

EMPORIUM MILLING COMPANY.

PRICE LIST. Emporium, Pa., October 24, 1904. NEMOPHILA, per sack, $1.65. Felt's Fancy, 1.75. Pet Grove, 1.85. Graham, 1.85. Buckwheat, 1.75. Patent Meal, 1.50. Coarse Meal, per 100, 1.35. Chop Feed, 1.35. Middlings, Fancy, 1.45. Bran, 1.25. Corn, per bushel, 75. White Oats, per bushel, 48. New Oats, 48. Chicken Wheat, 1.65. Choice Clover Seed, 1.00. Choice Timothy Seed, 1.00. Choice Millet Seed, 1.00. Fancy Kentucky Blue Grass, 1.00.

R. C. DODSON, THE Druggist, EMPORIUM, PA.

IS LOCATED IN THE CORNER STORE At Fourth and Chestnut Sts..

R. C. DODSON. Telephone, 19-2.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Contributions invited. That which you would like to see in this department, let us know by postal card or letter, personally.

Mr. Geo. Webber and wife visited in Buffalo this week.

Fred Kaye returned from Westboro, Wis., this morning.

Master Whitely Howard and Miss Katie Best are visiting at Shenandoah, Pa.

Mrs. H. W. Good returned last Friday from an extended visit to Allentown.

Dr. H. W. Good and John A. Johnston visited Buffalo and Niagara Falls yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Cramer and Miss Lena Evans, left on Tuesday to visit Buffalo and Rochester.

George Hurteau's little child has been dangerously ill the past few days, but is better now.

Thomas McCaslin is now employed as book-keeper in Emporium Milling Company's office.

Mr. W. H. Outman, of Westfield, Pa., is assisting R. C. Dodson in his pharmaceutical work.

Mrs. Hogarth, of Smethport, has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thad. F. More during the past week.

Jas. R. Batchelder, of Wyside, was attending court on Monday and hastily called on the PRESS.

John Montgomery has returned from Philadelphia Hospital. We regret we cannot report any improvement in his condition.

The Rev. F. S. Spalding, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Erie, has been elected missionary bishop of Salt Lake by the General Convention.

Mrs. Ed. Pierce, of Oil City, has been visiting her parents, Hon. and Mrs. N. P. Minard near this place. She returned home yesterday.

Ora Odell, who resides near the Junction, has been seriously ill for several days with heart trouble. Dr. Bardwell is attending him and reports improvement.

J. Vine Hanscom, of Sinnamahoning, an all around good fellow and reliable Republican, attended court on Monday. We appreciate a call from our old friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Trotter, who have been visiting at Corry for several weeks, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. McInnes Sr., who is visiting here for a time.

Mrs. D. W. Ensign and Miss Grace Ensign of town, accompanied by Miss Mabel Edwards, teacher of First Fork School, were PRESS callers last Thursday, examining into the mysteries of the "art preservative."

Geo. W. Gentry, Sam'l Hicks, Jos. Kissell and John J. Schwab, of Lumber, while attending Teachers' Institute last Thursday, honored the PRESS with a visit. We appreciate the call of such gentlemen. Call again, friends.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bair and daughter Cordelia, who have been visiting at Williamsport for several days, returned home on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Bair, who went after them. Their handsome little daughter is quite ill, we regret to mention.

Miss Grace Walker has returned home from visiting in New York.

E. E. Forbes continues to make extensive repairs to his residence.

H. R. Manett and wife of Danville, Pa., arrived in town last Sunday to attend court.

Miss Anna Garrity went to St. Marys Thursday, to visit her sister, Mrs. Philip Dixon.

A new boy has hung up its coat at Edward Blinzler's home, in time to vote for Teddy.

Thomas Dougherty, of Warren, Pa., is guest of his mother and brother James J., at this place.

J. W. Trotter, one of C. B. Howard Company's bookkeepers, was a PRESS business caller yesterday.

J. Harve Drum, of Sinnamahoning, one of Grove's best citizens, was a welcome PRESS visitor last Thursday.

Miss Alice May Horton, teacher of East Ward C. Intermediate School, was a PRESS business caller on Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Seger has returned from Bristol, W. Va., and is now busy preparing to commence housekeeping in the cozy Climax rooms on Fourth street.

Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Heilman contemplate a visit to Buffalo in the near future. Mrs. Heilman's health has been failing during the past year and they wish to consult Dr. Stockton as to her condition.

