EDITORIAL MENTION.

It was very kind and thoughtful of Judge Parker, in his speech at Rosewater Mount, to assure the public that if the Democrats should succeed in putting him into the White House neither he nor his party could do any harm to the commercial interests of the country since the Senate is hopelessly Republican.

The famous Populist, Tom Watson, says the populist fires still burn fiercely within him. Can it be they are fed with wood alcohol? In speaking of the Democratic party he used more truth than poetry when he said: "It made its appeal to the Deity through a megaphone and drafted its platform by telegraph."

Patrick Egan, formerly United States Minister to Chili, and once an anti-imperialist, will support President Roosevelt. Corporal Tanner announces that he will take the stump for the President.

The Sun, of New York, has had a varied experience in the course of its career as a paper which shone for all. One need not recapitulate the list of all the candidates it has supported; enough for our present purpose to know that it refuses to sup upon the Democratic platform, which it describes as composed of "hell-broth, dishwater and dynamite," and that it announces it prefers the "impulsive candidate," Roosevelt, to the "representative of the Hun vote in the back ground."

A part of the ammunition for the campaign consists in the records of Congressmen as collated from the Congressional Record. If a member has cut a poor figure in Congress, or none at all, the Record shows that fact. Has he been a negative or a positive representative of the people? Has he been content to look simply after the interests of his own district, and bring in a large number of pension bills? Has he failed to take part in the great and broad questions which concern the welfare of all the people as a nation? Was he attentive to his duties; did he vote on all important questions? These facts, and many more, are now being carefully culled from the Record, and will be used in more than one closely contested district, for or against a candidate as the case may be.

MUST LOOK TO CONGRESS

Pennsylvania's Interests Have Much at Stake at Next Election.

AGGRESSIVE FIGHT TO BE MADE

A United States Senator and Thirty-two Representatives to the House Who Will Vote On Tariff Legislation Will Be Chosen.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, Aug. 23.—Naturally interest centres here in the selection of members of the general assembly, as the next legislature, which meets here in January next, will be called upon to elect a United States senator for the full term of six years to succeed Governor Pennypacker's appointee, Philander Knox.

Among the nominees for the senate and the house who have been placed in the field already are many new candidates, and there is considerable speculation regarding the outcome of the contests in several districts.

The election of a stalwart Republican to the United States senate is of paramount importance to the vast industrial and other interests of Pennsylvania, as is also the matter of the election of Republican candidates for the national house of representatives.

The election of candidates for the legislature, who will have a vote on the United States senatorship, and the success of Republican nominees in the 32 congressional districts in this state will occupy the attention of the party leaders from now until the 8th of November next, when the ballots will be cast and counted.

Senator Penrose, as chairman of the Republican state committee, will give personal attention to this phase of the campaign, and he will have the hearty co-operation of every loyal member of the Republican organization throughout the state.

The fight for the election of these candidates will be made upon clean-cut lines, and will be aggressive from the start.

The voters of Pennsylvania will have impressed upon them the fact that the Democracy has ever been antagonistic to the Pennsylvania idea of the protective tariff, and that it is vitally essential that the Republican majorities in both branches of congress shall be maintained, in order that the great manufacturing interests, the vast army of industrial workers and the millions upon millions of capital invested, shall be kept free from harmful legislation at Washington.

In some respects, Republican loss of congress would be more disastrous to Pennsylvania's interests than the loss of the presidency.

It is pointed out that the Republicans have a majority of less than 30 in the present house of representatives and that a change of 15 votes would give the house to the Democrats.

It is known that the Democrats are figuring upon gains in the congressional districts of Pennsylvania.

Colonel Guffey and his associates in the management of the Democratic machine have been boasting to the Tammany leaders in New York that they will have a gain of half a dozen congressmen in this state, and they have persuaded the party managers to put up a liberal campaign fund to put their plans into operation.

They are talking of carrying the Luzerne, Lackawanna and Schuylkill districts in the anthracite coal regions, and are predicting as absolutely certain to go Democratic the York-Adams district, the Berks-Lehigh district, the Northampton - Monroe - Pike - Carbon district and the Northumberland-Columbia-Montour district, and one or two others.

The Democrats are always hopeful, particularly in national campaigns, but this time they seem to be unusually aggressive. This fact has made the Republican leaders determined to leave nothing undone to rouse the Republican committeemen and others throughout the commonwealth and have them put forward their best efforts to thwart the Democratic plans.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, who is in charge at the Republican state headquarters in Philadelphia during the temporary absence of Chairman Penrose, wrote to a friend in this city a few days ago saying that it is Senator Penrose's intention to work to offset every move of the Democracy and to labor to keep their representation down to the lowest point possible.

The Democrats now have three members of the house from Pennsylvania—Kline, of Lehigh; Schull, of Monroe; and Dickerson, of Northumberland.

Senator Penrose believes that he will be able to hold them down to three members, and he may succeed in cutting them down to two.

This will require a vast amount of work and the expenditure of much energy in lining up the party workers to get the Republican voters out on election day.

The greatest danger to the Republican cause will be in the apathy of the voters. It is difficult to make Republicans in Pennsylvania believe that there is any Democratic party in this state, but time and again the minority party has succeeded in electing members of congress through Republican indifference or over-confidence.

It is not intended that this shall be permitted in the present canvass. An effective organization will be formed in every debatable congressional district, and a corps of trained orators will be available to address mass meetings to be arranged for by the chairman of the several county committees.

That $41,000,000 deficit ought not to keep Mr. Henry Gassaway Davis awake nights. He is good for more than half that sum himself.

Mr. Henry G. Davis forgot to mention that the $41,000,000 deficit is due to payment of $50,000,000 for the Panama Canal. Would he have us infer that he is not in favor of the Canal?
