Dr. and Mrs. Boardman and daughter, of Shenandoah, Pa., visited in town last week guests of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Howard, the lady being Mrs. Howard's sister.

Jas. L. Norie now goes up and down the hill like Maud S., and just as proud. It's a girl. We have them all around us now and after escaping for 21 years it commences to get rather serious.

Lee Welsh, accompanied by his wife and child visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Welsh, last week. Of course the highly elated grand-parents were pleased to see their first grand child.

Bowman B. Birchfield, of Clearfield, Pa., visited his uncle and cousins at this place last week—Sheriff Hemphill and sons. This was Mr. Birchfield's first visit to Emporium and he expressed himself greatly pleased with our town.

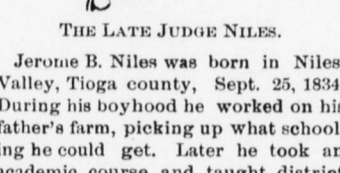

Thos. McGrain left this morning for Quebec, his native home to visit his parents. This is Mr. McGrain's first visit to his home in 22 years. Mr. McGrain is an industrious man and a good citizen.

Mrs. Editha Howard, accompanied by her son and daughter, Mr. Godfrey and Miss Marcia, visited the former's mother, Mrs. M. A. Rockwell on Christmas day. Godfrey usually calls around to help us with our work but evidently was too busy this time.

Rev. J. M. Robertson, Rector of Emmanuel Church, Emporium, visited at Franklin, Pa., last week, guest of his popular brother, Major J. R. Robertson who is well and favorably known in this section. While in Franklin our Rev. friend attended consecration services of the new St. John's Church.

Chas. L. Butler and wife spent part of two days at the Connolly House, Port Allegany, last week, guests of their brother and wife, Mr. Jos. Butler, the proprietor of that popular house. Joe is a royal entertainer and thinks he can play "seven up." Better come over Joe—we can give you some pointers.

Judge Jerome B. Niles Dead.
The many admirers of Hon J. B. Niles, of Wellsboro, will be pained to here of his death, which took place Dec. 29th, 1904, at his home, Wellsboro, Pa. During the past two years, Gen'l Niles has been in poor health, yet hoped, as did his friends, to master his ailment. His death came suddenly. We knew, intimately, the deceased and respected him very highly, having been associated with him in legislative work. He enjoyed the confidence and respect of all who knew him.

THE LATE JUDGE NILES.
Jerome B. Niles was born in Niles, Valley, Tioga county, Sept. 25, 1834. During his boyhood he worked on his father's farm, picking up what schooling he could get. Later he took an academic course and taught district school at Wellsboro for several terms. ENTERED PUBLIC LIKE EARLY.
Having a decided leaning toward the law, young Niles became a student under H. W. Sherwood, and was admitted to the bar in 1861. The next year he served as message clerk in the Pennsylvania house of representatives. Returning from Harrisburg he was appointed mercantile appraiser of Tioga county, and in the fall of that year was elected district attorney. Serving with distinction as public prosecutor, Mr. Niles was re-elected district attorney in 1865. Meantime, he carried on an extensive private law practice as a partner of S. F. Wilson, of Wellsboro. In 1868 he was elected a member of the state legislature. In 1872 he was chosen to represent his district in the convention that formulated the present constitution of Pennsylvania.

AUDITOR GENERAL
After being re-elected in the legislature in 1880 and 1882, Mr. Niles was elected auditor general of the state in 1883. He returned to the house of representatives for the sessions of 1890 and 1892. In 1901 he was elected judge of the Tioga county courts, succeeding Judge David Cameron.
Judge Niles is survived by his widow, two sons, Aaron, a lawyer, of Wellsboro, and Alfred J., a lawyer, of Pittsburg, and by one daughter, Mrs. Doumaux, of Rochester, N. Y.

The Renovo News says Ed. Stahly has purchased Murry & Coppersmith's plumbing shop.

J. H. Mussina Gets a New Arm.
J. Harris Mussina arrived home from Philadelphia this morning via Renovo. Harris came up on the flyer but failed to awake from his peaceful slumber in the sleeper and was carried through to Renovo, returning on the morning train. Harris surprised his friends by carrying his satchel in his right hand and puffing a cigar, which he held in the fingers of his left hand, he having secured a new arm and hand while in the Quaker city. He has again been honored by the grand lodge of Masons by being re-appointed district deputy grand master.—Lock Haven Democrat, Dec. 29th.

Arrested for Breach of Trust.
On Wednesday evening a man named Joseph Clenson was arrested in Lock Haven on a warrant from Emporium, says the Express. He is charged with having appropriated for his own use a check for $158 00, which was given him to deposit in a bank. He was traced to that city and was arrested and held until the sheriff of Cameron county arrived and took him to Emporium, where he will have to face a charge of breach of trust.
