A Sure Thing.
It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all long and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of and got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It is infallible for Croup, whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by L. Taggart Druggist. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes, 50c, $1.00.

Ole Bull's Castle Burned.
Ole Bull's grey old rock-bound castle, which since 1852 has stood guard over the inhabitation of Oleona, is a memory. The great Norwegian violinist's home, perched on the mountain summit overlooking that place, after years of litigation and law suits as to its title has at last been claimed by the fire fiend and all that remains of the stately edifice to-day is a few crumbling, blackened, fire charred walls. The employes of the Lackawanna Lumber company, which now owns the 120,000 acres Ole Bull settlement, made a determined effort to save the old landmark, but notwithstanding their brave work, the relentless flames, devouring alike man and nature's handiwork, swept the last vestige of "Ole Bull's Polly" from the face of Potter county, the scene of the grand old man's futile attempt at colonization.—Potter Democrat.

We clip the following from the Austin Republican: The story of the destruction of Ole Bull's Castle near Oleona, by forest fires this spring, is no doubt the work of a fertile imagination which had never been on the spot. The Republican scribe visited the old castle last fall and found it to consist of a hole in the ground surrounded by a crumbling cleft wall. Not a sliver of timber was in sight to suggest that a building ever occupied the site.
