TOLD OF THE TITLED

Lord Roberts doesn't smoke, touches wine but seldom, and rises at 5:30 every morning, summer and winter-no matter how late he may have retired.

Lord Sheffield is the proud possessor of a photograph of the Billington crick-et club of Oxford, and among the team is King Edward, then an Oxford undergraduate.

Princess Louise of Coburg is said to have sold the manuscript of her "Mem-eirs" to a Brussels editor for $200,000, and Leopold has ordered the police to fing the editor and seize the book.

Baron de Forest is said to be con-templating the establishment of an em-Lire in the Sahara desert, and carping critics declare that the British government will obtain a political advantage by the process.

Lord Brassey offered to erect, at his own expense, a large number of wooden cottages on the English model for the sufferers by the recent Italian earthquake. The offer was accepted by the government.

The duke of Argyll, King Edward's brother-in-law, has enlarged his liter-ary scope by writing a book of nonsense verse in the form of a long ballad. His first work, "The United States After the War," brought him to the notice of American readers.

Sir William Macgregor, governor of Newfoundland, is one of the most remarkable men in the British calonial service, both physically and mentally, and is the only governor to wear the Albert medal, which is the civilian counterpart of the Victorian cross. The princess of Wied, who is a prominent figure in the court circles Berlin, and whose husband is in the line of succession to the throne of Holland, buys all the ill-used horses that come to her notice and gives them tho benefit of a stay in her well-appointed

SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Ellen Stone, the American missionary who was captured by brigands several years ago, will open a female college at Monastir, which will be conducted on American ideas.

Rhodes scholars at Oxford university, England, have come to be known as "Rhodesters." This is not in any way a term of reproach, for so far the young men have been conspicuously successful both intellectually and socially.

The Ramsbottom (England) education committee granted all the school children of the town a half holiday on the occasion of the visit of a circus, in order "to give the poorer children an opportunity of seeing unfamiliar animals."

A remarkably successful attempt is making in Germany to instill in the public school children a love for plant culture. Last year a gardening association inaugurated a system by which flowers and plants in pots were presented to a large number of children, and prizes, to be awarded at the end of the summer school term this year, were offered to such as should merit them by the care of their plants. In a single town, Wuerzburg, s children received these prizes at the school exhibitions.

OUSTER SUIT

Against Standard Oil Co. Will be Prosecuted.

MISSOURIANS.

Testimony Taken at St. Louis Shows Some of the Peculiar Tactics of the Trust.

New York, Nov. 24.—Subpenses were issued yesterday for John D. Rockefeller, Henry H. Rogers, Henry M. Flagler and other financiers to appear as witnesses in the two suits pending in Missouri to oust the Stand-ard Oil Co. and two other oil companies from doing business in that state. The subpenaes directed the witnesses to appear on December 4 before Frederick H. Sanborn, of this city, who was appointed by Gov. Folk to act as commissioner for the state of Misouri. The suits were filed in Missouri on March 29, 1905, and include besides the Standard Oil Co. the Republic Oil Co. and the Waters-Pierce Oil Co.

This suit is in the supreme court of Missouri. The second suit is very similar to the first, but is brought in the circuit court of Jackson county, St. Louis, Nov. 24.—Inquiry into the methods of the Standard, Republic and Waters-Pierce oil companies in Missouri, was resumed Thursday Special Commissioner R. A. Anthony This will be the last hearing conduct ed in St. Louis until after the Missouri supreme court has decided whether Attorney General Hadley has the right to compel the oil companies to produce the companies' books or make the companies' officers testify.

William A. Morgan, formerly manager for the Standard Oil Co. at Sedelle Metaglical that the Standard dalia, Mo., testified that the Standard Oil Co. issued orders to its agents to undersell competitors at all hazards.

"When I took charge of the Sedalia office," said the witness, "the Standard Oil Co. controlled 50 or 60 per cent. of the business in that territory. Inside of a short period I had taken the business away from competitors and in 1901 controlled 90 per cent. of the trade in the Sedalia territory. The Waters-Pierce Co, sold within 18 miles of Sedalia, and I was not allowed to go into their territory." He said that the company furnished him with barrel gauges by which he would be able to show a customer that a competitor sold "short" barrels, but that he had never used those gauges because he did not think it was

ENDED IN MURDER.

