WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, Nov. 12th, 1904.

There are three roses on the Roosevelt coat of arms. They are not displayed as symbols of secrecy as was the custom with the ancients for no man is more outspoken and above board than the President. The day after election the leading business men of Washington thronged the White House to congratulate its occupant, and each of them brought a rose, until Mr. Roosevelt found his arms full—just as four years ago great bunches of carnations were given to President McKinley. Among the callers on Wednesday was the aged widow of Gen. Anderson, of Fort Sumter fame, with a big bunch of the heraldic flowers in her hands. The President hastened to her carriage to save her the trouble of alighting. The contrast between the two was worthy of note. Mr. Roosevelt could hardly have been more than two years of age when the husband of this woman was heroically defending the fort under his command. When your correspondent first made the acquaintance of Mrs. Gen. Anderson, she was a guest at Cranston's famous New York Hotel, which was long since disappeared from Broadway in the great city. Then she was handsome, vivacious and in the full vigor of middle life, with dark hair and eyes. Now she is gray, wan and feeble. These little home incidents show in what estimation the President is held by his neighbors.

The telegrams of congratulation which have been pouring into the White House, over ten thousand in number, are stacked up in piles two feet high. The one which the President says touched him the most came from the widow of President McKinley. The most remarkable telegram was from the Emperor of Germany. The first message of congratulation to arrive, as early as half past eight o'clock, came from Judge Parker! The news of the Roosevelt landslide came first to the President's ears from one of his sons while he was at dinner. The boy had been watching for the returns in the Executive offices; he outran the messenger and burst into the dining room with, "Pop! You've carried New York by a big majority!"

Everywhere in Washington folks are asking each other how it happened? All admit that the President's personality was one of the most potent factors in winning the election. He impresses all whom he comes in contact, as being sincere, honest, purposeful, resourceful and intelligent as well as gentlemanly. Besides these characteristics he has the courage of his convictions, and no man needs it more than the President of the United States. The day after the election flags were displayed from private houses in all parts of the city; a general feeling of relief was experienced that the great contest has passed peacefully away without disturbing business of embittering sections. The coming inauguration is now talked about, and it is admitted that it will be one of the largest and most impressive ever seen in Washington. Word comes from Cleveland, Ohio, of the purpose of a regiment in that city to participate and your correspondent learns that a regiment from Boston, which participated in the September Manassas maneuvers, will leave on a special train March 1st, 1905 for this city.

Drove of Deer.

Harry Sprung, Bert Shoupe and others met a drove of ten deer, while hunting at Dents Run. They captured three deer and a doe.

A Woodchuck's Winter.

The woodchuck always gathers and stores away food all the spring, summer and autumn, but he stores it away in his own body—in other words, he eats it, says an exchange. And he eats so much that by fall he is as fat as a pig. Then when he has dug for himself a long winding borrow, and made at the end of it a snug nest of leavers or grass, all he has to do is to block the entrance with earth and leaves and curl up in his bed and sleep until the spring, when he comes out little more than a bag of bones.

Star Course Chart.

The chart for the Star Course series of entertainments will open at Lloyd's book store, Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 7 a. m. Seats will be assigned in the order applied for, but no person will be permitted to reserve more than six seats. It will be the purpose of the management to treat all patrons with equal and absolute fairness and the fact that all seats in the court room are for entertainment purposes most excellent, should allay any anxiety lest the accommodation desired be not secured.

Liberal Advertising.

HOW IT MADE A BUSY MART OF A GRAVEYARD CORNER.

Plenty of thinking business men who read of the successes of merchants in cities realize that the foundation of every successful merchandising project is printer's ink. Yet these same business men—many of them—fail to grasp the idea sufficiently to benefit themselves. They either cannot write an advertisement or think they can't, or else they lack the nerve to invest the money in newspaper space, circulars and other printed matter and are unwilling to wait the results that are sure to follow persistent and consistent advertising methods.

