The "Vindication" Cry.

It must be exceedingly discouraging to the Independent to perceive, as its acuteness must necessarily perceive, that its persistent attempts to awaken enthusiasm for Mr. Blumle by raising the cry for vindication, are meeting with such utter want of success. The Independent has attempted a task which an abler and more resourceful organ than itself would find impossible to perform.

The Independent is ordinarily very acute, but sometimes it does fatuous things. Of all the fatuous things that it has ever done, the most fatuous was its attempt to serve Mr. Blumle by publishing in its columns the bulk of the testimony taken before the legislative committee of investigation two years ago. The Independent thought that by publishing this testimony it would be made to appear that Mr. Mullin was as deep in the mud as was Mr. Blumle in the mire, and that therefore it was an act of injustice to give Mr. Blumle's seat to Mr. Mullin.

The practical net result of the publication of this testimony has been to convince nearly every one that Mr. Blumle, for his part, conducted a corrupt and illegal campaign. Even those whose strong partisanship, or those whose general distrust of the manner in which legislative contests are often decided, has led them to disapprove of the seating of Mr. Mullin, will not for a moment contend that Mr. Blumle conducted an immaculate campaign, or anything approaching to it.

free from the slightest taint of political corruption, that his canvasses have been a model of all that the most exacting political reformer could ask. The public know that all this is simply not true. The public, even that portion of it which is not friendly to Mr. Mullin, are aware of the character of the methods used by Mr. Blumle in his campaigns. The public know that Mr. Blumle, using such methods, has twice enjoyed the honors and emoluments of the office of Assemblyman. The general sentiment consequently is that Mr. Blumle has fared exceedingly well, and that it is asking too much to demand a third term merely for the sake of "vindication." Cameron county will think twice and three times before it will turn down a man of the character of Mr. Josiah Howard merely for the sake of "vindication" a man whose methods of campaigning are so open to criticism as have been those of Mr. Blumle.

The Democratic Conception of Liberty

In our article commending Mr. Howard's speech of acceptance we remarked incidentally that "the conception of liberty which the Democratic party has always cherished is that of mere absence of restraint. This statement has given offense to one of the Independent's assistant editors because it was not properly understood. We did not say that the Democratic party desires the absolute realization of its conception of liberty, in other words that it aims to abolish all forms of restraint. A good Democrat is as law abiding as is a good Republican; and we have no doubt that if Parker should be elected, peace and order will be maintained.

Thomas Jefferson, while recognizing the necessity of government for the maintenance of order, nevertheless stood forth as the champion of liberty rather than of law. There is greater danger, he thought, of law overriding liberty than there is of liberty overturning law. He therefore set himself to keep the functions of government down to the lowest possible notch consistent with the demands of public order. Within certain limits his principle was that the less of government there is the greater liberty there is. He regarded government in the light of a restraint upon liberty, necessary to some extent, indeed, but still a restraint. No one can understand the principles which underlie the history of the Democratic party without grasping this fundamental fact, that the Democratic party—the party of Jefferson, not of Bryan—stands for the narrowest practicable limitations of the powers and functions of government.

EDITORIAL MENTION.

The man who has not patriotism enough to give up a half day for the sake of voting without being paid for his time, is a contemptible specimen of humankind and is unworthy of the right to vote.

The man whose political support can be purchased for half a dollar with which to buy drinks is as low down in the scale of humanity as he can go. There are a few of his kind in the county and they are not going to vote for Howard or for Bardwell.

The Independent has come out flat-footed against the evil influences of the saloon in social life. This is commendable, but it would be more to the point just at present were it to come out flat-footed against the evil influences of the saloon in county politics.

Mr. Blumle is either not serious in professing to be a Jeffersonian Democrat or else he is ignorant of the very A. B. C. of Jeffersonian Democracy. It was the policy of Jefferson to keep the functions of government down to the lowest possible notch, interfering to the least possible extent with the private affairs of the people. Such a socialistic measure as Mr. Blumle introduced into the last legislature at Harrisburg would have been denounced and repudiated by Thomas Jefferson as utterly at odds with the true functions of government as understood by him. Between the reader and ourselves and our inkbottle, we believe that some naughty reporters from Philadelphia jollied Mr. Blumle into introducing his notorious bill.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and dispendency. They cannot, as a rule, get ride of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. 48-y.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a good convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite, if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by L. Taggart.

A Miraculous Escape.

A miraculous escape was made by a prominent citizen by not putting off but by taking in time that splendid remedy, Thompson's Barosma, Backache, Kidney and Liver Cure. Thompson's Barosma reduces all the inflammation, neutralizes the acid and dissolves gravel, carrying off all matter that is poisonous to the blood, stomach, heart, kidneys and liver. It is purely vegetable, pleasant to take and guaranteed to cure. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

"A few days ago I was induced to buy a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I have taken part of them and feel a great deal better." If you have any trouble with your stomach try a box of these Tablets. You are certain to be pleased with the result. Price 25 cents. For sale by L. Taggart.

Rheumatism Neuralgia

To these two diseases probably mankind owes more suffering than to all others combined. While neither is ordinarily perilous, nevertheless Rheumatism lays the foundation for heart disease and Neuralgia leads to the morphine and opium habits. No matter how mild the case may be these troubles should never be neglected. A reliable remedy applied promptly will prevent endless pain and many sleepless nights.

Is such a remedy. Its use will bring instant relief in all cases and final cure in the great majority. Hamlin's Wizard Oil has cured thousands of people from all parts of the world. It can do the same for you.

Whitley, Tex. I have had Rheumatism for ten years and was nearly helpless. I tried several remedies and found no relief. I tried Hamlin's Wizard Oil and one bottle cured me. Mrs. KATZ BETTY.
