President Roosevelt has indicated the metes and bounds of the family by numerous letters of congratulation to fathers and mothers of 12, 16 and 20 children and upwards, and the public mind was reaching a sort of fixity and finality on the vexed subject. Now comes Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of New York's Federation of Day Nurses, with a new dictum which upsets everything. She declares "the au solute limit of a woman's capacity for taking care of babies is eight, and she ought never to have more than six.

PARTY FOR YOUNG MEN.

Republican Principles Attract the Young and Progressive Elements of the Nation.

The juxtaposition of the names of Morton and Bonaparte, in connection with the cabinet, shows that the republican party still has the power which it was famed for at its birth of attracting the young, alert, progressive men from all the other political or-ganizations. Paul Morton, the head of the navy department, was a democrat until a few years ago. So was Charles His father held office under a demo-cratic administration, being secretary of agriculture in one of Cleveland's partes has been a republican until the present member of that house changed of lineage at last found himself compelled to abandon the party of his fathers and come over to the party of 1855: "All the young men in the country are flocking to the new party. We have the coming generation with us. The new party meant the republican party. Seward, Chase, Sumner, Linformation of the party of freedom called it the party of young men, and predicted on that account that it had learns nothing and forgets nothing, the republican party was bound to make an irresistible appeal to the youth, the is a most stinging rebuke, and public spirit and the patriotism of the country. It had the young man's devotion to high ideals, and also the young man's enthusiasm. Its first de-feats only served to make the faith of disposes finally of a most unpleasant its members the stronger and to close more firmly the door of compromise with wrong. The confidence of Lincoln and his compatriots in the midst of the early reverses was voiced by Whittler in his republican war song of 1856, rejoice at the happy outcome of the called out by Fremont's defeat in the party's first presidential canvass:

Then sound again the bugle, Call the muster roll anew, If months have well nigh won the fight, What may not four years do?

We see by recent events that the republican party still exercises its old spell over the minds and hearts of young and public-spirited men. In the election for president last year all the west declared for the republican party by large majorities. In some communities party lines were almost swept As in the international yach race of half a century ago, the winner was so far to the front that there was no second. The republican party, in se days of swiftly changing cond tions and issues, maintains its primacy virtue to deal with each question it right. This party has the most in spiring record of any political organi zation which the country has known ferment upon this. It makes a new record every day, and the record appeals to the mass of the progressive patriotic people. The number of democrats who have become republicans in recent years, and who will remain republicans, would make a long list. Here is one of the secrets of its power It draws to its fold the best of the members of the other parties, and retains them. In external as in internal politics, the country relies on this political organization. In the earthshaking international events which are occurring these days, and which are in sight, the American people have shaken confidence that the republican party which is in control of affairs shape the country's destinies wisely.-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

EXONERATION OF LOOMIS.

Charges of Minister Bowen Did Not Survive the Light of Investigation.

The complete exoneration of Hon. Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, from the charges made against him by Herbert W. Bowen, his successor as the American minister to Venezuela, is no more than had been anticipated by those who were personally ac quainted with Mr. Loomis. Mr. Loomis at the outset met the charges with an emphatic denial and an earnest de J. Bonaparte, who succeeds him. Both are men in the early prime of life. Morton comes from a family which has been democratic through generations.

Both and for a full and impartial investigation. This was made by Hon. William H. Taft, secretary of war, and for some time acting as head of the department of state. A more thorough and unprejudiced inquiry could not have been conducted, and after a searching cabinets. None of the American Bona- and minute examination of all the circumstances Secretary Taft has reported Mr. Bowen's conduct as inexcusable, his politics a few years ago. Each of these democrats of several generations and Mr. Loomis is wholly exculpated, says the Troy (N. Y.) Times.

