It will be remembered by many that their church, a new edifice, was burned when ready for dedication, about one year ago. The hustling Pastor is to be congratulated.

The Man who Wears the Bronze Button.

John M. Thurston has written the following beautiful tribute to the man who wears the little bronze button: "Sometimes in passing along the street I meet a man who on the left lapel of his coat wears a little bronze button. The coat is often old and rusty, the face seamed and furrowed by the toil and suffering of years. Perhaps above it hangs an empty sleeve and below it stumps a wooden peg. But when I meet a man who wears a button I doff my hat and stand uncovered in his presence—yea, to me the very dust of his weary feet have passed the holy ground, for I know that man in the dark hour of the nation's peril, bared his breast to the hell of battle to keep the flag of our country in the union sky. Maybe at Donelson he reached the inner trench; at Shiloh held the broken line; at Chattanooga climbed the flame swept hill, or stormed the Lookout Heights. He was not born or bred to a soldier's life. His country's summons called him from the bench, the mine, the store, the office, the college, the sanctuary. He did not fight for the greed of gold, to find adventure or to win renown. He loved the peace of quiet ways and yet he broke the clasp of clinging arms, turned from the glance of bewitching and tender eyes, left goodbye kisses on tiny lips to look death in the face on desperate fields. And when the war was over, he quietly took up the broken threads of love and life as best he could, a better citizen for having been so good a soldier."

The more helpful the deed the more holy the day.

A Grim Tragedy.
Is daily enacted by thousands of homes as Death claims to each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong. It kills the germs of all disease. One dose relieves.
