Stability in Trade. A new task has been undertaken by the corporations, which, if successful, should entitle them to considerable credit. In times past the moment trade activity slackened the imperative needs of the factories impelled them to cut prices in order to get such business as was going, says the Pittsburg Times.

When prices commenced to drop buyers held back from the market least they should load up with goods while competitors profited later by still lower prices. This process always demoralized the market and business, and the whole country suffered. Now the steel and iron makers are curtailing production so that the market may be assured of no deluge of goods at unprofitable figures. The result is that already buyers are coming to the mill in greater numbers than before the restriction was decided on.

This gives color to the prospect of a steady market, even if it should not see the same volume of trade, and steadiness is the one thing desired. In steel products prices were held down pretty firmly in the flush period, except in these rare cases of hurry orders, and if the prices can be kept now from going down very far, business will be encouraged. A restricted volume of business on safe lines of cost and profit is infinitely better than a greater volume on a fluctuating basis. The steady movement disarranges nothing. The fluctuation upsets everything from the labor cost of product to the manufacturer's profit or loss, the merchant's gains, and the confidence of the buyer. The steel and iron trade has not yet suffered a serious decline, nor is such a prospect likely, if the trade has some assurance that prices are not to be cut to a ruinous base.

Cause of Lockjaw. Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by L. Taggart.

"If you expect a man to find a compliment about himself, you must put it on the front page in a boldface type. "If you put in a two-line roast in nonpariel between two patent medicine ads on the seventh page, he finds it and comes hunting the man who wrote the piece."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by L. Taggart.

Ten Thousand Churches In the United States have used the Longman & Martinez Pure Paints. Every Church will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint. Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed oil (worth 80 cents) which you do when you buy thin paint in a can with a paint label on it. 8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight gallons of L. & M., and mix six gallons of pure linseed oil with it. You need only four gallons of L. & M. Paint, and three gallons of Oil mixed therewith to paint a good sized house. Houses painted with these paints never grow shabby, even after 18 years. These celebrated paints are sold by Harry S. Lloyd, Emporium, Pa. 26-2m.

A fellow here dead gone on his girl called at an early hour to "soot" with her. At the 11th hour his conversation ceased and she began to hum, "How tedious and tasteless the hour." He took the hint and exited. When out in the fresh air he was heard to remark, "guess she thought I didn't know beans when the bag was open."

It's high time the lawlessness around the bath house was suppressed, in the way of smashing in windows and destroying other property. One of the rooms, used for election purposes, has been broken into, and the fixtures have been broken and some carried away. The most of the depredations were committed by a worthless fellow from Potter county, who was run in here as a witness in a law suit. There was an eye witness to his smashing up. When he comes for next term of court it is hoped he will be dealt with according to law. KIPPS.

Letter to J. W. Kriner. Emporium, Pa. Dear Sir: Let's have a little private talk by ourselves on business; nobody else, please, read. You want to know how to do a cheap job of painting, and have it look good. Here it is: The cheapest thing there is in the way of a good-looking job—say nothing about its being good—is Devco; the regular thing is Devco.

The reason is; Devco goes further than anything else. Lead and oil is good looking; don't go so far and costs more. The other paints are more or less short in one way or another, don't go so far and costs more than Devco. Devco costs least of all; you don't mind its lasting longer, do you? We can't help it; a paint that goes further lasts longer; we can't help it.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVCO & Co. P. S. Murry & Coppersmith sell our paint.

The big bear that has been roaming these woods for a long time, was caught in a trap by Mr. Chase, of Lushbaugh, and Jas. Jordan, and now bear steak is on the mend in this village. He was a monster and we hear he dressed 400 pounds. That's either a whopper of a bear or a whopper of a story.

School Report. Number of male pupils registered..... 315. Number of female pupils registered..... 385. Total pupils registered..... 700. Average daily attendance..... 628. Percentage of attendance..... 95. Number present every day..... 95. Number of pupils tardy..... 62. Number of pupils sick..... 82. Number of visits to schools by patrons, etc. 66. Comparing these figures with those for the first month last year we find the registration has increased 99, and the average attendance 95. The percentage of attendance is 95 this year as compared with 91 last year. The number in attendance every day shows an increase of 288. The record would have been still better, if it had not been for the large number of pupils who were sick from vaccination. The above comparisons show a progress in these lines that is extremely gratifying. An excellent start has been made for the new year. Better conditions exist for good work in the schools than last year. Several large schools have been divided, though four or five are yet over-crowded. This year's enrollment is the largest in the history of the school during the first month. More room will have to be provided if this rate of increase is maintained. The best record in attendance was made by the senior and junior grades, in the high school, 98. Miss Larabee's and Miss Ritchie's schools are next with 97, and Miss Barker's and Miss Maxwell's follow with 96 each.
