All I Ask.
Give me a name, not great, not bad; Give me a smile, sincere and glad; A mangle frank and free from care, A larger amount of savoir-faire, And all the beauty in the town I'd envy not!
Give me a heart that's always true; Give me the will to see and do, A spirit that can cause no pain, A helpful word, a thoughtful brain, And all the riches in the world I'd covet not!
Give me the strength to say, "I will!" Give me a love my life to fill, Some little child to smile upon Who'll do what good I've left undone, And with the proudest in the land I'd not exchange!
Give me the soul to feel ashamed If for my fault another's blamed; Let me for justice take a stand, In friendship clasp my neighbor's hand; Then at the closing of life's dream, I'll gladly die!
Give me a thought when I am dead, And sometimes say the words I've said; A flower place upon my breast; Forgive my faults, and all the rest, And speak of me with charity!
"Tis all I ask!" Pay Templeton.

Captain Bartlett's Three Cheers.
A series of Revolutionary scenes were given in a London theater some months after the close of that memorable war. On the one side was the English army in full red coated uniform, with every button in its exact place. Opposite them was the American army, composed of the American bill stated, of "artisans, cobblers and tinkers," arrayed in their working dress, with buttons of every size and hue.

When the curfew dropped, Captain Bartlett of Plymouth Mass., the captain of a ship then in port, stood up in his seat in the pit and in a voice as if given from a quarter deck in a squall called, "Three cheers for the artisans, cobblers and tinkers who were too much for King George and his red coats," with a wave of his hat he gave these with a will. For a short time there was silence in the theater, followed by an enthusiastic John Bull, appreciative of the pluck and assurance of the Yankee captain, who became the lion of the city, receiving invitations to clubs and free tickets to theatrical and other entertainments while he remained in port.—Boston Transcript.

A Legend of Nantucket.
About Vineyard sound there are numerous legends of a famous Indian giant. It is said that the rocks at Seacomet are the remains of his wife, whom he threw into the sea there. He turned his children into fishes and emptying out his pipe one day formed Nantucket out of its ashes.

This latter story of Nantucket's source must account likewise for the well known story of that old Nantucket captain who was accustomed to make his reckonings by fastening the earth brought up on sounding. One day the lead was dipped in some earth brought on board ship from the island, and the captain, after tasting, leaped from his berth in great excitement, exclaiming, "Nantucket's sunk, and here we are right over old Marm Hackett's garden!" Naturally he would recognize the taste of tobacco ashes.

Cairo Street Wreckless.
In oriental countries the recklessness of drivers of vehicles and their disregard for foot passengers are very marked, but in Cairo they have a series of curious cries which they wern a partman. They specify the particular part of his anatomy which is in danger, as thus: "Look out for thy left shin, O uncle." "Boy, have a care for the little toe on thy right foot." "O blind beggar, look out for thy staff." And the blind beggar, feeling his way with the staff in his right hand, at once obediently turns to the left. "O Frankish woman, look out for thy left foot." "O burden bearer, thy load is in danger." "O water carrier, look out for the tail end of thy pigskin boot bottle."

How the Gorilla Walks.
The gorilla has not only a crouching habit, but he walks on all four of his legs and has the motion of most quadrupeds, using his right arm and left leg at the same time, and alternates with the left arm and right leg. It is not exactly a walk or a trot, but a kind of ambling gait, while the chimpanzee uses his arms as crutches, but lifts one foot from the ground a little in advance of the other. He does not place the palm of the hand on the ground, but uses the back of the fingers from the second joint.

Notes From Howardville.

EDITOR CAMERON COUNTY PRESS.
E. L. Mason and James Wright were hunting last Friday. No damage was done to wild or domestic fowl.

Mr. Carpenter, foreman of mill No. 2, has a new hat that is a dandy. The crown is some eighteen inches high.

Geo. Hurteau's dog is diamond ring. This dog seems to be like a diamond ring, now on your finger, now on your "Uncle's" finger.

