EDITORIAL MENTION.

Japan hopes to get something "equally as good" in Korea.

The sword of Justice seems powerless against the pistol in South Carolina.

Tom Johnson is trying to force Senator Hanna to evacuate the United States Senate.

It is said that Senator Gorman is already planning for a second term in the White House.

President Roosevelt's advice to the Maryland republicans seems to have worried Senator Gorman.

If the socialist editors of Germany continue to discuss the Kaiser, the prisons in the Fatherland will have to be enlarged.

South Carolina politicians who contemplate disposing of their enemies should remember that Tillman had to hire twelve lawyers.

The yellow press has been such a success that William Randolph Hearst believes we want a yellow administration.

The Free Traders in England have started a Free Food League. It will probably suffer the same fate as the Free Silver league in this country.

A catalogue of abusive epithets will not be lacking in the New York municipal campaign, if the party orators will sit at the feet of Gomall Dowie.

Puerto Rico is being strongly fortified by our government. It will serve as an excellent "No Trespassing" sign for the Monroe Doctrine.

Mr. Bryan's paper explains that a man may amass a fortune without being a plutocrat. It cites former Governor Hogg, of Texas, as an example, but it doubtless refers to its own editor.

P. C. Gorman, brother of the United States Senator from Maryland has been dropped from the rolls of the Treasury Department "for the good of the service." Perhaps this will induce the Maryland senator to make another attack on the President.

For Sale.

An ideal driving horse. One that will please you all day long.

One light single and one light double harness, one pair light sleighs and one platform wagon.

One yoke oxen, one two seated carriage with top, one road cart with top, and two open road carts.

As I have no use for the above mentioned, I can and will give you the worth of your money.

Terms: Cash, or approved paper, with reasonable time.

THE DEMOCRATS' GAME

Would Like to See a Reduction In Republican Majorities In State.

VAINLY LOOKING TO NEXT YEAR

Chairman Penrose and General Bingham Give Warning to Republicans to Be Active and Alert.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—An unexpected move on the part of the Democracy to put some life into their State campaign during the last week has put the Republicans on guard and stimulated the majority party workers to renewed efforts to insure a great Republican triumph at the coming election.

With election day but two weeks off from to-day—it falls on November 3 this year—there is little time left for the county committeemen to prepare for the battle of the ballots.

While none but gratifying reports have been received by Chairman Penrose and Secretary Andrews at Republican State Headquarters, the Republican field marshal proposes to labor incessantly until the polls are closed to get out the largest possible percentage of the enrolled Republican vote.

A FINAL APPEAL.

A final appeal has been made this week by Chairman Penrose to the six thousand and more county committeemen throughout the State to devote their best energies to the cause during the few days of the campaign. He congratulates them upon their conscientious work up to date and reminds them that the contest is far more important than it appears to be upon its face. The facts are, he contends, that it is the opening skirmish of the great battle to be fought next year when a president, a vice-president, representatives in congress, and members of the general assembly are to be chosen, and an overwhelming victory will have great influence upon the more important campaign next year.

There is no attempt to create the impression that the Republican ticket is in danger, but stress is laid upon the fact that the greater the Republican majority will be next month, the greater will be the influence of the election returns from Pennsylvania in moulding sentiment throughout the country and affecting political conditions generally.

Capitalists and wage-earners are alike interested in the result, for it may have far-reaching influence in determining future business conditions throughout the nation.

General H. H. Bingham, the "Father of the House," who was in Washington last week, was among the callers upon Chairman Penrose to-day. General Bingham is recognized as one of the leaders in congress, and he is acknowledged to be held in high esteem at the White House and by all the members of the cabinet on account of his years of experience and the excellence of his judgment.

INTEREST IN WASHINGTON.

"What about Pennsylvania? was a query I heard on every hand," said General Bingham, in recounting his experiences on his trip to Washington. "I found a remarkable interest in our campaign. Not that anyone suspected for a moment that any of the Republican candidates was in danger, but there was an almost universal desire to know something about the temper of the people, to learn of the interest they are taking in the election, and whether Republicans have awakened to the important bearing the election returns next month will have upon national politics.

"The activity of the Democrats throughout the country in what would ordinarily be regarded as elections of minor importance, and the desperate battle being fought by Tammany to get control of the patronage and election machinery of New York city, are conditions which are not being overlooked by the national leaders of the Republican party. Every Democratic victory next month will give additional encouragement to the Democrats, who, hungry for office and power, are looking ahead in the vain hope that there will some mishap occur to handicap the Republican organization for the coming national campaign.

"Pennsylvania Republicans must be alert and active and see to it that there shall be no mishap take place at the election two weeks hence in the old Keystone State. There must be no falling off of the Republican vote, and no reduction of the Republican majority to which the Democracy can point as indicating popular sentiment in antagonism to the party of protection and prosperity. There should, on the other hand, be an increase in the Republican vote and an increase in the Republican majority, so that on the day after election every Republican throughout the country can point with pride to the returns from the Keystone State and say our party is stronger than ever in the bulwark of Republicanism. The people are with us and there will be no deviation from the policies which have made this country great, powerful, and prosperous."

Notwithstanding the Democratic press would have it appear that the treasury is "looted," the millions of dollars in the treasury stand as a stone wall defense on the side of the Republican party in Pennsylvania.

New Guinea Justice.