A Fierce Battle Over Election Frauds

—Two Men Who Voted Illegally Are Sent to Prison.

New York, Nov. 24.—Election frauds are believed by the police to have caused the murder Wednesday night of W. F. Harrington in the Little Naples dance hall and also the probably fatal injuries of Abraham Juckerman, who was found with a fractured ckull some distance away from the Little Naples. The dance hall is at 5 Great Jones street and is conducted by Paul Kelly, leader of an East Side gang. From papers found on the dead man and from information obtained from nine prisoners, two of them women, who were arrested after the murder, the police learned that the quar-rel started over election matters. One of the prisoners had a marked ballot of the last election in his pocket.

The magnitude of the election fraud Makes Way for the Better Fccd of a Better Day.

investigation was increased yesterday by several new cases. John Elder was held in $10,000 bail, charged with ilgeod. Menth followed month and he still remained as weak as ever, I was almost discouraged about him when I got the Grape-Nuts, but the result has compensated me for my anxiety.

"In the one month that he has eaten Grape-Nuts he has gained 10 pounds in weight, his strength is rapidly returning to him, and he feels like a new man. Now we all cat Grape-Nuts food, and are the better for it. Our little 5-year-old boy, who used to suffer from pains in the stomach after eating the old-fashiened porridge, has no more trouble since he began to use Grape-Nuts, and I have no more door tor's hills to pay for him.

"We use Grape-Nuts with only receteram, and find it the most tasty dish in our bill of fare.

HOUSE FOR FOWLS.

Arrangement of Building by Which Old and Young Can Be Conveniently Sheltered.

I have a poultry house that beats all others, writes an Indiana man. It is arranged for old fowls and to raise young fowls in without coming in contact with each other.

I got out sills 7x7 inch, put on stone at corners, then made a fill of 6 inches of rough stone, then put on layer of clay and tamped it. building is 12x24 feet, 12 feet high in front and 6 feet at rear, fronting the south, and roof slanting to the north. I used refuse lumber left from building a house. Used 4x4 inch posts and 1 inch siding, and stripped cracks all round except south side. I cut out a door in middle of building and two windows side by side on each side of door, making four in all.

I took the west half for roosts and dusting room and cut off a 3-foot space at north side by setting up 2x4inch scantling at each end for roosts to rest on at D, and to make a box at bottom 8 inches from ground to catch droppings. I took two pieces of 2x4 inch for roosts, one end resting on post at D, other end supported by No. 10 wire from rafter. The roosts are 11 feet long, so they don't touch building at either end. To give more clean ground space I made a tight floor to catch droppings which roll down into eatch droppings which roll down into ing room under roosts. This room is partitioned off from other room, so the sitters are not bothered by the other fowls. I give young chicks range of dust room by tying the mother hens. After two weeks old I give them range of other room, which had been used for laying and feeding room for old fowls. From thence I move laying boxes to dropping room opposite roosts against the wall.—Farm and Home.

DISTRESS AFTER MEALS

Sure Sign That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are Needed to Tone Up the Digestive Organs.

Loss of appetite, distress after eating, shortness of breath, a feeling of utter weaknes3-these are symptoms that are familiar to most sufferers from stomach trouble. Too often the ordinary doctor's treatment serves but to weaken the diseased organs.

The new tonic method of treating disorders of this kind does not aim to do the work of the stomach, does not demand that the food be pre-digested, but builds up the weakened organs, so that they can do the work that nature intended.

Mrs. L.O. Law, of No. 324 North street, Horton, Kansas, says: "In 1897, while we were living on a ferm in this neighborhood, I became generally debilitated as the result of overwork. I had serious indigestion, lost my appetite, suffered from a sense of suffocation and from obstruction of the circulation, so that artificial means had to be used to restore it.
After suffering for months without finding any relief, I tried a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of which I had read in a newspaper. The first few boxes made me lots better, and after using the third box I felt entirely well.

"I am now in excellent health and am able not only to take care of my house but also to assist my husband in a store which he has lately taken. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I can recommend them. They are so simple, so easily taken and so prompt in their action."
