Republicans Afraid?
[Harrisburg Telegraph.]

Democratic newspapers and orators of the brand of Baker of New York and Cockran of the same State have been so busy accusing Republican leaders of cowardice and with being afraid to do this or that—solely to divert public attention from their own party's shortcomings—that they have failed utterly to appreciate the absurdity of their position before the country. Democratic blatherskites have a fine record of incompetency and obstruction to stand upon while challenging the magnificent achievements of the party of progress and prosperity. Afraid, indeed!

Afraid to break the fetters of a tyrant nation from an oppressed people and give liberty and opportunity to millions of subjects?

Afraid to hoist the Stars and Stripes where a Democratic President had lowered the flag of his country?

Afraid to insist upon the open door in the orient and the admission of American goods?

Afraid to enforce a law against a great railroad trust which the last Democratic administration had declared could not be enforced?

Afraid to protect the millions invested in American industries giving employment to great armies of men against the output of the underpaid foreign workers?

Afraid to stand up vigorously for humanity and for the rights of the individual citizen everywhere?

Afraid to make an accomplished fact of the Panama Canal, the waterway of the world?

Afraid to build a Navy and equip an Army to assure the preservation of peace at home and respect abroad?

Afraid, indeed! Pretty party to charge Republicans with cowardice—the party of negation, the party of dead issues, free trade, obstruction, the party of isms and hobbies and free silver.

Lincoln, the martyr; Grant, the saviour; McKinley, the peacemaker; Roosevelt, the builder—these are a few of the names which crowd the illustrious page of the great party of achievement, of progress, of splendid policies and national greatness.

Afraid of what—the Bakers and Cockrans and Tillmans and Gormans and Bryans—the host of blind leaders of the blind?

Bah!

Whooping Cough.

"In the spring of 1901 my children had whooping cough," says Mrs. D. W. Capps, of Capps of Capps, Ala. "I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with the most satisfactory results. I think this is the best remedy I have ever seen for whooping cough." This remedy keeps the cough loose, lessens the severity and frequency of the coughing spells and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by L. Taggart.

He gives but an empty hand who witholds his heart.

An Open Letter.

From the Chapin, S. C., News. Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt the effects. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor. This remedy is for sale by L. Taggart.

Friends seldom desert a man while his money holds out.

Letter to U. A. Palmer.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: If it took ten gallons to paint your house last time with somebody else's paint, and takes 8 with Devco, we save you $3 or $10; for painting costs two or three times as much as paint.

Mr. Ezra Rathmell, Williamsport, Pa., always used 11 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Devco took 6.

"But that isn't all; that only first cost; how long will it wear?"

The paint, that goes furthest in covering, wears best too.

All paint, true paint, and full-measure, are on one side; part paint, false paint, and short-measure are on the other. What can you expect?

Yours truly
F. W. Devco & Co.
P. S. Murry and Coppersmith sell our paint.

After all ridicule only slaps our face with the open hand.
