EDITORIAL MENTION.

Virginia, having adopted a new constitution, finds an amendment necessary.

The gentleman who masqueraded as the Governor of Kentucky in Florida recently found no lack of "old Kentucky bourbon" at his disposal.

Secretary Hay has again demonstrated his right to be known as the greatest American diplomat.

There growing indications that Judge Alton B. Parker of New York will be the democratic choice for the presidency.

It begins to look as though Ex-President Cleveland thought it was time for the democracy to look Princetonwards for a leader.

President Roosevelt bids fair to be known as "the great peace-maker." First the coal strike and then the Venezuelan difficulty.

Members of Congress are doing a great deal of talking about the necessity for increasing their own salary, now $5,000 per year, but it is doubtful if they will do more than talk about it.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has offered to endow a national theater in Washington which, independent of popular support, may work to uplift the character of the modern drama.

In these days of consolidation and the purchase of majority interests through brokers, it requires an expert to distinguish the Beet Sugar Trust from the Sugar Trust.

A careful canvass of the democrats in Congress reveals the fact that seventeen distinct varieties of democrats are required for the next presidential nominee.

The issue of $30,000,000 two per cent. bonds for the purpose of building the Panama canal promises to afford considerable relief to the bankers who are experiencing serious inconvenience because of the scarcity of United States bonds.

What Northern enterprise has not already accomplished for the South Dr. Charles Warden Stiles hopes to accomplish by science. He claims to have discovered the germ of laziness which produces the "cracker" and will disseminate information in regard to its diagnosis and treatment.

Big Bill Dewey pays taxes on a million dollars worth of property. In 23 years of police service his salary only amounted to something less than $60,000 and it must have cost him quite that much to live. Where did he get the rest?

Persons familiar with the facts, assert that the Castro administration, after bleeding the Venezuelan industries to the point of bankruptcy, turned its attention to the foreign investors and proceeded to levy blackmail, thus precipitating the hostilities from which Venezuela is now suffering.

A Grand Army veteran stood listening to a juvenile Spanish war veteran recounting his experiences to an admiring group. Presently the old man remarked: "That young man telling of his experiences makes me think of the hero of the Johnstown flood relating his experience in the presence of Noah."

The Department of Agriculture has scored another victory, this time in Florida. Its Weather Bureau gave notice of the approach of a disastrous frost and the orchardists, following directions previously published by the Department, prevented serious injury by the use of smudges.

To some extent, sections of the Department of Agriculture are like fire departments. Their chief end is watchfulness under ordinary circumstances but in an emergency similar to the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease they demonstrate their real value.

With Republican majorities in both houses of Congress there is reason to believe that the numerous and irrational anti-trust bills will be condensed and revised until one rational and business like law shall have been evolved.

Don't Worry.
This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used. For sale by L. Taggart.

A lazy man looking for work is a good illustration of mingled hope and fear.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Ferguson Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by L. Taggart.

Laughter is no more a sign of being amused than fat is of health.

No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. Unconscious From Croup.
During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. Spafford, postmaster, Chester, Mich., and a dose of One Minute Cough Cure was administered and repeated often. It reduced the swelling and inflammation, cut the mucus and shortly the child was resting easy and speedily recovered. It cures Coughs, Colds, LaGrippi, and all Throat and Lung troubles. One Minute Cough Cure lingers in the throat and chest and enables the lungs to contribute pure, health-giving oxygen to the blood. R. C. Dodson.

The Protection of Cattle Against Tuberculosis by Vaccination.
Some experiments on the vaccination of cattle against tuberculosis have recently been published by Dr. Leonard Pearson, State Veterinarian of Pennsylvania, and Dr. S. A. Gilliland, University of Pennsylvania, with the support of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board. The work has been in progress more than two years, thus antedating all other work along this line, for the German investigation of von Behring did not begin until July 1901. No other investigations of this sort have been reported in any other country than in the United States and Germany. The process used as to inject into the vein of the animal to be protected a small quantity of a suspension of tubercle bacilli non virulent four cattle. This procedure, called vaccination, may be repeated several times with gradually ascending quantities. The immediate effect is to produce a passing fever following each injection, which does not annoy the animal enough to cause it to lose a single meal. The general health is not disturbed by the process of vaccination. When the series of vaccinations is completed the animal had an astonishingly high degree of immunity to tuberculosis. In the last experiments completed four young cattle used. Two of these were vaccinated last March. All four were inoculated in July by injecting into the wind-pipe a quantity of culture of virulent tubercle bacilli. A large quantity was introduced and each of the four animals received exactly the same treatment. These animals were killed in October. It was found that the cattle that had not been vaccinated were extensively tubercular, showing alterations of this disease in the wind-pipe, lungs, throat and intestinal glands; while the two vaccinated animals, inoculated the same time, from the same material, and in the same way, were free from tubercular infection and were sound.
Dr. Pearson considers that this principle of immunization as applied to vaccination against tuberculosis of cattle is proven and it now remains only to work out the details of the method. This important work is being continued on a larger scale for the purpose of ascertaining the simplest and shortest practicable method of vaccination.
It is not yet known how long the immunity will last nor what the ultimate effect upon the animal will be. So far, however, as the few experiments here and in Germany show, no fear need be anticipated of unfavorable results in these particulars. What is needed now is the painstaking use of the method on a few tubercular herds kept under careful and continuous observation. A scrupulously careful trial on a limited scale under proper conditions will do more to furnish the information needed to answer the few remaining questions upon this discovery than any amount of general use under less careful supervision. In the estimation of the investigators it would be premature to apply this vaccination to herds until such further experiments are completed. An effort will be made to secure State aid for experiments on a scale large enough to solve this most important problem.

A Marvelous Invention.
Wonders never cease. A machine has been invented that will cut, paste and hang wall paper. The field of inventions and discoveries seems to be unlimited. Notable among great discoveries is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It has done a world of good for weak lungs and saved many a life. Thousands have used it and conquered Grip, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption. Their general verdict is: "It's the best and most reliable medicine for throat and lung troubles. Every 50c and $1.00 bottle is guaranteed by L. Taggart, Druggist. Trial bottles free.

Good Tasting Medicine

Cod liver oil is in universal repute as the best body builder in wasting diseases, and the best reconstructor in recovery from severe sickness known to medicine.

Nevertheless, three-fourths of the people are really made sick by the taste and smell of cod liver oil. Half of them can't take it. Their stomachs either reject it, or are so upset by it that the dose does more harm than good.

Vinol is the only preparation of cod liver oil which contains no grease or bad taste yet does contain all the virtue of cod liver oil, and is deliciously palatable. It also contains organic iron. Iron gives quality to the blood. Almost every ailing person needs it.

The combination of these two elements with table wine is both scientific and effective. It has accomplished wonderful things right here in town. We think we are doing a service to every run-down, ailing, coughing, nervous, debilitated person in calling attention to Vinol. We sell it on its merits—money back if it does not help you. You run no risk. Old people revive under its influence. Nursing mothers and overworked people get new vitality.
