A twenty-five-story building is to be erected in New York, one hundred feet square and on land worth $100 a square foot, or $1,000,000 for ten thousand square feet.

As long ago as 1853 it was attempted by a study of French statistics to prove that marriage is a "healthy estate."

One of the newly discovered constituents of our atmosphere, the gas krypton, displays, when examined through the spectroscopic, a characteristic group of green lines, which are the same as those observed in auroras under similar circumstances.

One man in Battle Creek, Mich., is spending $3,000 a day in advertising a cooked cereal food which, eight years ago, this same man was peddling by the bag to the grocers of the immediate neighborhood.

Of all the giants that have appeared before the public within the last 30 or 40 years none can be compared with the imposing Russian who has recently been on exhibition in Berlin, Germany.

The elevation of Sir Charles White to the rank of field marshal puts Ireland in the position of furnishing three field marshals out of nine to the British army, or four if the duke of Connaught is included.

Savage races are popularly credited with great acuteness of vision, but recent observations by Dr. W. H. Rivers on the primitive tribes of Murray Island show that the superiority is only slight, although on his "native head" the savage's familiarity with his surroundings gives him an advantage over civilized man.

The most unique of any of the moonshine stills ever broken up by government agents was one captured in Georgia in September last year. It was so small that the moonshiner carried it about in a valise and had plenty of room for several bottles of mash.

"Princesschen," as the only daughter of Emperor William of Germany is popularly designated, grows apace, and is more than ever the delight of her father, who, it is said, the small princess rules with a rod of iron.

FUTILITY OF TRUST ISSUE.

President Roosevelt's Timely Intervention Has Reassured the People of Their Security.

That the merger decision has immensely strengthened President Roosevelt and the republican party for the struggle coming next year is perfectly apparent.

Moreover it is clear that the sober second thought of every class of people approves the decision. In the financial centers, among bankers and investors, in Wall street itself, the predominant sentiment is one of satisfaction and even relief that bounds have been set to the tendency to establish a monarchy in the business world.

It is realized that the Northern Securities plan had far-reaching and dangerous possibilities. Even if the consolidation which it effected proved as innocent and as advantageous to the public as its promoters promised it to be, it would be a dangerous power to go unchallenged.

THIRD-TERM TALK ENDED.

Collapse of the Boom That Was Started for Grover Cleveland's Candidacy.

The Cleveland third term talk has suddenly ceased. It ended immediately after the ex-president's appearance at a meeting in favor of Booker Washington's institution.

Thus the third term boom has collapsed. Not many persons in the United States took that talk seriously. Consequently, not many will be disappointed at the wind-up of the movement for a new nomination for the ex-president.

Of course, if there were the slightest chance for the democracy to win

Why He Called Her Peggy.

"I thought your wife's name was Elizabeth?" "So it is." "Then why do you call her Peggy?" "Short for Pegasa."

Feels Younger and Stronger. Festus, Mo., May 4th.—Mr. January S. Lilly, a highly respected old gentleman, aged 76, and whose home is in Festus, says: "My kidneys were weak and gave me no end of trouble. I had pains in my back and hips so bad that I could not sit up straight without bracing my back, and could not sit only a few minutes in any one position."

The Place for It.—"What are you snorting about?" asked the young walrus of the old one, who was perusing a scrap of newspaper. "Here's a doctor who says it's unhealthy to go into the water after a meal. How would we get it if we didn't?"—Philadelphia Press.

The doctor says with a strawberry mark to ruff her ear a big reward for information and if it find her let her know at once."—Kansas City Star.

CALLED IT A BATTLE SONG.

It May Have Been an "Ave Maria," But the Painter Couldn't Think So.

Guests at musical parties are not commonly expected to be especially attentive. They may talk to any extent, dependent largely on the amiability of their hostess.

By this time all eyes were turned on the painter, but he seemed quite indifferent to the leave, relates the New York Sun.

To Australia. Circuit tour tickets covering the railroad trip to the Pacific Coast and via the various trans-Pacific steamship lines to the far East, are each day becoming a feature of greater popularity to the traveling public.

These circuit tour tickets are sold at very low rates. The trans-Pacific service has grown and improved very rapidly in recent years and tourists find the trip filled with scenes of picturesque interest not equaled in the old journeys made by tourists through England and on the continent.

PLAY BALL!

is created by great public grants and franchises must be administered in conformity with approved public policy. The railways of the country are not private property in the sense that the owners may do with them as they please; private capital is invested in them with the express understanding that they are subject to public supervision and the declared policy of the nation is against the tendency to consolidation that was an issue in this case.

The state of Minnesota had distinctly and formally forbidden this consolidation, and an attempt had been made to defeat this mandate by organizing a corporation that would not be subject to the laws of Minnesota. The attempt reveals a higher power, residing in the constitution, and even back of the constitution in the common law, ample for the protection of every public interest.

Without the practical measures which have been taken by the Roosevelt administration to define and establish public control over aggregations of capital, the country would have gone into another campaign with the public mind agitated, uneasy and liable to panic on this subject.

The most unique of any of the moonshine stills ever broken up by government agents was one captured in Georgia in September last year. It was so small that the moonshiner carried it about in a valise and had plenty of room for several bottles of mash.

under any leadership there would have been no word at all in favor of the third term nomination for Cleveland. It was a sign of despair which everybody could grasp. The democrats who advocated Cleveland's candidacy next year raised the flag of distress, as everybody could see. When the country refused to give a third term to the conqueror of the rebellion it was easy enough to see that that would be refused to any man in the ranks of the democratic party to-day.

COMMENT AND OPINION.

The democratic style of government in Missouri is a poor argument for a national change in 1904.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mr. Gorman is not letting his presidential boom get threatening before the time comes for putting it on dress parade.—Washington Star.

Whenever Mr. Bryan emits a philippic against Grover Cleveland he awakens a suspicion that his old presidential bee is stinging him.—Chicago Tribune.

The trouble with Mr. Bryan's notion of harmony is that he thinks everything else is a mere accompaniment to a solo by himself.—Indianapolis News (Ind.).

Senator Martin, of Virginia, who may be the chairman of the democratic national committee, thinks the revision of the tariff should be the sole issue in the next campaign. That appears to suggest an easy way for the republicans to win.—Cleveland Leader.

In a word, the United States mint, like about everything else in this country, keeps step with modern progress and often gets a little ahead of it. The mint not only turns out more coin than any similar establishment, but, thanks to the republican party, its dollars are all good ones, worth a hundred cents, not clipped of half their value as would have been the case had the Bryan idea been successful.—Troy Times.

The papers which are saying that Uncle Mark Hanna feels downcast over the result in his state are astray as to the situation. Ohio is all right, and Mark is master of the situation, except temporarily in his own city. The fact that Johnson won the mayoralty again shows that fate is putting up a job against him and his party. His recent victory will tempt him to look for higher station than the one he has, and then retribution will hit him hard.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WEST BRANCH, MICH., April 11th.—Many thanks for the sample of Doan's Kidney Pills. We had tried many remedies with little benefit but found Doan's act promptly, and hit the case, which was an unusual desire to urinate—had to get up five and six times of a night. I think Diabetes was well under way, the feet and ankles swelled. There was an intense pain in the back, the heat of which would feel like putting one's hand up to a lamp chimney. I have used the free trial and two full boxes of Doan's Pills with the satisfaction of feeling that I am cured. They are the remedy par excellence.—B. F. BALLARD.
