The Outlook for Woman Suffrage

By CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT President National American Woman Suffrage Association

Though the past season has seen no such great woman suffrage victory as that of a year ago, when Australia conferred full suffrage upon her women citizens, yet the winter's work has not been without encouraging features.

Australia is perhaps about to take another step in advance. There is on foot a movement to seat a woman, Miss Vida Goldstein, in the parliament of that great country. Miss Goldstein is known to many Americans through addresses delivered last winter in many cities.

With restrictions in some provinces of Canada, women now possesses municipal suffrage throughout the British empire, except in South Africa; and here the premier has announced his intention of introducing in the provincial parliament a bill conferring it. In Holland, too, the social democratic party has just added municipal suffrage for women as a plank to its political platform.

In this country during the past year woman suffrage bills of different sorts have been introduced in the legislatures of 15 states and territories; and though no notable gains have been made, there have been indications of increased strength. In Arizona, for instance, a bill granting to women complete suffrage was passed by both houses of the legislature, though prevented by veto of the governor from be-.coming law.

In the United States we do not move any faster than is desired by the whole people. In the parliaments of the British provinces, which often seem to set us examples, the greater number of bills are introduced and passed as government measures. When the premier of South Africa is convinced of the wisdom of woman suffrage, the province is fairly likely to get it. Under our different system, which involves the personal interest and responsibility of the individual citizen, we move more cautiously than do countries esteemed conservative; BUT SLOWLY THOUGH WE ADVANCE, THE CAUSE OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS SURFLY GAINING HEADWAY.

The Higher Civic Life.

By HAMILTON WRIGHT MABIE Author and Editor of "The Outlook"

What an education in right living may be supplied by right government!

You will need to teach the boy fewer maxims of morality if he knows the city guards the water that he drinks, and that the fruit and meat and milk that come to its markets are above suspicion. You will need to preach to the boy less often about neatness if the city's streets are clean. You will bring up citizens with better notions of the true and good, if the skyline of the city's houses is right architecturally, if grass is green in the parks, and if fountains and statues beautify the squares. Environ boys with uprightness and beauty, and they will br the these things as their natural atmosphere.

A city sho d be an educative force. Its honesty should create a soil in which fice should be an exotic, virtue the normal flower.

It is too n.ach the fashion to decry the town. If man made it, and God made the country, it is also true that the noblest works are those in which Fod and man have cooperated. God made the marbles of Carrara and Pentelicon, and man made from them the Acropolis at Athens and the Moses of Michael Angelo.

To get together is the natural impulse of humanity, and it is by rubbing against his fellows that man lights the brightest fires of his genius. The modern city is a natural and inevitable growth, the chief trouble with it is that it has too many residents who are not citizens.

The modern city wants citizens in the true sense, men who will guard its repute as they do their private honor; citizens who will give brain and their strength to promoting the higher civic life and fostering the civic virtues. A city, before it can appeal to the heart and the imagination, must be something more than a center of commerce. It must be the center of the best efforts of the best men of the age.

UNANIMOUS VOTE.

Presbyterians Adopt a New Confession of Faith.

Color Line Question Was Also Considered-Report of the Special Committee on Divorce and Remarriage Was Disposed of.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.-The Presbyterian church of the United States in general assembly Thursday finally disposed of the question of revision of creed which has been be-fore the last three general assemblies and which has agitated Presbyterian and which has agrated Fiesdyletian circles for the past 15 years. The assembly by unanimous vote adopted the revision of the confession of faith, as prepared by the committee appointed by the general assembly in 1901. Beside clearing the calendar of this important question the assemappointed by the general assembly in 1901. Beside clearing the calendar of this important question the assem-bly disposed of the "Tennessee over-ture" in regard to "separate presby-teries in the same territory," which was commonly known as the "color-ed question" of the Presbyterian church, also the report of the special committee on divorce and remar-riage. Several minor reports also were heard during the day. The fact that ereed revision was to

The fact that creed revision was to come up attracted the largest crowd since the opening. After disposing of some business of minor import-ance Moderator Coyle announced that Rev. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton, N. J., chairman of the commit-tee on bills and overtures, would submit the report of the committee on revision.

Dr. Van Dyke then proceeded with the report of the revision committee. He read the detailed vote on each one of the 11 overtures, which showed that no one overture had received more than ten negative votes. The overtures were voted upon seriatim and adopted.

By the adoption of 11 overtures, important additions, amplifications and amendments are made to the ar-ticles of the confession of faith. Of these, one of the most vital is the erection into the church doctrine of the belief that all who die in infancy are saved.

At the afternoon session the col-ored questions was disposed of. Dr. Putnam, from the committee on bills and overtures, reported a recom mendation that overtures on "sepa rate presbyteries for colored minis ters" which had come up from Ten-nesseee and other southern states, be referred to a committee of seven, this committee to report to the next general assembly. The resolution was adopted.

Three additional chapters are added to the confession concerning the "love of God for all men, missions and the holy spirit." Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—A case of intense interest to the Presbyte-rian church came up in the general assembly yesterday. It was the ap-peal of Rev. Louis Richter, of Min-neapolis, from the action of his pres-bytery and the synod of Minnesota in deposing him from the ministry and excommunicating him from the church. The charge against Mr. Richter was that he, as a Presbyte-rian minister, had occupied a post as agent of the dessemination of liter-ature for the brewery trust. It was also charged that after citation by his presbytery he appealed by circuof intense interest to the Presbytehis presbytery he appealed by circu-lars to the saloons and breweries to contribute to a fund to enable him to prosecute his case before the general assembly

$25 to Colorado and Back. $25 to Colorado and Back. It has been estimated that between 8,000, 000 and 10,000,000 persons in the United States take a vacation every summer. They spend between $400,000,000 and $500,000, 000 yearly in pursuit of pleasure. This is a great deal of money to spend during a va-cation, but this season the expenditure per capita may be somewhat less on account of the low railroad rates offered by the Chica-go, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. From July 1 to 10 this line will sell tickets to Colorado and return from Chicago for summer's outing at slight expense. Colo-rado summer resorts are cooler than the sea-shore.
