

STRONGEST EVIDENCE OF FAITH

L. Taggart Guarantees That Hyomei Will Cure the Worst Case of Catarrh in Emporium.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Emporium guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or he will refund the money, it speaks volumes as to the merits of that remedy.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breathe it by the aid of an inhaler that comes in every outfit and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroys all germ life in the air passages of lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not cure you, L. Taggart will refund your money. This is a good time to cure catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.

Tour to the Pacific Coast.

On account of the meeting of the National Bankers' Association to be held at San Francisco, Cal., October 20 to 23, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company offers a personally conducted tour to the Pacific Coast at remarkably low rates.

This tour will leave New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other points on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg, Wednesday October 14, by special train of the highest grade Pullman equipment.

Five days will be devoted to San Francisco. Returning, the special train will run to Los Angeles, where two days will be spent among the resorts of Southern California.

Rates from Pittsburg will be $5 less. For full information apply to Ticket Agents, or Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa. 2959-33-3t.

THE CHAMPION MIXED PAINT

Sold by L. TAGGART has no superior.

Fourteen years ago I painted my house with these paints and am now, for the first time since, repainting it. H. L. Smith, the painter, says he never knew of a house in better condition for painting after having stood so long.

A gentleman, whose name I will not mention, living in our town, painted his house thirteen years ago, with these paints and he has engaged some painters to repaint, saying that he would have no other.

Dr. Heilman will also testify as to the merits of these paints. County jail painted four years ago. John Lind's two houses painted two years ago and many others, all speak for the virtue and staying qualities of these paints, and is better evidence than any man's word. Look at them; then buy the Champion paints and paint your house and be happy.

Also paper your house with the elegant wall paper at Taggart's and be doubly happy.

Labor And Capital in a Deadly Clutch.

Unless there is a radical change in social conditions, Rev. Dr. James M. Buckley, the fearless Methodist preacher of New York, sees gloomy times ahead.

"I don't fancy Carnegie's way of distributing his millions. His wealth has been amassed in direct contradiction to the Golden Rule and the preaching of Christ. Why did he not go into profit sharing with his employes instead of giving his money to libraries? While I believe in making knowledge free to all, the cities of America had provided for this advantage.

"Lately I have been looking into the unionizing of labor, which has been a party to business disturbance and to the impairing of public confidence. I believe in the principles of workmen combining to bring their rights from conscienceless employers, but the methods of applying the corrective employed frequently this summer I am strenuously opposed to.

"Instead of trying to settle the vexed questions of capital and labor along Christian lines, you have great organized selfishness opposed to great organized selfishness. The most arrogant trust is the Labor Trust. It is officered by irresponsible walking delegates who pursue a policy of rule or ruin.

EMPORIUM TO MANILA.

taking coal on board. Our attention was called to a Malay, who had a boat full of different kinds of beautiful shells, and was offering a large basket full for one dollar, but we had to decline the offer, not having the room to carry them. We did, however, buy four beautiful pearl shells, suitable for hand painting, for twenty-five cents.

After a good night's rest, we awoke to find all hurley-burley, getting ready to sail; the ship nice and trim, clean and everyone busy. At ten we took on the Pilot and slowly steamed out of the harbor, wending our way among the islands. On our way out, our eyes were gladdened by seeing the Old Flag for the first time except on man of war, since leaving New York, floating from the mizzenmast of a Brig.

At last we are on the China Sea, on our way to Hong Kong, which port we expect to reach next Friday, July 20th, if all is well, and where this letter will be posted. We will be there providing we meet with no accidents or run into a typhoon. I see by the ship's log we have made 313 miles from noon yesterday until noon to-day. At this rate of speed it will be Friday morning when we arrive.

Respectfully, FRED JULIAN.

LETTER NO. 3. HONG KONG, AUG. 3, 1903.

