The joy of the Republicans of Missouri over the recent overthrow of the Democratic machine in that state is indicated in the note of triumph sounded by the St. Louis Republic, which says. All hail, Republican Missouri. It is no longer poor old Missouri, but a state that stands erect with its face to the light and marching in company with New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. Missouri has cut loose from Bourbonism and political perfirification. It has given its electoral vote to the Republican column, elected a legislature that is Republican on joint ballot and chosen Republican state officers with the exception of one who slipped in on false pretenses with the assistance of a number of foolish Republican votes. Missouri will now boom just as the markets are booming and the name of the United States is booming the world over. The great victory in this state was gained over the crookedness of one of the most powerful machines ever organized and one that held control for a third of a century. It is a grand achievement, and won by indomitable Missouri Republicans, whom no defeat, not even thirty years of it, could dishearten.

THE LADIES favor painting their churches, and therefore we urge every Minister to remember we give a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez Paint toward the painting.

Wears and covers like gold.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a paint label on it.

8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M., and mix six gallons pure Linseed Oil with it, and thus get paint at less than $1.20 per gallon.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M., and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Harry S. Lloyd.

Marriage is said to be an infallible remedy for heart disease.

I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by R. C. Too Candid.

Miss Highup—I think Miss Globetrot ought to be ashamed of herself. She says she found the paintings of the old masters dreadfully stupid. Miss Wayup—So do many others. Miss Highup—Yes, but she says so.

To Tell if a Man Shaves Himself.

"I can tell in a minute simply by looking at a man whether he shave himself or is shaved by a barber," said the wielder of the razor and brush. "No, it isn't a question of cleanliness nor yet a question of hacking the face. There is no reason why a man who is accustomed to shaving himself shouldn't make as clean a job of it as the average barber. And yet I can spot him every time. See that little lock of hair that grows down the side of the face just in front of the ear? Well, when a man is shaved by a barber those two locks don't vary in length more than a sixteenth of an inch. The man who shaves himself, on the other hand, is invariably lopsided. He always begins to shave higher up on the left side of the face than on the right side, as a consequence of which one side of the face looks longer than the other. No, I don't know that I can explain this phenomenon. I only know that the condition exists." —Philadelphia Record.

Died of Superstition.

Princess Likelike, daughter of Ka-pauken and mother of Princess Kaluan, died on Feb. 3, 1887. She had not been seriously ill, but a lava flow from the great volcano Kilauea, in Hawaii which occurred a few days before her death was to her mind a sure sign that a chieftainess was required by the goddess Pele, that heartless old deity suggested to the children of nature in the ages of volcanic terrors. So firm were Likelike's convictions that the wrath of the furious Pele had to be appeased by her death that she lost heart and never rallied. The night before her death there was a halo around the moon, and when she saw it she abandoned all hope and speedily died. A few years afterward Likelike heard that he was being prayed to death by an enemy, aided by a sorcerer, a deadly method of warfare, so he simply lay down and died of despair.

He Almost Succeeded.

In a magazine article on Max von Pettenkofer, who has been called the founder of scientific hygiene and next to Humboldt the most popular of all German naturalists, Max Gruber tells a story of the professor's absentmindedness. He lost a fortune in umbrellas, seldom bringing back what he had taken away. Once, however, he made a trip as far as England and was very proud of having actually succeeded in bringing back his umbrella to Germany. At Augsburg he stopped on business, but sent a telegram reading, "At 6 o'clock I return with my umbrella." He did return at 6 o'clock, but as he entered his house in Munich he saw to his dismay that he had no umbrella. He had left it at the telegraph station.

Sea Serpents.

Sea serpents date back to the days of Aristotle, who wrote: "The serpents of Libya are of enormous size. Navigators along the coast report having seen a great quantity of bones of oxen, which they believe without doubt to have been devoured by the serpents. These serpents pursued them (the seamen) when they left the shore and upset one of their triremes."

Olaus Magnus wrote in the middle ages of a sea serpent 200 feet long and 20 feet thick which haunted rocks and caves near the seacoast, the old writer adding, "And he puts up his head on high like a pillar and catcheth away men, and he devours them."

Imitative Animals.

Some animals have wonderful powers of imitation. Dogs brought up in the company of cats have been known to acquire the trick of licking the paws and then washing the face. When a cat has been taught to sit up for her food her kittens have been known to imitate her action. Darwin tells of a cat that was in the habit of putting her paw into the mouth of a narrow milk pitcher every time she got the chance and then licking the cream off her paw. Her kittens soon learned the same trick.

His Conscience.

Fierce as he was, the infamous Chief Justice Jeffreys did not always escape the sting of a reprimand. He went to a country assize once where an old man with a great beard came to give evidence, but had not the good fortune to please the Judge, so he quarreled with his beard and said, "If your conscience is as large as your beard you'll swear anything." The old blade was netted and briskly returned, "My lord, if you go about measuring consciences by beards your lordship has none."

Why Is It?

"Did you ever notice," said an observant young man, "that men as a rule run down the heads of their shoes on the outside, while women run them down on the inside?" He was asked to explain the reason, but said he had no reason, as he only mentioned it as being singular, with no means of explanation.

Heading Them Off.

Mrs. Villadom—Why do you want to call on the Borems tonight? Mr. Villadom—Because if we don't they're certain to come over here. It will be easier to go home when we're tired of them than to ask them to go home.

A Hint to Headquarters.

Head of the Firm—I don't see how you are going to support a wife on your present salary. Smart Clerk—Neither do I, sir.—London Punch.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility. This is what B. F. Bass of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c, at L. Taggart, Druggist.

Some men are like doormats—used only for others to walk on.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children.

The worst cold or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size, 75c. At all druggists.

Thousands Cured.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of Piles. "I bought a box DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve on the recommendation of our druggists," so writes C. H. LaCroix, of Zavalla, Tex., "and used it for a stubborn case of Piles. It cured me permanently." Sold by R. C. Dodson.
