WOMAN AT HOME

HOW SHOPPERS ARE SOLD.

Instead of Getting Wonderful Bargains They Very Often Merely Buy Inferior Goods.

Very few women know that when they think they have run across wonderful bargains in some of the shops, when, in fact, they know they are getting certain articles cheaper than usual, because they remember the price paid, apparently, for the same thing at other times, they are really paying all that the goods are worth, for the simple reason that the bargain lot is what manufacturers call "seconds."

To all appearances the "seconds" look just the same as the original lot. If they happen to be underwear, gowns or hosiery the material, manufacture and style seem excellent, but the manufacturer and the buyer know that they are made out of the second choice of material, and cannot be considered first class. They are originally cheaper than goods that were bought first, and can be sold at something of a reduction, so that 9,900 out of 10,000 customers rejoice in the thought that they have really found a bargain, whereas they have paid liberally for what they got.

PRETTY THINGS IN STOCKS.

What an Ingenious Woman or Girl Can Do with a Little Work and a Handkerchief.

These pretty handkerchief stocks will commend themselves to those who like dainty neckwear, easily made, easily laundered, easily adjusted and best of all, inexpensive. Select a handkerchief that corresponds in size to that of your neckband, so the ends will have the handkerchief edge for a finish. Hemstitched or scalloped borders, white or in colors, will do for Figs. 2 and 4, but for Fig. 3 a square must be chosen that has a border fully an inch wide (a little wider is better), with, if possible, an openwork stripe inside, that when cut away from the plain center will have a finished and firm edge. Such a design is shown in Figs. 1 and 3.

HANDKERCHIEF STOCKS.

If there is a good inside finish overhand these strips together, as shown in Fig. 3. Otherwise turn the raw edge once as for hemming, and put the two border pieces together with fagoting or some other open stitch. Sew the tab to the under part of the stock in the center.

The neck piece in Figs. 2 and 4 is made in the same way. After cutting this off, from the remainder cut the square e, and from that the piece c, this making the lower part of the double tab. The upper part is shorter and is shaped like d, which can be cut from the last quarter. Make a neat narrow hem on the raw side edges, put together and sew on neck piece as for Fig. 3.

Fig. 4 differs from the others in that the tab is formed of a square whose sides are as long as b, or if a shorter tab is liked make the square the size of e. Fold in cascade form, as shown, and square off the top. Neatly hem the raw side edges, and if preferred fold them under out of sight.—Farm and Home.

How to Keep Hair Light.

Keep your hair light by exposing it to the sun as many hours each week as you possibly can. Soda or borax will keep it light, but they are not the best shampoos, as they make the hair brittle. A good tonic is made of one pint bay rum, one ounce castor oil, one drachm tincture cantharides, one drachm carbonate ammonia. Use three times a week at first, gradually lessening. Try egg shampoos.

Not So Marvellous.

"It has been demonstrated that a frog can live without brains."
"Oh, well, there are quite a number of human beings who come pretty near doing it."—Brooklyn Life.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR WOMEN

Out in California They Get Dish-Rags from the Garden Instead of from the Stores.

A novel enterprise, that of raising dish-rags, is being exploited by a number of southern California horticulturists, who received the inspiration for the scheme from Charles Richardson, whose gardens in Pasadena are becoming famous for their remarkable productions. Mr. Richardson has successfully raised many growths new to American soil, and this year is exceeding all his previous triumphs by raising thousands of dish-rags.

Last year Mr. Richardson's string-beans, which measured 43 inches in length, created a stir, but dish-rag vines, which, with their pendant dish-rags—twine about orange trees, palms, evergreens and peach trees, and peek in at the two-story windows, bid fair to win the championship from the beans.

These dish-rags, or vegetable sponges, as they are sometimes called, are indigenous to Africa, but now it has been demonstrated that they will thrive in this country they are bound to become a popular production.

GATHERING "DISH-RAGS."