Editor Press:— We arrived at this city July 31st, in the morning, and after a tireless wait of over two hours we were allowed to go ashore, that is the European passengers, but no one else at that time because there was a suspicious case among the crew, a Taror (Hindo) sailor was sick, which has since developed into a case of bubonic plague. We were in quarantine and feared we would have to remain in the ship for some time. After giving our names and addresses in Hong Kong we were permitted to land. While waiting for the doctor, we could not help noticing the number of steamers of all kinds at anchor and Chinese Junks almost innumerable; sails and no sails many Chinese women pulling oars, with a little child strapped on her back. We afterwards learned that those Junks were the homes of the family. We could not but notice also the sublime grandeur of the surroundings. Hong Kong is on an island, one of the groups that soar up, out of the sea, almost in the clouds. The city is built on a plateau on the water front, the island rising very abruptly to a height of about two thousand feet to a sharp apex. I judge this island may be eight or ten miles long, coming to a peak or round at the top; inlets everywhere, islands from three sides of it and China main land right opposite, about a quarter of a mile across the harbor. Everywhere you look you see Chinese fishing boats. Looking up the mountain side from the harbor one sees Villa or Bergalows —after Villa is Bergalows all the way to the top and on the highest peaks flag staffs, for on these highest points are garrisons and soldiers wearing British uniforms. On landing we are surprised at the number of Chinese we see; they are everywhere—merchants, peddlers, Coolies or laborers, hotel porters and waiters, and post-office employees. It seems the Chinese do all the work in every sphere. Most all seem to be dressed (on undressed) suitable to the weather. I found it necessary to get some thin clothes made, so was recommended by an American to go to a Chinese tailor who had a large establishment. I went and saw my man, dressed as we usually see them; was measured and told to call next day to try them on. I went and found my tailor sitting behind a counter and, so far as I could see, clothed as nature clothed him. So it is all about us. Linen clothing is very cheap. I paid for linen coat and pants, made to order, $1.50 Mexican—$2.20 in our money. A Coolie gets about fifteen cents a day and for this pittance he does lots of work. Coolies do all the work. We have only seen one horse here and that was in a little carriage. The material for all the beautiful residences on these mountains is either carried on Coolies' backs or in baskets, or in some other small way, suspended at each end of a bamboo pole, the pole on the Coolie's shoulder. I stop at a hotel on one of the peaks, eighteen hundred feet above the sea. It seems almost perpendicular. All the brick in this large hotel was brought here in the manner above mentioned. This morning I saw, perhaps, forty Coolies going on up by the hotel to the fort above, each carrying, I should judge, forty bricks, suspended from the shoulder with a bamboo pole. Each had brought these bricks from the foot of the mountain. It is an every minute sight to see from six to twenty, or more, Coolies pulling a big two wheeled vehicle along, loaded with all and everything used or required in a city. All this makes living and rents very expensive, that is among the whites. A decent sized house of ten to twelve rooms rents for about two thousand dollars a year. This afternoon I hired four Coolies and got into a chair and for three hours was carried around the peaks of the mountains, on their shoulders. I wish I could describe the scenery to you, but I could not do it justice. Beautiful Villas or Bergalows everywhere; beautiful wild flowers, elegant palms and bamboo; beautiful ravine here, an elegant inlet there; beautiful island there, and so on—a never ending kaleidoscope; beautiful roads for pedestrians only, cemented gutters on one side to carry off the rain water, for it can rain here I assure you and very easy; sometimes the clouds would descend and you could see nothing; the next moment the sun is out in all its heat and splendor. Returning to the hotel I paid the four Coolies for carrying me three hours, over hill and dale, constantly on a trot, fifty cents for the four. It is very hot here. The city is at the foot of a mountain and mountains all around, except an arm of the sea—a narrow straight winding around the islands which forms the harbor. There is not much chance for breeze, and the sun comes down almost perpendicular all day long, unless hidden by fog or clouds. The evaporation from the sea is great (temperature of sea water 85° fah.) the result is great humidity and consequently oppressive heat. I now sit in my room with all the windows closed, not from choice but necessity. I have learned that an open window means wet clothes in the morning. Everything is clammy. It is the rainy season, so we not only have fog but rain, and it seems to rain so easily—no trouble at all—and it rains, seems to make a business of it, as if it meant it.

There is some plague here but it is chiefly with the native, and no wonder. They are dirty to the last degree, but industrious; they live huddled together, often two or three families in one room. We are all having a little scare over the Japan-Russian difficulty. All the British Men-of-War are in northern waters. I understand our Monitors are all going North—the Kentucky is there also, the Wisconsin is crossing the sea to get there, the Albany, Cincinnati and Raleigh are on their way from Colombo, Ceylon, so it is reported. If reports be true things may be lively soon. The Japanese think a great deal of themselves. I understand they say here that a Jap told a tourist he thought the English navy about as good as theirs, but they had the best army in the world. If the Japs have that idea no doubt there will be trouble.

I do not know the population of Hong Kong, but it is a fairly large city—a great commercial centre. Three lines of steamers from here to San Francisco, one to Vancouver, two to Australia, six to England, two to Manila, three to Canton and other ports including New York direct. The city is heavily garrisoned. I think there are seven regiments here besides artillery.

My next will be from Manila.
