Man About Town.

The merry Yule Tide's coming,
Let all be filled with cheer,
Set your pocket book to running,
It comes but once a year.
Think what those wise men carried,
To that poor babe's abode,
The star that shone in Bethlehem,
"On the Lehigh Valley road."
All things are in the market.
To increase the family joys,
Such sweet things for the ladies,
For the children lovely toys.
Books to suit your sweetheart,
Handkerchiefs for ma,
A red bob sled for brother,
A pair of gloves for pa,
Lay the cigarettes aside,
Skip a drink or two,
On Christmas day spend one week's pay,
And they'll remember you.

Beautiful weather for shopping.

See the adds of the merchants in the PRESS.

The Editor of the PRESS and his associates will receive their presents in the PRESS sanctum between the hours of 9 and 12 Christmas day. The rest of the day they will be eating if they are invited.

The clergy and a portion of the laity of the town seem to think the only club the town needs is the one carried by Chief Mundy.

Uncle Peter Beattie says the Bible says we should love our enemies, and that most people do, they like rum, whisky and tobacco; that some men in town attend church and clasp their hands so tight during prayer they can't get them open when they pass the contribution plate. He believes in being kind but thinks you can carry it too far. He knew a woman once who gave her child chloroform before she whipped it; that the most wicked people in the world are lawyers and a good many of them wind up in the legislature; that the happiest days of his life was when he lived in the woods, slept in a shack, ate raw bear and skunk meat and drank out of West Creek; that there are a good many people around who think if they were for sale they would bring several thousand dollars but for taxation purposes they wouldn't be worth ten cents; that he has seen hogs so poor in Shippen township that to keep them from crawling through the knot holes in the pen they tied knots in their tails; that he does not always believe in the efficacy of prayer. If he should pray the Lord to send him a chicken some moonlight night, it would not come, but if he should pray the Lord to send him after it, his prayer would be answered; that he saw a man who went to Sodom and Gomorrah and saw the pillar of salt Lot's wife turned into, but thinks if it had been in this country the cattle would have kicked it up before night; that the reason pennies were coined in this country was to give some rich men a chance to contribute to charity. He lives an even tempered life, obeys the ten commandments, but lets the ministers do the praying for they are better acquainted with the Lord than he is; that if he had to be an ass or a horse he would be an ass, he had often heard of an ass being a judge or a lawyer but a horse never; that some people are talking about what they have laid up for a rainy day but, generally an investigation shows it is something but somebody else's umbrella.

An old time spelling school this week at school house up West Creek kind of reminds us of when we were kids, spoke pieces and read compositions at school exhibitions—all gone now.

The old school exhibitions,
Will they never come again,
With the good old fashioned pieces,
Of the keys and girls so plain,
Will we ever hear old "Iser,"
With its rapid roll and sweep,
And "Pick 'tis a fearful night,
There's danger on the deep"
Mary has no little lamb,
As Mary had of old,
It's fleece is not as white as snow,
It's wandered from the fold,
The boy upon the burning deck,
Is not now half so fine,
He was not born at Bingen,
At Bingen on the Rhine,
The old school exhibitions,
Are gone for evermore,
The school house is deserted,
And grass chokes up the door,
The wind howls 'round its gables,
With a sad and dismal whine,
For the old boys born at Bingen,
At Bingen on the Rhine.

GANSWAY.

The mission of "Early Risers" is to clear the way and give Nature full sway. Those famous little pills rid the stomach and bowels of all putrid matter, thus removing the causes of headache, constipation, sallow complexion, etc. BeVitt's Little Early Risers never grip or sick. A safe, pleasant, perfect pill. Sold by H. C. Holman.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

LYNCH.

MRS. GEORGE LYNCH, aged 63 years, nine months and six days, died at the family residence, Sterling Run, on Sunday. In addition to her good husband, she leaves seven children, all grown to womanhood and manhood, viz: Albert, Thomas J., James, John, Edward, Flora and Laura, the two latter being at home. All were present at the funeral but John, who works at a distance. The funeral was held from the Messiah Church, Sterling, Wednesday afternoon, being very largely attended by friends and relatives. A beautiful floral piece was presented by a friend, through Dan'l Gorman, of Williamsport. The PRESS editor regrets he does not have full particulars of the death and funeral.