We find in nearly every village plenty of business men who are willing to invest in all sorts of outside speculations. They will take a throw at far-away mining ventures and stock speculations. Promoters find it easy to interest them in most any kind of a speculation that figures out a profit on paper. Yet these same business men will refuse to invest more than $50, $100 or possibly $200 yearly in printer's ink. Many of them never spend a dollar in advertising, yet they should realize that there is no way in which they might invest money to yield a greater profit and no way more certain to make money than to invest it in newspaper space and other plans of legitimate publicity wherein printer's ink is employed.

These things are frequently brought home to us, and in no way has the success of a business been so forcibly demonstrated to a community by the judicious and liberal use of printer's ink than in the upbuilding and successful conduct of the business of the Ottawa Store company, that last week closed a successful career of six and a half years of merchandising in Ottawa.

Mr. D. D. Gayman, the owner of the business, realized when he began business here in the spring of 1883 that he must invest money liberally in printer's ink, and for the first two years he spent $150 a month in advertising.—Ottawa (O.) Gazette.

The Christmas Delineator.

The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed to every home. The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of Love Songs from the Wagner Operas, Rendered into English by Richard de Galliene and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the composers' Series, relating the romance of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describes some unique phases of Washington social life from an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of F. Hopkinson Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmore Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum and Grace MacGowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needle work and the cookery pages are redolent of the Christmas feast. In addition, there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to woman's interests within and without the home.

BRIEF MENTION.

A wreck at Huntley on Monday delayed all trains.

The brick work on Geo. J. LaBar's new building is completed.

A good pastry cook can secure a permanent position by applying at New Warner at once.

Don't forget the Bowling Match tonight at James Creighton's bowling room. Admission, 25c.

The next foot ball game will be between Ridgway and Emporium, Nov. 26th. Remember the date.

One thousand voters in Lycoming county, like many in Cameron, placed the X in the Presidential Elector box.

Numerous parties are laying stone walks in front of their properties. Hemlock walks are rapidly disappearing.

Harry Johnson was killed at Ridgway on Saturday while attempting to jump on a freight train. It is a wonder more boys are not killed or maimed for life. Hardly a train passes Emporium without a number of town boys jumping it.

St. Sautelle has sold his circus to J. T. McCaddon. Sautelle named his own price, which was somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000. The property will be transferred to Paris where he will establish a permanent American circus.

The borough authorities should see to it that refuse matter such as potato peelings, dishwater, tin cans, etc., are not thrown on our public thoroughfares. We are sorry to say this is being done in some parts of town and is extremely dangerous to the health of the community.

Every department of the Renovo shops is rushed with orders and in order to keep up with the unusual activity many of the employees are working 13 hours per day. It is a common sight to see the men returning home at 10 o'clock at night, and some of them have even had to work all night to hurry particularly pressing work.

Charles M. Schwab: I am positive that business will now show an improvement. Politics has been playing a very significant figure in the past two years in all branches of trade. I am unable to ascribe any definite reason for the fact, business men have been somewhat worried concerning the recent election. Consumers hold orders in abeyance. But now that the question has been satisfactorily adjusted, I anticipate a great revival in business."

An exchange condenses a whole lot of truth into the following paragraph: There is only one way to advertise and that is to hammer your name, your business and your location constantly, so persistently and so thoroughly into the people's heads that if they walked in their sleep they would constantly turn their faces towards your store. The newspaper is your best friend in spite of your criticism. It helps to build up the community that supports you. When the day comes that the newspapers are dead the people are near the edge of the grave, with no one to write their epitaph or say nice things about them.

Senator Sisson.

The Erie Times has these happy words to say of Senator Sisson, husband of former Miss Lena Spencer, niece of Mrs. Laura Bryan:

"The people showed their faith in Senator Sisson yesterday by giving him the finest kind of an endorsement in both city and county. He has made such a faithful official in every public position he has held that our people could not have thought of doing anything else than return him by a rousing majority. Of all the members of the state senate none stood higher than did Senator Sisson. He was recognized there as one of the most reliable and conscientious as well as one of the most untiring workers. During the term to which he was elected yesterday the senator will play a still more important part in the legislation of the state and he will be in a position to accomplish much more for this city than during his first term. Erie could send no better citizen to represent her in the senate of Pennsylvania than A. E. Sisson."