The New York Tribune says that the graceful foliage vines are not only ornamental, but they bear in profusion a fibrous sponge that is eminent useful for bathing, as well as for scouring pans and kettles. Imagine picking dish-rags in one's garden, just as one would pick blackberries, or imagine having vines all laden with dish-rags clambering over one's kitchen windows, so that all one needs to do is to stretch out an arm and pull one in. Such an arrangement would be much easier than going to the ragbag or buying dish-rags at stores.

These curious vegetables assume the form and appearance of cucumbers, and hang on the vines until their green coats become brown and dry like parchment. At this stage they are ready to harvest. After they are picked the brown coat is removed, and an extremely strong and compact fibrous sponge is revealed. Through the center of this sponge, in three lengthwise compartments, are many black seeds which shake out easily. In the Pasadena garden these sponges have averaged eight inches in length.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

Present Fashion Is Against the Display of Rings and Jewels in the Daytime.

"Women are not wearing rings as they did several years ago," said a well-known gem expert, when asked if rings are no longer stylish. "They buy more rings than ever before, but they use them only for full dress. "Why, as recently as five years ago the sex had a craze for making pawnshop displays on their hands, and wore rings morning, noon and night, anywhere and everywhere. Even women in the deepest mourning did not discard their rings.

"But it is not so now. The matron is content with wearing her wedding ring, even putting aside her engagement ring, while her single sister, if she wears even one ring, usually adopts a plain dull gold seal ring adorned with her coat-of-arms or somebody else's. "Rings are brought out with the stars, but it is now considered quite vulgar to burden the hands with them in the daylight."—N. Y. Sun.

Cream for Chapped Hands.

A cream for chapped hands, which is also a whitener, is made as follows: One ounce white wax, one ounce spermaceti, one ounce nut oil, all added to one-quarter ounce camphor gum dissolved in one ounce olive oil. Melt together and beat to a cream. Rub into the hands after bathing them in warm water and castile soap. The cure is aided by sleeping in loose kid gloves after the application, as this prevents the cream rubbing off during the night; it also causes a slight perspiration of the hands, which it whitens.

A Born Diplomat.

He—Miss DeJones, Clara, I never loved any one but you. Will you be my wife?
She—But I've been told that you proposed to four other girls within a month.
He—True, darling, but I did it merely for practice, so I wouldn't blunder if proposing to you.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

LOUISVILLE FOWL A FREAK.

Has the Head of a Chicken and the Body of a Duck and Quacks and Cackles.

A thoroughly developed duck, so far as feet, wings and body are concerned, surmounted with a head which would do credit to the proudest cock that ever strutted a barn yard, is a fowl owned by Albert G. Eilers, who lives on the Beardstown pike, two miles from Louisville, Ky. The bird has just passed its first birthday, and for the past 12 months has been an object of unparalleled curiosity.

Mr. Eilers is the proprietor of a grocery and saloon, and as a side issue is a chicken and dog fancier. He also has a number of ducks of the ordinary white variety, and it was one of these which hatched the freak fowl last summer. When the chicken-duck first appeared Mr. Eilers knew not what to do with it. He scarcely expected it to live on account of its deformities, but after a sickly week or two it began to grow and thrive, until it now weighs nearly six pounds. The bird was hatched from a duck's egg, and for a week was cared for by a mother duck.

The mother soon noticed the curious build of the fowl, however, and immediately disowned her offspring. Mr. Eilers then carefully cared for it until it was able to secure its own living among the chickens and ducks of his barn yard. The head of the hybrid is as perfectly constructed as that of any chicken. The bill is slightly longer than that usually owned by chickens, but the head and comb are exact. The neck is long and carries the head erect, but at its base the resemblance to a chicken ceases entirely. The body is long and low and waddles about on a pair of short legs to which are appended webbed feet. The wings are large and capable of carrying the bird a considerable distance through the air. The fowl takes to water as readily as a duck, but eats everything peculiar to a chicken. Its voice is the most peculiar part about its make-up. At times the "quack! quack!" of a duck is heard all over the lot, and an instant later the "cackle! cackle!" of a chicken almost destroys the equilibrium of any curious observer.

TREELESS PASTURE SHADE

Progressive Dairymen Nowadays Provide Shelter for Cows from the Rays of the Sun.