Mrs. Frank L. Miller and son Clark, of First Fork, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leavitt, yesterday. The young man, accompanied by Mr. Leavitt, were PRESS visitors last evening.

Mrs. R. C. Potter, of Lumber, presents her editor with a jug of delicious sweet cider of her own manufacture. We shall drink to the health of this energetic lady on her 55 anniversary to be celebrated at her home next Saturday. May she live long and prosper.

The Cleveland Ladies Orchestra.

The Cleveland Ladies Orchestra, with which the Institute series of evening entertainments closed, abundantly made good its reputation as a high class musical organization. The ensemble work was most excellent giving evidence of thorough training and of the mastery of each performer of her particular instrument. While the trombone and cornet solos and the brass quartet were meritorious and gave pleasure to all as the liberal applause attested, it was when they played together that the delight of the audience was most apparent.

The audience which was a very large one was profuse in its expressions of appreciation of the efforts of Miss Collins to provide attractions of the excellence and expensiveness of this one.

Our Funny Neighbor.

General Manager Mr. Hockley says Mr. Blumle will vote to tax the State on its unseated lands.

Funny Mr. Blumle never thought of this before and is afraid to say so himself now.

Pray, Mr. Supt. Hockley, what else will Mr. Blumle vote for? Will he also vote to levy a mercantile tax on Uncle Sam for selling postage stamps, and will he pass a law allowing the Borough to tax the Court House?

"Funny" is a word in Webster's Dictionary but means just "funny" in this case.

"Democrat, Democrat, Blumle man. Name me your issues as fast as you can; Money or tariff or mere vindication, Publish it out to the Country and Nation.

The New Warner office and dining room are as handsome as any to be seen in the cities.

Howard's pencil will be useful long after election and in his tin cup colored material can only hide his name, but cannot rub it out.

The ladies of Presbyt. rian church will serve dinner and supper in the basement of the new church, Tuesday, Nov. 8th, from 12 to one and from five until all are served.

G. S. Wrightnour, the photographer, who has been making photo post cards and gem pictures in Renovo for the past six weeks, left Wednesday for Emporium, Pa. He met with remarkable success during his stay here, making 12,080 photos, which is over two for each inhabitant. The people of Renovo were greatly pleased with the work which is proven by the quantity. The Record wishes Mr. Wrightnour well deserved success.—Renovo Record.

"Mobs are evidences of a spirit of liberty," says Senator Tillman. It will be remembered that Senator Tillman achieved a reputation for conservatism at the St. Louis convention.

Geo. W. Gentry, Sam'l Hicks, Jos. Kissell and John J. Schwab, of Lumber, while attending Teachers' Institute last Thursday, honored the PRESS with a visit. We appreciate the call of such gentlemen. Call again, friends.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bair and daughter Cordelia, who have been visiting at Williamsport for several days, returned home on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Bair, who went after them. Their handsome little daughter is quite ill, we regret to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Trotter, who have been visiting at Corry for several weeks, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. McInnes Sr., who is visiting here for a time.

Mrs. D. W. Ensign and Miss Grace Ensign of town, accompanied by Miss Mabel Edwards, teacher of First Fork School, were PRESS callers last Thursday, examining into the mysteries of the "art preservative."

Geo. W. Gentry, Sam'l Hicks, Jos. Kissell and John J. Schwab, of Lumber, while attending Teachers' Institute last Thursday, honored the PRESS with a visit. We appreciate the call of such gentlemen. Call again, friends.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bair and daughter Cordelia, who have been visiting at Williamsport for several days, returned home on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Bair, who went after them. Their handsome little daughter is quite ill, we regret to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Trotter, who have been visiting at Corry for several weeks, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. McInnes Sr., who is visiting here for a time.

Mrs. D. W. Ensign and Miss Grace Ensign of town, accompanied by Miss Mabel Edwards, teacher of First Fork School, were PRESS callers last Thursday, examining into the mysteries of the "art preservative."

Geo. W. Gentry, Sam'l Hicks, Jos. Kissell and John J. Schwab, of Lumber, while attending Teachers' Institute last Thursday, honored the PRESS with a visit. We appreciate the call of such gentlemen. Call again, friends.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bair and daughter Cordelia, who have been visiting at Williamsport for several days, returned home on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Bair, who went after them. Their handsome little daughter is quite ill, we regret to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Trotter, who have been visiting at Corry for several weeks, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. McInnes Sr., who is visiting here for a time.