For Sale Cheap.

One good heating stove; wood burner; nearly new. Enquire at Free Methodist parsonage. 39-2t.

Boss Hockley has espoused Tom Watson's Socialistic "ideas" and comes out in this week's Independent a blatant advocate of all the crazy isms advocated by Emma Goldman, Lucy Parsons and Billy Bryan.

Marked Improvement.

The Emporium Machine Company are making some substantial improvements at their works, a new brick fire room being among the improvements.

A Handsome Home.

Frank Shives' handsome new residence is almost ready for occupancy. The interior furnishings are very elaborate—Mr. Shives not sparing expense to make his home equal to any in the county.

Quarterly Meeting.

At the Free Methodist Church, Nov. 25th-27th. Order of services Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p. m., Sunday at 9:30 a. m., and 7 p. m. Rev. D. B. Tobey, of Franklin, Pa., in charge.

Important Suit.

E. V. Dunlevie, accompanied by a large number of witnesses, went to Buffalo on Tuesday to testify in his suit against J. R. Droney and the Warren Packard Co., claiming damages for logs sold to other parties after contracting with said Dunlevie for sale of same.

Don't Be a Knocker.

The American Printer gives this bit of advice to persons who are full of bile:

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't grunt, growl, or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker. Your turn will come. No man is the whole show. If you see the town is moving along nicely, feel good about it. Help things along. Shove a little. Push. Try and get some of the benefit yourself. Don't stand around like a chilly old cadaver. Don't waste your time feeling sore because some fellow has a little more sand and sense than you have. Do a little hustling yourself. Don't be a knocker.

If you can say a good word, say it like a prince. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean, keep your mouth shut. Don't be a knocker. No man ever made a dollar knocking. No man ever got rich or happy minding everybody's business but his own. No man ever helped himself up permanently by knocking his neighbor down. Give up a kind word. Give it liberally. It won't cost you a cent and you may want one yourself some day. You may have thousands to-day and next year be without the price of a shave. So don't be a knocker. You can't afford it. It won't pay. There's nothing in it. If you want to throw something at somebody, throw cologne. Or roses. Don't throw brick-bats. Or mud. Don't be a knocker. If you must kick, go around behind the barn and take a good kick at yourself. For if you feel that way, you're the man that needs kicking. But, whatever you do, don't be a knocker.

If there is a chance to boom business, boom it. Don't be a knocker. Don't pull a long face. Hope a bit. Get a smile on you. Hold up your head. Get a hold with both hands. Then pull. Bury your hatchet. Drop your tomahawk. Hide your little hammer. When a stranger drops in tell him this is the greatest town on earth. It is. Don't get mulish. Don't roast. Be jolly. Get popular. It's dead easy. Help yourself along. Push your friend with you. Soon you'll have a whole procession. Be a good fellow.

No man ever got rich trying to make people believe that he was the only good man on earth. You can't climb the ladder of fame by stepping on other people's corns. They're their corns; not yours. Then they're tender. Keep off the corns.

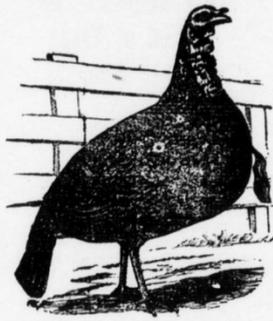

All men are not alike. Once in a while you may find one who is very much alike. But some are different. You're not the only shirt in the wash. If you don't like their style let 'em alone. Don't knock. You'll get used to it. There's no end of fun in minding your own business. And it makes other people like you better. Better have others get stuck on you than get stuck on yourself. Nobody gets stuck on a knocker. Don't be one. Be good.

Pleasing Entertainment.

Miss Estella Holahan well known throughout Clinton County for her histrionic ability will present in the Emporium Opera House on the evening of Nov. 23rd a production capable of pleasing people of culture and intelligence. She will be ably assisted by Miss Julia Schwartz, of Renovo, a musician who has been before the public for a number of years.