In this report President Roosevelt promptly and emphatically concurs, and with the impartiality and straightforwardness that are among his nota-Said John P. Hale in the senate in ble characteristics, he takes action accordingly. The entire vindication of Mr. Loomis is accepted, while Mr. Bowen is dismissed from the public service. The president points out that "even if Mr. Loomis had been guilty, coln and all the other pioneers in the formation of the party of freedom unpardonable" in view of the furtive and underhanded manner in which he conducted his attack upon his official the future on its side. As compared superior, and the charges having been with a party like the democracy, which proved absolutely false he is summarily removed from the post he occupies and from the diplomatic service. This is a most stinging rebuke, and the earnestness and vigor with which the president speaks show how deeply he resents Mr. Bowen's action.

incident, while the demands of justice are exactly met. The friends of Assistant Secretary Loomis, whose confidence in his honor and integrity has matter so far as he is concerned. At the same time the step taken by President Roosevelt in removing Mr. Bowen from the post of minister to Venezuela is fully warranted. Mr. Bowen ceased to be persona grata at the capital to which he was accredited, and as friendly relations between a diplomatist and the head of the government of the country to which he is assigned are essential to the maintenance of official intercourse and harmonious feeling, the only thing to do was to remov Mr. Bowen from Caracas. He certainly had ceased to be useful there.

Democrats Who Are Trying to Ring In Municipal Ownership as a Bait.

Dalrymple, the Glasgow man who was sent to Chicago to look over the ground, in response to Mayor Dunne's request, furnishes the wrong sort of testimony for the mayor, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. As a man who knows something about municipal ownership at home. Dalrymple was expected to form a correct judgment as to its practicability in Chicago, and in other big towns in this country. "To put street railroads, gas works, tele-phone companies, etc., under municipal ownership would be to create a po litical machine in every large city that would be impregnable." This is Dal-rymple's verdict on municipal ownership conditions in the United States.

The Glasgow expert has said many absurd things since he has been in this country, but there is no doubt that he sizes the municipal ownership situation here correctly. He says that ship for this country, but declares that after some study of the situation, he is convinced that "private ownership, under proper conditions, is far better for American cities. Every sane person in this country knew this all along. Thousands of persons in Chicago could have told all this to Mayor Dunne at the outset, and have averted the big expense and the accompanying humiliation which have been heaped on Chicago by this ridiculous Dalrymple importation.

ership will be put in the democratic platform of 1908. Mr. Bryan and other prominent democrats have said the me thing. Perhaps they are right If their guess is right, however, it will so much the worse for the cratic party. Municipal ownership will be as bad a blunder for the democrats in 1908 as silverism was in 1896, as anti-imperialism was in 1900 and as its silly antics for and against silver and against national expansion were in 1904. An imbecility of some sort is due from the democracy three years which has been operated as an open hence, and municipal ownership will mill for months. perhaps serve the purpose as well as anything else.

Platform of Democrats.

As it is in Ohio and in Chicago so it is in the country at large. Bryan, Tom Johnson and Dunne want to make the platform. They are confident that what ever platform they make the candidate will accept. They are chiefly interested in the platform because they believe the party is prep*red to swallow the rankest kind of socialistic doctrine and that the candidates will have to do the same or go overboard. It stands the remocracy a monopoly of that kind of plat-form.—Chicago Chronicle.

ENDEAVORERS' CONVENTION The International Conclave Begins at Baltimore with a Big Attendance.

Baltimore, July 6.—All the incoming railway trains yesterday brought thousands of delegates and visitors to the international convention of the Christian Endeavor society. Every state in the Union, Canada and many foreign countries were represented. Preceding the formal opening of the convention there was held a business meeting of the United Society of Christian Endeavor (corporation) at which officers and trustees for the ensuing year were elected. All the old officers were re-elected, as follows: President, Rev. Dr. Francis Clark; general secretary, Von Ogden Vogt; treasurer, William Shaw; pub-lishing agent, George B. Graff.

The formal opening of the twenty-econd convention took place in the afternoon in Armory hall, with about 8,000 delegates present and nearly all of the 16,000 seats in the vast auditorium occupied. Chairman Shonts Says that a Great Effort Will be Made to Secure Healthful Conditions.

Washington, July 7.—Life on the sthmus of Panama is to be made healthful, comfortable and enjoyable before the real work of digging the canal is begun, according to an an nouncement of policy made Thursday by Chairman Shonts, of the Panami canal commission. Mr. Shonts said: "Our first duty is to create sound underlying conditions. This is now vastly more important than the mov-ing of dirt. The men must have suit-able houses in healthy surroundings; they must have wholesome food at reasonable cost; they must have suitable transportation facilities to get to and from their work, and they must have opportunity for recreation. It will be the policy of the commission to provide these essentials as quickly E. as possible.

"In regard to the wages paid and the statements that so many men have left because of reduction in salaries, the fact is that wages instead of having been reduced have been increased in every branch of the service on the isthmus during the life of the present commission.
