A serious head on collision near Lime Lake, N. Y., last Monday morning, between two freight trains, at ten minutes of eight, resulting in the death of engineer Bedford, fireman McCarthy and brakeman Cullinan, all of Buffalo. Fireman McCarthy was thrown into the fire box and roasted. His headless remains were recovered two hours after the accident. Engineer McCleary was severely injured, his right shoulder being crushed.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

By I. K. HOCKLEY, Clerk.

The County Fair.

Interest is beginning to be manifest in the coming County Fair this fall. From various directions comes the inquiry, "will there surely be another Fair this fall?" and also persons are giving their crops the best of cultivation, taking especial care of some particularly promising specimen and endeavoring to develop their live stock to their fullest extent. This extra effort will surely result in much good. It will stimulate the grower to acquaint himself with the best methods in Agriculture and the latest and most promising varieties of products. The interest it will stimulate gives the producer a greater profit and increases the sum of his happiness. Many consider a Fair a place of amusement. While the amusement feature should not be overlooked, the Fair is a great educational institution and this should always be kept in mind. It is hoped that every citizen throughout the county will make an effort to exhibit something and thus contribute to the success of a commendable enterprise.

John Charles Baker.

Mr. Baker was born in New York State on July 11, 1855, and died at Portland Mills, Elk county, Pa., on July 9, 1904. He was aged 47 years, 11 months, and 28 days.

Mr. Baker was the son of a Methodist preacher. In early infancy he was left an orphan by the death of his mother. He found a home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fay, at Emporium, Pa. Here with them he grew to young manhood. He had the advantage of good school facilities and when grown to be a young man, he possessed more than an ordinary education and was of more than ordinary mental culture. He was a graduate of Mansfield State Normal school, and had been a student in other institutions of learning. He became a school teacher and followed that as a business. In this business he was successful.

At the age of 16 he was attacked with what was then called spotted fever. Later he suffered with an attack of fever of some other kind. From the effects of these sicknesses he seemed to recover slowly, and when 20 years of age he went to Florida in hopes that a better climate would aid in a more rapid recovery. He returned to Pennsylvania in a year or so. Later he again went South. He spent altogether 17 years in the South. From Florida he came to Portland Mills, in May 1901, where he has since resided, and where he died, as above.

In 1882 he was married to Miss Melissa Frances Baker, who survives him. To them were born four children—two girls and two boys. One girl is dead. Those living are: Alonzo M., Alphonso R.; and Alida C., the last 5 years of age.

Mr. Baker was a man of high moral ideas and of excellent moral character. At his own request he was elected to the Crolyland Schools, in Spring Creek, Elk county, in the fall of 1902. Falling health forced his resignation. For 21 years continuously he struggled against an impaired condition of health. It was an unavailing struggle.

Funeral services were held at his home in Portland Mills, on Sunday evening following his death. On the next day the body was taken to Emporium, Pa., and their buried.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

HEMPHILL.

MRS. OLIVE BLANCH (Birchfield) HEMPHILL, (wife of Sheriff Harry Hemphill, of Emporium, who has, while battling himself against a disease of a serious nature, rendered every means to save his wife,) aged 49 years and 17 days, died at Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, Thursday, July 21st, 1904. After suffering for five years with disease she was taken to Philadelphia last week for a second operation, that being the last hope. Accompanied by her physician she was placed in Jefferson Hospital under Dr. DeCosta, who at once prepared the patient, and, assisted by Drs. Fisher and Montgomery, removed a double tumor, last Thursday afternoon. The shock to the system of the sufferer was too great and she passed away a short time after regaining consciousness, when she told the Dr. she was going to die, and peacefully passed away. The afflicted husband immediately started for Philadelphia, upon receiving the sad news, telegraphing to Hon. R. R. Bringhurst to take charge of the remains and prepare it for shipment to Emporium, upon Mr. Hemphill's arrival in Philadelphia. Every attention and courtesy was rendered by our good friend Bringhurst and the fact that the call came from Emporium, where his friends are many, was all that he needed. Sheriff Hemphill, accompanied by his cousin, Miss Sadie P. Hemphill, of Philadelphia, arrived in Emporium, Saturday morning at 5:10, the remains being met at the depot by Mr. Charles Rishell, of LaBar's undertaking establishment of this place, and a number of our citizens and conveyed to the jail residence, where the funeral took place Sunday afternoon; Rev. Robt. McCaslin, Pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiating, the singing upon the impressive occasion being furnished by a choir of mixed voices from the Episcopal Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches—the deceased, however and her family being attendants of Presbyterian Church. Rev. McCaslin's remarks were very appropriate. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The remains were taken to Clearfield, their old home, on Monday morning for burial.

Deceased came to Emporium in 1888; was a lady of intelligence and energy, being a member of one of Clearfield's oldest and most respected families; an elegant housekeeper, neat and economical. She had many elegant traits of character—kind to the poor and afflicted and no hardship was too much to endure. Four sons, all at home for the funeral, Bingham, Ralph, Orvis and Kerr—the latter coming from Westboro, Wis., arriving here Sunday noon. The afflicted family and relatives, who have had years of sickness, are indeed entitled to the sympathy and condolence of our people. Sheriff Hemphill, a good citizen, and kind friend, has battled hard and manfully with fate, has hosts of friends here who will encourage and comfort him.

Visit of Observation.