A comical vindication of the rights of property among the savages of New Guinea was witnessed by a missionary, the Rev. James Chalmers. Service was just beginning in the little church when a native boy came in dressed with what he considered great magnificence, in a shirt. As the savages were accustomed to go nearly naked, this garment made the boy very conspicuous.

The shirt had once belonged to some white man, and the importance it gave the present wearer was tremendous. But when his glory was at its height a bigger boy appeared, hot with rage and carrying a jacket. He fell upon the first lad and began stripping off the shirt. The rest of the congregation, understanding at once that the rightful owner had arrived, gave him not only sympathy, but practical aid. They rose to their feet, and those who were near by took part in the stripping process. Presently the true owner was invested in shirt and jacket, the congregation cooled, and the service went on.

Her Last Breath.

I heard a story the other day which is probably as old as the hills, though I never had the luck to hear it before. It was of a somewhat lengthy railway journey in very warm weather. An elderly lady, seated in one corner of the carriage, was provided with an India rubber cushion for her greater comfort, but unfortunately, owing to the heat and continued pressure, the cushion suddenly exploded. The old lady was in despair, even to tears, over the misfortune to the wind bag, and again and again reverted to her misfortune. "Put, woman," said a commercial traveler in another corner of the carriage, "it's not worth making a fuss about. You will get it repaired in town for about 18 pence." "It's no' that I've vexed about—it's no' the price. That's easy sorted. But the last time that bag was blown up it was by Auntie Jean, almsaist w' her very last breath, an' that canna be restored!"—Glasgow Times.

Animals and Rain.

It seems strange that no animal, unless it be the squirrel, seems to build itself a shelter with the express object of keeping off the rain, which they all so much dislike. Monkeys are miserable in wet and could easily build shelters if they had the sense to do so. "As the creatures hop disconsolately along in the rain," writes Mr. Kipling in his "Beast and Man in India," "or crouch on branches, with dripping backs set against the tree trunk as shelter from the driving storm, they have the air of being very sorry for themselves." But even the orang outang, which builds a small platform in the trees on which to sleep at night, never seems to think of a roof, though the Dyaks say that when it is very wet it covers itself with the leaves of the pandanus, a large fern.

Crushing.

He was an awful swell, and if there was one thing more than another that he prided himself on it was the fit of his clothes.

"I can never get a dress coat really to fit," he said to his partner as he glanced down at a perfectly made garment, with a hope, of course, that she would at once disclaim the insinuation. "Look at this thing."

"Well, it is atrocious," she said coolly. "But why not save your money and buy one? It is so much cheaper in the long run than hiring."

His Other Name.

The candidate for the place of coachman had been weighed and was not wanting, according to his new mistress' lights. Then the question of his name, which was Patrick, came up. The mistress objected to it in her heart, so she explained that it was her custom always to call her coachman by his family name. Had he any objections?

"Not the slightest, ma'am."

"What is your last name, Patrick?"

"Fitzpatrick, ma'am."

A Threat That Was Heeded.

In 1806 the Prussian government demanded an indemnity of $25,000,000 from the city of Frankfurt. The head of the house of Rothschild there sent word to Bismarck that if an attempt were made to enforce the levy the Rothschilds would break every bank in Berlin. Knowing the power behind the threat, the man of blood and iron yielded.

Slippery Elm Poultee.

Take a sufficient quantity of pulverized slippery elm bark, stir it in hot warm milk or water to the consistency of a poultee. This is a most efficacious poultee, is of almost universal application and removes inflammation sooner than any other. If tincture of myrrh be added it is valuable in boils, sores, carbuncles, etc.—Dick's Encyclopedia of Practical Recipes.

Anxious to Hear It.

Mr. Sampson (tremulously)—Miss Lydia, I want to tell you—er—the old, old story—

Then his agitation got the better of him, and he paused.

Lydia—Go on, Mr. Sampson. Never mind if it is a chestnut. Perhaps I've never heard it before.

Low Church—and Salary.

"It must be understood," said the vestryman, who was extremely "low church," to the new rector, "that the rector here shall have no surplice!" "Gracious!" exclaimed the Rev. Mr. Newcome. "How could one have a surplus on the salary you offer?"—Philadelphia Press.

Needs Prodding.

"It is a great mistake, Mabel, to trifle with the affections of a man who loves you by encouraging some one else." "Well, he's a little slow, auntie. I think he needs a pacemaker."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

country contending with the fact that they cannot harvest a money crop over eighteen months from the time they enter upon their land and that in the meantime they must support their families, cannot but appreciate that the provision whereby a settler can, at the end of fourteen months, borrow cash upon his land, make a final payment and get a clear title on which to base a mortgage, is a wise one, as wise to-day as when it was enacted by Congress. The needy settler who has lived in the community for fourteen months and demonstrated habits of thrift and industry, can always secure from the local bankers the funds with which to commute his claim and enough to live on temporarily, stock his farm, buy a few agricultural implements; etc., and that class of men makes a good citizen. I appreciate that there may be a serious fight in Congress this session, over this subject, but I have reason to believe that a majority will support my bill."

A Love Letter.

Would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed Salve for Sores, Burns or Piles, Otto Dodd, of Ponder, Mo., writes, "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Salve cured me. It's the best Salve on earth. 25c at L. Taggart's Drug Store."
