ENTHUSIASTIC GREETINGS GIVEN HIM ALONG LINE OF JOURNEY.

VERY FEW SPEECHES WERE MADE.

A Live Coon Was Presented to President Roosevelt at Denison, O .--Every Precaution Will be Taken to Protect Him

Indianapolis, Nov. 26 .- After trav ersing Pennsylvania, West Virginia Ohio and Indiana, President Roose Virginia, velt last night journeyed across fill-nois en route to St. Louis, where for two days he and his party will be the uests of the officials of the Louisiana guests of the officials of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. The feature of the journey from Washington to Indianapolis was the enthusiasm with which the president everywhere was received. Every sta-tion through which the special train passed was thronged with people anxi-ous even to catch a gluppse of the Foley's Kidney Cure even to catch a glimpse of the BANNER SALVE

The most notable demonstration of The most notable demonstration of the day was given the president at Pittsburg. The station where the train stopped for a few minutes was throng-ed, but only a fractional part of the eq, out only a fractional part of the crowd was permitted on the platform near the train. To them the president expressed his pleasure at the opportunity af-forded him to see them and added: "You may depend upon it, I will do all that in me lies to show you that you that in me lies to show you that you made no mistake on November 8." Throughout the run of the train through the city President Roosevelt remained on the rear platform of his can be reader by bet of the car, bowing and waving his hat to the car, bowing and waving its into the crowds of people assembled along the rallroad track. The windows of fac-tories along the line were filled with faces of workmen who cheered and waved hats and hands as the train and children, scores of whom waved American flags. A live coon was presented to the president at Denison, O., where the train stopped for a few minutes. GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENT. A C. & P. Flyer Struck a Trolley Car --Nineteen Persons Were Injured, Two Fatally. Cleveland, Nov. 26 .- Nineteen persons were hurt, two fatally, when the Cleveland & Pittsburg flyer struck a southbound A., B. & C. car at Ward's southbound A., B. & C. ear at Ward's crossing, one and a half miles south of Bedford, at 8:30 a. m. Friday. The rear of the traction car was torn from the tracks and carried a quarter of a mile on the pilot of the locomotive. Many of the passengers in the car were thrown high into the air, while others were pinned under the debris of the wreeked car, which was literally torn to pieces by the fiyer.

flyer. The traction car was in charge of Conductor Sells and Motorman Harry Terbush, two of the oldest men in the The car had employ of the company. The car had stopped at the crossing to wait for a milk train to pass. Sells walked to the derailing lever, which is ten feet north of the C. & P. tracks. As the last car on the milk train passed him. he gave the signal to go ahead and threw the switch.

threw the switch. The traction car had reached the middle of the tracks when Terbush saw the flyer almost upon him. He turned the power full on and the car shot forward. At the same instant Engineer Matt Baldwin, in charge of the flyer saw the acc which had been the flyer, saw the car, which had been hidden by the milk train. He applied the emergency brakes. In another second the engine had struck the car, throwing the rear trucks up onto a three-foot embankment, ripping the rear platform loose and hurling the passengers into the air. The front of the car was tossed against a trolley post, breaking it, and carrying a mass of wires to the commutation of the car was to the ground. The impact of the collision threw the pilot trucks of the engine from the track and the locomotive plowed along the ties for a quarter of a mile. When Fireman William A. Wilber saw that an accident could not be avoided he jumped, but Baldwin stuck to his post, his hand "on the air." Baldwin said that the train was run-ning about 55 miles an hour at the time.
