)

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and told but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to throw up the phlegm quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by L. Taggart.

Licenses were taken out for 422,693 dogs last year in Ireland, the amount paid being £45,269 6s.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by L. Taggart.

For a Bad Cold.
If you have a bad cold you need a good reliable medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to loosen and relieve it, and to allay the irritation and inflammation of the throat and lungs. For sale by L. Taggart.

One Minute Cough Cure.
Is the only harmless cough cure that gives quick relief. Cures Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Pneumonia, Asthma, LaGrippe and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. I got soaked by rain, says Gertrude E. Fenner, Muncie, Ind., and contracted a severe cold and cough. I failed rapidly; lost 48 lbs. My druggist recommended One Minute Cough Cure. The first bottle brought relief several cured me. I am back to my old weight, 148 lbs. One Minute Cough cuts the phlegm, relieves the cough at once, draws out inflammation, cures croup. An ideal remedy for children.

A sparring exhibition was recently held in Kansas City for the benefit of a church.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.
Heavy eating is usually the cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining of the stomach, exposes the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach. R. C. Dodson.