It has been demonstrated to be such a profitable necessity that progressive dairymen are now providing some means for shade in treeless pastures. Almost any sort of a shed constructed of old lumber, or poles covered with boughs, fodder, straw, etc., will answer the purpose. Where lumber is expensive and green boughs are not readily at hand a cheap cotton cover may be used very effectively and economically, as shown in the cut. The pasture fence will serve as one side of such a shed, setting posts at convenient distances from same upon which to lay the cross-pieces as indicated.—Farm and Home.

PASTURE SHADE FOR COWS.

When the Lightning Strikes.

Here is a suggestion from an exchange that may prove of some value: The season of lightning losses is now on. A large share of losses which the farmers' mutual insurance companies are called upon to pay is caused by loss of stock by lightning. This results from the almost universal use of wire fencing for the pastures and the failure to properly ground the wires, the wire on the fence being able to carry a current heavy enough to kill stock half a mile from the point of discharge. A cross bar, some short pieces of wire and a man can protect an ordinary pasture in half a day. A piece of wire attached to the fence wire and run in the ground to a depth of three feet will do the work if placed every 30 or 40 rods along the fence.

Retopping of Apple Trees.

In answer to the inquiry: "Will it pay to re-top a large sweet apple tree, a foot or more in diameter?" The Maine experiment station says that apple trees up to a foot in diameter may be top-worked if unsatisfactory. Care should be used that too much of the top is not removed in any one year. Cut off about one-third of the top the first year and insert scions on stubs not more than two or three inches in diameter. The next year remove more of the top and insert other scions, and the following year complete the work.

Gilt Edge Farm Butter.

The old churn used to turn out fine butter on the farm. To-day, with the knowledge of handling, ripening and curdling that has become so general, the churn should be able to turn out really gilt-edge butter. Such butter would promptly put a profit into dairy farming.—Midland Farmer.

You can't buy experience on credit.

Explained His Assertion.

By the use of the saline solution the Cheerful Idiot, who had been punished in the law for a previous offense, was revived. "What did you mean?" asked the anxious watchers, "when you said that you saw her draw a revolver?" "Perhaps the statement should be qualified," he admitted, in a dazed way. "She was sketching a merry-go-round, you know."—Cleveland Leader.

The Leap Year Girl.

Her task wasn't pleasing, for William was teasing, but their marriage proves she won the day. All her troubles uncounted were at last summoned, for where there's a will there's a way.—Washington Star.

Still More Evidence.

Bay City, Ill., August 8 (Special).—Mr. K. J. Henley, of this city, adds his evidence to that published almost daily that a sure cure for Rheumatism is now before the American people, and that that cure is Dadd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Henley had acute Rheumatism. He has used Dadd's Kidney Pills. He says of the results: "After suffering for sixteen years with Rheumatism and using numerous medicines for Rheumatism and more medicines prescribed by doctors, I at last tried Dadd's Kidney Pills with the result that I got more benefit from them than all the others put together. "Dadd's Kidney Pills were the only thing to give me relief, and I recommend them to all suffering from Acute Rheumatism. Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. Healthy kidneys take all the Uric Acid out of the blood. Dadd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys."

Naturally Gifted.

Maud—I have always thought Mabel would make a good reporter. She has such a good nose for news. The Other Girls—Yes, and such a good nose for putting it in circulation.—Chicago Journal.

Care of the Hair.

It is now generally agreed that many of the shampoos in use are injurious to the hair. The best treatment is frequent brushing and absolute cleanliness. Wash the hair in a lather of Ivory Soap and rinse thoroughly. Let the last water be cool, as it closes the pores of the skin and prevents colds. ELEANOR R. PARKER.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 78 Years Old, Cured of a Terrible Case after Ten Years of Suffering.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble, of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the day time, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband should be a woman's constant study. If she would be all that she may, she must guard well against the signs of ill health. Mrs. Brown tells her story for the benefit of all wives and mothers.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was; and the wonderful results she had had from your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time, I was a different woman, the neighbors remarked it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that, and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman.—Sincerely yours, Mrs. CHAS. F. BROWN, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., Vice President Mothers Club.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced."
