FIRST REPUBLICAN NOTE.

Questions of National Concern Indorsed by the Republicans of Ohio.

As the first pronouncement on national issues which has been made by any state convention in 1905, the declaration of principles put forth by the Ohio republican assemblage will attract the country's attention, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

On the questions of national concern the convention's position will be applauded by republicans all over the country. "We stand by the principles of protection to American labor and American industries," it sets forth.

Ohio's canvass will be watched with interest all over the United States. It will be the most important state campaign of 1905, and on that account will be looked upon as affording a gauge of republican strength with the people.

Ohio proves that the republican party is still united in the defense and advocacy of republican policies, and recognizes that the present administration is carrying out in an earnest and faithful way those principles of wise progress which will not only continue the nation's prosperity, but which will assure the retention in popular favor of the republican party as the safe guardian of American growth.

PROTECTION AND SOUTH.

Remarkable Industrial Development Due to Increase in Manufacturing. The southern states have at present under construction 4,776 miles of railroad, as compared with 2,724 miles for the northern states, according to the Railway Age.

But there is room for still more factories, both north and south, for we are buying annually $50,000,000 worth of cotton goods abroad, when we should be selling that amount instead. Only by joining the north in keeping protection a national policy and protecting our home market can the south continue in its advance toward industrial and commercial independence and prosperity.

FROM OHIO REPUBLICANS.

They Stand for Protection to American Labor and Industrial Progress.

The republicans of Ohio gave their voice on national issues, and gave it unanimously. The platform was adopted without a dissenting vote, and every candidate was nominated by acclamation.

Ohio speaks with a high degree of authority, says the Troy Times, for the republicans of that state gave to the country every republican elected president from Lincoln to Roosevelt—and every one of them a soldier in the union army—and cast 600,000 republican votes last November, with a plurality of 255,000 for the present chief magistrate of the nation.

IS ON HIS WAY TO ITALY.

Man Who Is Alleged to Have Stolen Gold Bars from a Burned Express Car Betrayed by a Woman.

Norristown, Pa., June 10.—A warrant was issued Friday for the arrest of Giacomo Campolli, an Italian section hand who is alleged to have stolen two gold bars valued at $11,500 from the ashes of a burned express car on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad at Bethayres a few weeks ago.

In transit the car containing the gold bars and other express matter caught fire near here and was detached from the Reading train and run onto a siding at Bethayres. The express car was entirely destroyed and after the embers had cooled Campolli while searching in the ashes found the bars. He is alleged to have told his sweetheart of his good fortune, but because he refused to allow the girl to accompany him to Europe she notified the detectives who were working on the case and the warrant is the result of the woman's story.