Mrs. D. W. Ensign and Miss Grace Ensign of town, accompanied by Miss Mabel Edwards, teacher of First Fork School, were PRESS callers last Thursday, examining into the mysteries of the "art preservative."

Geo. W. Gentry, Sam'l Hicks, Jos. Kissell and John J. Schwab, of Lumber, while attending Teachers' Institute last Thursday, honored the PRESS with a visit. We appreciate the call of such gentlemen. Call again, friends.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bair and daughter Cordelia, who have been visiting at Williamsport for several days, returned home on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Bair, who went after them. Their handsome little daughter is quite ill, we regret to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Trotter, who have been visiting at Corry for several weeks, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. McInnes Sr., who is visiting here for a time.

Mrs. D. W. Ensign and Miss Grace Ensign of town, accompanied by Miss Mabel Edwards, teacher of First Fork School, were PRESS callers last Thursday, examining into the mysteries of the "art preservative."

Geo. W. Gentry, Sam'l Hicks, Jos. Kissell and John J. Schwab, of Lumber, while attending Teachers' Institute last Thursday, honored the PRESS with a visit. We appreciate the call of such gentlemen. Call again, friends.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bair and daughter Cordelia, who have been visiting at Williamsport for several days, returned home on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Bair, who went after them. Their handsome little daughter is quite ill, we regret to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Trotter, who have been visiting at Corry for several weeks, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. McInnes Sr., who is visiting here for a time.

Mrs. D. W. Ensign and Miss Grace Ensign of town, accompanied by Miss Mabel Edwards, teacher of First Fork School, were PRESS callers last Thursday, examining into the mysteries of the "art preservative."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Oct. 22nd, 1904.

A new turn has been given to the Democratic campaign by Senator Culberson's sensational attempt to revive the Panama issue.

At one-thirty the meeting was formally opened at the Court House by County Superintendent, Mattie M. Collins. A short prayer was offered by Rev. O. S. Metzler and Prof. Ling of Emporium, conducted the singing which followed.

The first instruction was given by Prof. Harry F. Stauffer, of Millville, N. J., formerly of this place. He reported his observations on the teaching of reading and other work in a Brooklyn school. His talk dealt with the methods employed there and practical suggestions for adopting them to ungraded schools. Talks of an introductory nature were given by Prof. J. George Becht of Clarion and Prof. Warren Darst of Ada, Ohio. Prof. Becht talked on the subject, "Right Views in Education," in which he emphasized the fact that education is a process of adjustment to our environment.

Tuesday's session was opened by a prayer by the Rev. J. M. Robertson. After roll call Prof. Charles J. Conell of California, Pa., took up the work of instruction in music.

"Rational Discipline" was a subject most interestingly discussed by Prof. Becht. Instead of suggesting individual methods for the various cases of misconduct, he explained impossible it is to make one rule or principle fit all cases and argued that classical methods for the disposition of each pupil so that a remedy can be applied to each individual.

Prof. Darst gave an interesting and instructive talk on Shakespeare's "Macbeth," illustrating the development of step by step of wicked ambition and the agony of the soul as a result. It is to be regretted that Prof. Darst did not have time to treat the whole play with the thoroughness which he practiced in the first stage of the tragedy.

Prof. Stauffer continued his talk on "Observations." This one dealt with the teaching of Arithmetic in the East Orange, N. J., schools. Rapid accurate work was sought rather than method of solution in working problems, and the results showed satisfactory attainments. The progress made there was helped by special advantages which are not in reach of the common school, so the advance made by these pupils cannot be taken as a fair standard for ungraded schools.

Prof. Darst gave an experimental lecture on the subject "Stages of Growth," using devices in the subject of English. He showed how the facts by observation, elaboration or organization and expression. He clearly showed how rules and principles may be interestingly developed by observation and simple reasoning. Likewise all knowledge must be acquired in a logical order.

Prof. Becht began a series of talks on "Applied Psychology," showing the value of this fascinating study in practical life and education, and how little tangles in discipline can be easily straightened by a keen study of human nature. The essentials to understanding another's feelings or motives is to put one's self in the other person's place, thinking from the other's viewpoint as nearly as possible.

Prof. Becht conducted the devotional services Wednesday morning and Prof. Cornell varied the work in Music by a talk on the value of musical instruction in the schools, urging that classical music should be as familiar to boys and girls as the common school.