While on a recent trip through the Northern part of Pennsylvania and Southern New York, two things were very noticeable to me. First, to me, was the excellent condition of the farms, and all farm crops. Next, the great change in the politics of the people; one township in particular, furnished me with much thought. Fifteen years ago there was only four Republicans in the township; now it is very nearly reversed. I am personally acquainted with nearly half of the people there, but could not account for the immense change; every one, except possibly a few Standard Oil employes, were talking Roosevelt, in favor of Roosevelt, and all for Roosevelt. There was no argument, but all seemed to say, or feel, as Milo Green said to me, "Roosevelt is good enough for me," but Milo is an old soldier, that might account for him; but what has changed the others so radically?

Crops in Northern N. Y., look the best I have ever seen them, hay, oats, and potatoes, are extra fine—one field of rye that I passed would average five feet tall. But corn is a general failure, as I only saw two fields that were even average; gardens were all good. But I think the corn crop around Emporium, is better than any place I have been.

On this trip there was five railroad wrecks in three days; three of which rather interfered with my traveling, and one of which was caused by gross carelessness on the part of the engineer, as he let the journals of his engine get so dry that they cut off, and lost the drive wheels on one side of the engine. One poor tramp was the only one seriously hurt.

I expect if the great combines, trusts, or syndicates, can crowd out Roosevelt; beat him in any way at any cost, then, the railroads will put on men enough to run their trains without so many wrecks; but perhaps the meat trusts can have us all starved out by that time, so that we will not care whether railroads run or not. To me it looks like a great combine to kill off all men not worth a million dollars, and so far this year they have been very, very successful. The only hope I can see for a poor man is in Roosevelt for next President, as he is the only one that seems to have man enough about him that he cannot be bribed, forced or frightened by any of the trusts.

E. L. MASON.

Emporium, Pa., July 23, 1904.

Depth of Chautauqua Lake.

The distance from Jamestown to Mayville by water is less than commonly supposed, being only 17.8-16 miles, while the length of the lake proper from Celoron to Mayville is less than 15 miles. Lake soundings are an interesting study. From Mayville to Chautauqua the bottom is found regularly at 35 feet. From Chautauqua the bottom drops away rapidly until the maximum depth of 94 feet is reached opposite Maple Springs. At Long Points it rises to 57 feet and to 30 feet at the ferry, from which point the lake gradually becomes shallower until a depth of 10 feet is found near Lakewood and even less on the mud flats below that point.—Jamestown Journal.

Extracts From the President's Speech.

A party is of worth only in so far as it promotes the National interest, and every official, high or low, can serve his party best by rendering to the people the best service of which he is capable.

In dealing with the great organizations known as the trusts, we do not have to explain why the laws were not enforced, but to point out that they actually have been enforced and that legislation has been enacted to increase the effectiveness of their enforcement.

So long as the Republican party is in power the gold standard is settled, not as a matter of temporary political expediency, but in accordance with what we regard as the fundamental principles of National morality and wisdom.

Re-adjustment of the tariff schedules, when the need arises, can with safety be made only by those whose devotion to the principle of protective tariff is beyond question, for otherwise the changes would amount not to a re-adjustment but to repeal.

The problems with which we have to deal in our modern industrial and social life are manifold, but the spirit in which it is necessary to approach their solution is simply the spirit of honesty, of courage and of common sense.

We have already shown in actual fact that our policy is to do fair and equal justice to all men, paying no heed to whether a man is rich or poor, paying no heed to his race, creed or his birthplace.

We recognize the organization of capital and the organization of labor as natural outcomes of our industrial system. Each kind of organization is to be favored so long as it acts in a spirit of justice and of regard for the rights of others.

Every sinister effort that could be devised by the spirit of faction or the spirit of self interest was made in order to defeat the treaty with Panama and thereby prevent the consummation of this work (the canal). The construction of the canal is now an assured fact, but it certainly would be unwise to entrust the carrying out of so momentous a policy to those who have endeavored to defeat the whole undertaking.

Our foreign policy has been so conducted that while not one of our just claims has been sacrificed our relations with all foreign nations are now of the most peaceful kind. There is not a cloud on the horizon.

We hold that the prosperity of each nation is an aid not a hindrance to the prosperity of other nations.

We seek international amity for the same reason that makes us believe in peace within our own borders, and we seek this peace not because we are afraid or unready, but because we think that peace is right as well as advantageous.

Our steady growth in power has gone hand in hand with a strengthening disposition to use this power with strict regard for the rights of others and for the cause of international justice and good will.

During the seven years just passed there is no duty domestic or foreign which we have shirked, no necessary task which we have feared to undertake, or which we have not performed with reasonable efficiency. We have never pleaded impotence. We have never sought refuge in criticisms and complaint instead of action.

We are governing the Philippines in the interest of the Philippine people themselves. We have already given them a large share in their government, and our purpose is to increase this share as rapidly as they give evidence of increased fitness for the task.

A Library for Emporium.

A representative of The Banner Books Library is in town this week making an effort to establish an exchange station of this popular concern, which will be located in Taggart's Drug Store. The Banner Books Library offers to the booklovers of the land a remarkable proposition. It delivers and exchanges the best books, by popular authors, at the homes of its patrons.

The fee for a life membership has been placed at a very nominal sum and a large membership should be secured. Representatives will call and explain more fully the merits of the proposition. Circulars and other information may be had upon application to Mr. L. Taggart. 23-1t.

Big inducements in summer clothing at N. Seger's. Call and see him.

Dr. Eugene Bardwell, of Emporium, has been nominated by the Republicans of Cameron county for the office of treasurer. No better man in the party could be selected.—Austin Autograph, (Dem.) July 21, 1904.