Mr. Mattison has his corn all in. It was run through a husking machine. He is now ready for winter having his farm work in good shape. We hope his streak of ill luck has come to an end.

The mill is running very well lately, with the fills, Dalrymple and fifty turk hunting pheasants. After tramping a combined total of hundred and fifty miles up and down hill. Mr. Dalrymple has succeeded in capturing one pheasant and one chipmunk, while Mason has shot one turkey, for which he paid $1.50.

The closing of stores on Sunday seems to end the Sunday movement. There are many workman in Emporium who are obliged to work on Sunday in order to hold their situations. Some of these were in hope that the Sunday movement might come their way and include them. I am acquainted with professors of religion—church members—that are obliged to work on Sunday. I don't know how they are going to come out in the end, without turning to seventh day people, and keep Saturday. I would recommend reading Eccl. 12: 13.; Rev. 22: 14., XXX.

TO ALL CATARRH SUFFERERS

Hyomei Guaranteed to Cure by L. Taggart or Money Refunded.

The popularity and the increase in the sales of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized L. Taggart to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it not the purchaser can have his money refunded by L. Taggart.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is the only method of treatment that sends by direct passage to the most remote part of the air passages, a balsamic fluid that destroys all catarrhal germs, in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes permanent and complete cures of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and your catarrh is cured. That's all.

If not cured L. Taggart will refund your money.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and cured the baby. This remedy is for sale by L. Taggart.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.
It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill 25c, at L. Taggart's Drug Store.

Sinnamahoning Items.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arch DeShetler, a daughter on Saturday last.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Huff, on Wednesday the 18th, a daughter.
Two weddings are booked for this place this week. Let the good work go on.

Fine weather for fall work and the farmers are all about done with their fall work.

G. W. Gore slaughtered the largest hog of the season. It tipped the scale at 550 lbs.

Quite a few of the nimrods of this place were hunting last week, with poor success.

H. M. Fry captured two bears one day last week. They weighed about 100 lbs each.

There has not been many birds killed so far this season. There seems to be a scarcity.

A big flood in the creek this week, caused the mill to shut down for a few days.

G. W. Gore and party were hunting on the river hills at Keating last week and bagged a fine buck, and report there were plenty of deer signs in that locality.

Henry Snyder, who was struck by an engine about three weeks ago is getting along quite well. He is able to set up part of the time. He says he will keep off the railroad after this.

A reinforcement, with an extra supply of spirits, went out on Karthaus, Sunday to see if they can break the spell that is on the deer out there this fall. We look for a report from them soon.

One of our nimrods, who hunted with a 38.56 model last season and failed to get any game, as the game was too far off, is hunting with a 30-30 calibre this fall. He will probably get a Gatling gun for next season.

Frank Wolf made a short visit out on Karthaus mountain last week, with a party of hunters who are stopping there through the hunting season and this is his report: Hard seem to be quite plentiful, but hard to shoot, for one day there were seventeen of the party in a ridge hunt, three to drive and fourteen to watch, when a fine deer came out to the watchers and eleven of them got shots at it, but failed to cut a hair, and as they were all armed with improved fire arms they seem to think the deer are "hoodooed" in that locality. It is claimed that seventy-three shots were made at the one deer.

Resolutions of Condolence.
The following resolutions of condolence were passed by Citizen Hose Company, of Emporium, Pa.:

WHEREAS, The Great and Supreme Ruler of the universe has, in His infinite wisdom, seen fit to remove from our midst one of our loved brothers, Harry M. Thomas, and

Resolved, That the worthy and efficient services he rendered in times of danger, and his conduct will be ever held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the removal of a life like his from our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow which will be deeply felt by all members of the company, and will prove a serious loss to the company.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives of the deceased. We express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things for the best.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of sixty days and that copies of these resolutions be presented to his family, spread upon our minutes and printed in our Borough papers.