Prof. Stauffer talked on the subject, "Primary Language Work." No instruction could be more helpful to children in their school work than the excellent ideas he presented are not put into practice, the children of Cameron county will miss a splendid opportunity in this line of development. Among the many good things which his guiding principle should be pasted in every language teacher's hat: "Work for original expression and simple reasoning."

Prof. Becht talked on the subject of "Devices in Teaching." He emphasized the importance of keeping the children busy and toward this end he suggested that the teacher should accomplish this. He also gave several good devices for aiding the memory.

After the noon intermission, Prof. Cornell gave instruction in the "Teaching of Music." Prof. Becht again talked on "Applied Psychology," treating the subject of instincts. He showed how love, ambition, imitation, emulation and so forth, can be turned to good account in discipline and by working on that instinct which is predominant in the child, power to govern can be developed.

Prof. Cornell favored the Institute with a solo, "Lock Lomond." For an encore he sang, "Twenty Years Ago." Then made by Professors Sweeney, Superintendent of Elk county and Lynch, Principal of St. Marys schools.

Prof. Darst opened the "Tragedy of Revenge," as developed in Milton's "Paradise Lost." His treatment of this great epic brought out the sublime intensity of feeling that is characteristic of Milton, and the steps in the tragedy as recorded in the poem.

The Rev. L. B. Twichell conducted the opening exercises on Thursday morning. Prof. Cornell continued the instruction in music.

Prof. Stauffer discussed "The Teacher and his Class," giving practical advice as to the attitude of the teacher and the child in the presence of class work. He laid stress upon the fact that the teacher should make definite preparation for each recitation.

Prof. Becht discussed the importance of cultivating the imagination, or wonder power. Lack of imaginative power causes lack of appreciation of beauty.

Song by the Institute was next in order and it was interesting to note the improvement that was wrought by Prof. Cornell.

Miss Maude Willis, of the Lock Haven Normal, talked on the "Teaching of Reading," as she had observed in a western school. The method was good because it brought out original expression. Miss Willis favored the Institute with a selection which was well received.

Prof. Darst spoke on the "Opportunities of the Teacher in carrying out the idea touched on by Prof. Becht, namely: the importance of the development of the imaginative side of the child and bringing out individual ideas by careful study of each child."

Prof. Becht gave the "Address to Directors." There was a fair representation of their present and the interest manifested reflects credit upon the men who have charge of our schools.

Prof. Darst talked on Tennyson's "Guinevere," showing the development of the stages in tragedy of voluptuousness. The treatment was masterly and more than a passing interest in this grand poem was aroused.

Miss Willis spoke on the subject, "Interpretation." It is an old conceit how the training of the imagination was emphasized during these sessions. Miss Willis stated that the person of greatest imagination powers receives the greatest pleasure from a master piece. Ability to imagine the setting of a piece adds much to the enjoyment of it. Miss Willis gave a reading, entitled "King Robert of Cely."

The Institute met at 8:30 on Friday morning and Prof. Cornell gave his final instruction. He talked on the "Lives of the Great Composers and the Beauty of their Works."

Devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. J. A. Sypher, of the Methodist church.

Prof. Darst gave his farewell talk and urged the teachers to get the children interested and then work to bring out the things that they have been endowed with. Prof. Darst has a pleasing way of speaking and everyone enjoyed his instruction.

Prof. Becht concluded this work by talking on "Habit in Education." He showed how habit

lightens both the work of teacher and pupil when the best habits have been found.

Prof. Cornell next favored the Institute with a solo.

Miss Willis talked on the importance of obtaining good expression, both vocal and physical, giving as an illustration the work of Desarte. She emphasized the fact that it is necessary for the teacher to be an example, to obtain good results.

Prof. Ling, chairman of the Committee on Courses of Reading reported the following for this year:

Art of Teaching, White, Vol. 1, Morsen's Ancient History, Glimpses of Longfellow, Miss Corson.

The following local educational meetings will be held during the coming winter: Sinnamahoning, December; Driftwood, January; Emporium, February. Exact dates will be published later.

The Committee on Resolutions presented the following which were unanimously adopted:

1. In view of the fact that the body of teachers have manifested a deep interest in the purpose of the Institute, be it resolved, That they should be appreciated for imbibing the spirit of the instructors.

2. The instructors have been whole-souled and up-to-date in their work. He it therefore resolved, individually and collectively, that we commend them for their high standard of imparting help.

3. Resolved, That we thank Miss Collins for attentive work in the capacity as County Superintendent.

4. Resolved, That we express our thanks to the ministers, and all other friends of education who have in any way shown their good will toward the Institute, and we also return thanks for the greetings received from Potter county and Lock Haven.