Admission fees will be as follows, parquet fifty cents, reserved seats thirty-five, admission twenty-five, gallery fifteen. Doors open at eight, curtain raised at eight-thirty.

TURKEYS FOR WIDOWS.

All widows residing within the limits of Emporium Borough are to be remembered with a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner. The donor desires that all applicants send their requests to the PRESS not later than Monday noon next. The turkeys will be delivered on Tuesday next. Every widow, rich or poor, is treated alike. Please be prompt.

HUNTERS SHOULD HEED THE FOLLOWING GAME LAWS.

We may expect to hear of some wonderful feats coming in from the mountain such as would fill a big book with matter calculated to raise the hair of the weak and swell the breasts of the brave. There will be heroes to burn at the close of the season, doubtless. But, to start with the hunting will be of the milder sort. Of course the bear season is always on but not until the deer can be killed does the onslaught on bruin start in real earnest. Below are dates when game may be killed in Pennsylvania under the state law:

- Wild turkeys, October 15 to December 15.
- Quail and partridges, October 15 to December 15.
- Pheasants, ruff grouse and prairie chicken, October 15 to December 15.
- Woodcock, month of July and October 15 to December 15.
- Rail and reed bird, September 1 to November 30.
- Plover, July 15 to January 1.
- Geese and ducks, September 1 to May 1.
- Elk and deer November 1 to 30.
- Squirrel, October 15 to December 15.
- Hare and rabbit, November 1 to December 5.

No more than 10 pheasants or ruff grouse, 2 wild turkeys, 10 woodcock or 6 quail must be killed by one person in one day and no more than two deer in one year. Killing, wounding or taking any game birds or animals with trap, net, snare, bird line, poison or drugs is prohibited. The use of ferrets in hunting game is prohibited. Deer must not be hunted with dogs or in the waters of any stream or pond, under penalty of $100 for each offense. Sunday hunting is prohibited.

Local Institute.

Besides a few other assignments are the following for the Sinnamahoning Local Institute, Saturday, Dec. 3:

- Address of Welcome, Rev. Faus
 - "Pennmanship," Jessie Willets
 - "Spelling," Stella Orner
 - "Geography," Mabel Edwards
 - Recitation, Mrs. Rev. Faus
 - "Influence of Music in Schools," Maude Wykoff
 - "Co-operation of Patrons and Teachers," Prof. E. S. Ling
 - "Morals in Schools," Prof. Milford Hallman
 - "County Schools," Supt. Miss Collins
 - Address, John Schwab
- Music, including vocal solos, etc., will intersperse the program.

Thanks, Friends.

I wish to sincerely thank my friends throughout the county who so loyally stood by me during the late campaign and to assure them of my hearty appreciation. "They" didn't beat me very badly any way, and would not have won at all if no mistakes had been made in the ballot.

E. O. BARDWELL.
Emporium, Pa., Nov. 14th, 1904.

The Emporium Elopers.

"Bud" Steele and Mrs. L. E. Specht, who eloped from Emporium one day last week, were arrested at a Harrisburg hotel on Saturday morning at one o'clock, the deserted husband and father of the truant wife confronting them. After the officer took them in charge, the husband secured $200 of the $500 taken, when he told them to go their way. The above facts are given us by the husband, who always provided a good home and appeared to be perfectly happy. The "man in the case" is now in Emporium.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

JACKSON.

John Jackson, aged 82, died at Coudersport last Sunday, his remains being brought to Emporium on Monday and placed in Emmanuel Church Chapel. Services were conducted on Tuesday by Mr. Josiah Howard, in the absence of Rector Robertson. Mr. Jackson had long been one of our most respected citizens and industrious farmers, residing on Portage. Some years ago he met with an accident, injuring his head, that made him a great charge. In order that he might have proper care he was taken to Potter Home. A few days before his death while walking over the floor he fell, receiving injuries from which he died. His wife died about one year ago.

Thanksgiving Ball.

Prof. P. V. Daly will direct the Ball to be given at opera house, Thanksgiving evening, which is a guarantee that it will be first-class. The popular DuBois orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets, ladies, 25c; gents, 75c.