5. Realizing the affliction that comes occasionally through losing a friend, resolved, That we all join in expressing our sympathy to Superintendent Miss Collins in her recent sorrow.

D. D. STROUP, CLARA B. MAC CLOSKEY, MAHAN LARA BEE, LAURA WAGNER, Committee.

Institute adjourned at 12 m., Friday, Oct. 21. MILFORD HALLMAN, Sec'y.

Minutes of Teachers' Institute.

The thirty-eighth annual session of the Cameron County Teachers' Institute, opened on Monday, October 17th, 1904, with practically a full attendance from the beginning.

At one-thirty the meeting was formally opened at the Court House by County Superintendent, Mattie M. Collins. A short prayer was offered by Rev. O. S. Metzler and Prof. Ling of Emporium, conducted the singing which followed.

Minutes of Teachers' Institute.

The thirty-eighth annual session of the Cameron County Teachers' Institute, opened on Monday, October 17th, 1904, with practically a full attendance from the beginning.

At one-thirty the meeting was formally opened at the Court House by County Superintendent, Mattie M. Collins. A short prayer was offered by Rev. O. S. Metzler and Prof. Ling of Emporium, conducted the singing which followed.

The first instruction was given by Prof. Harry F. Stauffer, of Millville, N. J., formerly of this place. He reported his observations on the teaching of reading and other work in a Brooklyn school. His talk dealt with the methods employed there and practical suggestions for adopting them to ungraded schools. Talks of an introductory nature were given by Prof. J. George Becht of Clarion and Prof. Warren Darst of Ada, Ohio. Prof. Becht talked on the subject, "Right Views in Education," in which he emphasized the fact that education is a process of adjustment to our environment.

Tuesday's session was opened by a prayer by the Rev. J. M. Robertson. After roll call Prof. Charles J. Conell of California, Pa., took up the work of instruction in music.

"Rational Discipline" was a subject most interestingly discussed by Prof. Becht. Instead of suggesting individual methods for the various cases of misconduct, he explained impossible it is to make one rule or principle fit all cases and argued that classical methods for the disposition of each pupil so that a remedy can be applied to each individual.

Prof. Darst gave an interesting and instructive talk on Shakespeare's "Macbeth," illustrating the development of step by step of wicked ambition and the agony of the soul as a result. It is to be regretted that Prof. Darst did not have time to treat the whole play with the thoroughness which he practiced in the first stage of the tragedy.

Prof. Stauffer continued his talk on "Observations." This one dealt with the teaching of Arithmetic in the East Orange, N. J., schools. Rapid accurate work was sought rather than method of solution in working problems, and the results showed satisfactory attainments. The progress made there was helped by special advantages which are not in reach of the common school, so the advance made by these pupils cannot be taken as a fair standard for ungraded schools.

Prof. Darst gave an experimental lecture on the subject "Stages of Growth," using devices in the subject of English. He showed how the facts by observation, elaboration or organization and expression. He clearly showed how rules and principles may be interestingly developed by observation and simple reasoning. Likewise all knowledge must be acquired in a logical order.

Prof. Becht began a series of talks on "Applied Psychology," showing the value of this fascinating study in practical life and education, and how little tangles in discipline can be easily straightened by a keen study of human nature. The essentials to understanding another's feelings or motives is to put one's self in the other person's place, thinking from the other's viewpoint as nearly as possible.

Prof. Becht conducted the devotional services Wednesday morning and Prof. Cornell varied the work in Music by a talk on the value of musical instruction in the schools, urging that classical music should be as familiar to boys and girls as the common school.

Prof. Stauffer talked on the subject, "Primary Language Work." No instruction could be more helpful to children in their school work than the excellent ideas he presented are not put into practice, the children of Cameron county will miss a splendid opportunity in this line of development. Among the many good things which his guiding principle should be pasted in every language teacher's hat: "Work for original expression and simple reasoning."

Prof. Becht talked on the subject of "Devices in Teaching." He emphasized the importance of keeping the children busy and toward this end he suggested that the teacher should accomplish this. He also gave several good devices for aiding the memory.

After the noon intermission, Prof. Cornell gave instruction in the "Teaching of Music." Prof. Becht again talked on "Applied Psychology," treating the subject of instincts. He showed how love, ambition, imitation, emulation and so forth, can be turned to good account in discipline and by working on that instinct which is predominant in the child, power to govern can be developed.

Prof. Cornell favored the Institute with a solo, "Lock Lomond." For an encore he sang, "Twenty Years Ago." Then made by Professors Sweeney, Superintendent of Elk county and Lynch, Principal of St. Marys schools.

Prof. Darst opened the "Tragedy of Revenge," as developed in Milton's "Paradise Lost." His treatment of this great epic brought out the sublime intensity of feeling that is characteristic of Milton, and the steps in the tragedy as recorded in the poem.

The Rev. L. B. Twichell conducted the opening exercises on Thursday morning. Prof. Cornell continued the instruction in music.

Prof. Stauffer discussed "The Teacher and his Class," giving practical advice as to the attitude of the teacher and the child in the presence of class work. He laid stress upon the fact that the teacher should make definite preparation for each recitation.

Prof. Becht discussed the importance of cultivating the imagination, or wonder power. Lack of imaginative power causes lack of appreciation of beauty.

Song by the Institute was next in order and it was interesting to note the improvement that was wrought by Prof. Cornell.

Miss Maude Willis, of the Lock Haven Normal, talked on the "Teaching of Reading," as she had observed in a western school. The method was good because it brought out original expression. Miss Willis favored the Institute with a selection which was well received.

Prof. Darst spoke on the "Opportunities of the Teacher in carrying out the idea touched on by Prof. Becht, namely: the importance of the development of the imaginative side of the child and bringing out individual ideas by careful study of each child."

Prof. Becht gave the "Address to Directors." There was a fair representation of their present and the interest manifested reflects credit upon the men who have charge of our schools.

Prof. Darst talked on Tennyson's "Guinevere," showing the development of the stages in tragedy of voluptuousness. The treatment was masterly and more than a passing interest in this grand poem was aroused.

Miss Willis spoke on the subject, "Interpretation." It is an old conceit how the training of the imagination was emphasized during these sessions. Miss Willis stated that the person of greatest imagination powers receives the greatest pleasure from a master piece. Ability to imagine the setting of a piece adds much to the enjoyment of it. Miss Willis gave a reading, entitled "King Robert of Cely."

The Institute met at 8:30 on Friday morning and Prof. Cornell gave his final instruction. He talked on the "Lives of the Great Composers and the Beauty of their Works."

Devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. J. A. Sypher, of the Methodist church.

Prof. Darst gave his farewell talk and urged the teachers to get the children interested and then work to bring out the things that they have been endowed with. Prof. Darst has a pleasing way of speaking and everyone enjoyed his instruction.

Prof. Becht concluded this work by talking on "Habit in Education." He showed how habit

lightens both the work of teacher and pupil when the best habits have been found.

Prof. Cornell next favored the Institute with a solo.

Miss Willis talked on the importance of obtaining good expression, both vocal and physical, giving as an illustration the work of Desarte. She emphasized the fact that it is necessary for the teacher to be an example, to obtain good results.

Prof. Ling, chairman of the Committee on Courses of Reading reported the following for this year:

Art of Teaching, White, Vol. 1, Morsen's Ancient History, Glimpses of Longfellow, Miss Corson.

The following local educational meetings will be held during the coming winter: Sinnamahoning, December; Driftwood, January; Emporium, February. Exact dates will be published later.

The Committee on Resolutions presented the following which were unanimously adopted:

1. In view of the fact that the body of teachers have manifested a deep interest in the purpose of the Institute, be it resolved, That they should be appreciated for imbibing the spirit of the instructors.

2. The instructors have been whole-souled and up-to-date in their work. He it therefore resolved, individually and collectively, that we commend them for their high standard of imparting help.

3. Resolved, That we thank Miss Collins for attentive work in the capacity as County Superintendent.

4. Resolved, That we express our thanks to the ministers, and all other friends of education who have in any way shown their good will toward the Institute, and we also return thanks for the greetings received from Potter county and Lock Haven.

5. Realizing the affliction that comes occasionally through losing a friend, resolved, That we all join in expressing our sympathy to Superintendent Miss Collins in her recent sorrow.

D. D. STROUP, CLARA B. MAC CLOSKEY, MAHAN LARA BEE, LAURA WAGNER, Committee.

Institute adjourned at 12 m., Friday, Oct. 21. MILFORD HALLMAN, Sec'y.

Minutes of Teachers' Institute.

The thirty-eighth annual session of the Cameron County Teachers' Institute, opened on Monday, October 17th,