LOYD.

The funeral of RICHARD J. LOYD, whose death was announced in last issue of the PRESS, took place on Sunday afternoon, at two o'clock, from his residence, East Allegany avenue. Rev. Robt. McCaslin of Presbyterian Church and Rev. O. S. Metzler of First Methodist Episcopal Church conducted the funeral services. The funeral was well attended. Two sisters, a niece and cousin were in attendance. The remains were taken to his old home in New Jersey, for interment, in charge of C. W. Rishell, undertaker LaBar's assistant.

Wedding Bells.

ROGERS—LOGAN.

Attended only by the immediate relatives of the two families, Miss Cecile M. Rogers, daughter of Mrs. R. J. Rogers, of No. 89 Main street, and Mr. Chas. Logan, of Emporium, Pa., were married at 12:30 this afternoon at the residence of the bride by the Rev. A. R. B. Hegeman, rector of Trinity Memorial church. At one o'clock Mrs. Rogers gave an informal dinner to the ten or twelve guests present. The bride and groom left at 2:55 on the Erie for Buffalo from where they will go to Emporium to reside.

The bride is well known in society in this city, and is the daughter of the late Richard Rogers, who was a member of the cigar manufacturing firm of Rowlow, Rogers & Simpson.

Mr. Logan is superintendent of the Emporium Powder Works. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Logan and Miss Mary E. Logan, of Emporium, attended the ceremony.—Binghamton Herald, Nov. 7, 1905.

The PRESS last week called attention to the wedding of our young friend, Mr. Chas. T. Logan, (son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Logan), to Miss Cecile M. Rogers, of Binghamton, N. Y., which took place at the home of the bride. The PRESS wishes the young people very great happiness. The bride is a very pleasant lady and having reportedly, for several years, visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hegeman, at this place, made hosts of friends. The groom, who is Supt. of Emporium Dynamite Company, is a gentleman greatly respected by our citizens and stands well with all classes. In Masonic work he ranks with the highest and is considered one of the best floor workers in all branches of the fraternity. A gentleman of spotless character, energetic and competent, the bride's choice has also been chosen well.

Visitors' Day at the Schools.

A special invitation is hereby extended to the parents and all friends to visit the schools to-morrow (Friday) afternoon. We send this special invitation, not that visitors are not always welcome, but that we desire to have more of the parents come to the schools. In some grades brief exercises have been prepared, and all the written work of the pupils will be exhibited for inspection. Then the regular class work will be carried on to some extent. Will you not try to be present?
E. S. LING, Principal Schools.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from diseased conditions of Throat and Lungs. At L. Figgart's drug store, price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free. Everybody reads the PRESS.

Western Correspondence.

Friend Mullin:—We heard you had a shaking up again last week in Emporium, not so great in extent of damage but fearful in the loss of life, which is deplorable. We are having very mild winter weather. Snow fell last Sunday night, one week ago, about six inches on the level. It is very soft today and looks very much as though it would all go off. The thermometer ranged from 25° to 30° above zero except one morning, the 28th of Nov. it was down to zero. I have travelled over the city of Spokane since I last wrote you, so I will try to give you an account of its industries, etc. Its manufactures are chiefly saw and planing mills, sash and door factories, shingle mills, etc., of which we have a number. There are two small furniture factories on native woods, one undertaking supply factory, broom factory, soap factory, four or five grist mills, one large and two small creameries, a large cracker bakery, seven or eight steam laundries and small ones too numerous to mention, to say nothing of the Chinese washes. There are all kinds of establishments usual in cities, yet there does not seem to be enough to supply the demand for the population but there are more coming. I just learned to-day that a Chicago firm had purchased an entire block and will erect a large clothing manufactory. A large furniture department house on Riverside Avenue is in course of erection, which will be in operation in spring. Most people say it is dull now but prospects are good for next spring.

EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGES.

Spokane has twenty-two school buildings, averaging eight departments each; over 175 teachers. Eastern teachers of experience are in good demand at good wages.

OUR CHURCHES.

There are over fifty denominations represented in Spokane and sixty church edifices erected and in course of construction. I am happy to say there are no Mormon churches among them, although there are an occasional missionary savenger lurking around the corners to match the weaker ones. I cannot close without saying a word about Fort Wright, the Home of Uncle Sam's soldier boys. Fort Wright is situated northwest of the city and about two miles from north side, on opposite side of Spokane river, on the military reservation, a very pretty plantation, about one hundred feet above the river, containing several hundred acres as level as a floor.

The quarters for officers and men are built of brick, two stories high, of modern construction. I did not have time to examine the interior of the building but from the appearance of the exterior I judge they are equal to any in the U. S. The 16th U. S., occupy the Fort and they are a gentlemanly lot of fellows.

A CRAPMAN.

1622 Ida Ave., Spokane, Wash.

Twin Daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Eick of Woodland avenue, have issued cards announcing the birth of twin daughters, the great event transpiring Friday, Dec. 8th. Of course Brother Eick had to smile twice when he passed the best Roig cigars. President Roosevelt should congratulate him for not advocating race suicide. The wish of their many friends is that the young ladies may grow in grace and beauty and fear of the Lord and amuse their Daddy by pulling his whiskers when they are old enough. The PRESS congratulates the happy couple.

The Brockway Jubilee Singers.

Arrangements are making for the appearance of the Brockway Jubilee Singers here, in one of their popular concerts, Jan. 3rd, under the auspices of the First Methodist Church. This is the leading colored concert company of America. Being en route through this territory their engagement for this date was made possible and if the requisite encouragement is given contracts will be signed. In case they come the concert will be held in the opera house and tickets will be 35c and 50c.

Another Store.

Mr. A. J. Turley, who formerly conducted a general store in his west ward building will again to-day—hang out his banner and sell groceries, meats, etc., cheap FOR CASH. Call and see him.

Grown Old in Service.

Roger Gallagher, of Buffalo, is visiting his daughter, Miss Mazie Gallagher, and brother Thomas at this place. Mr. Gallagher has for forty years been employed in railroad offices—23 years each in Pennsy and B. & P. B. He has now retired from active service.

Sunday School Board Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Sunday School Board of the First Methodist Episcopal church, last Monday evening in the church parlors, was an occasion of much interest and pleasure. Almost the entire corps of teachers and officers were present and matters relative to the welfare of the school were discussed and plans for the increasing efficiency of its work formulated. Supt. Mr. T. B. Lloyd, complimented the teachers on their faithful work, giving them large credit for the success of the year.

Arrangements for the usual observance of Christmas were effected and to fittingly conclude a dainty luncheon served by the ladies. The following is the list of officers and teachers elected to serve the ensuing year:

- T. B. Lloyd, Superintendent; J. P. McNamey, Ass't Superintendent; L. K. Huntington, Treasurer; W. F. Lloyd, Corresponding Secretary; Claude Rantz, Recording Secretary; H. O. Haupt, Thos. Welsh, Linn Strayer, Willie Welsh, A. F. Andrews, Librarians.
- TEACHERS.
- SENIOR DEPARTMENT.
L. K. Huntington, Rev. O. S. Metzler.
- JUNIOR DEPARTMENT.
Mrs. M. M. Larrabee, F. P. Strayer, Prof. E. S. Ling, Mrs. H. O. Haupt.
- INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.
M. F. Lucero, Mrs. G. W. Van Wert, Mrs. J. P. McNamey, Mrs. Blum, Marian Larrabee, Lillian Heilmann.
- PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.
Mrs. F. P. Strayer, Mrs. Geo. Metzger, Jr., Miss Myrtle Shaffer, Miss Florence Ling.

A Great Attraction.

The demands of the stage to-day are varied, and in order to keep abreast of the times Gordon & Bennett, the producers of "A Royal Slave" have infused new vitality into it in the form of characteristic and highly diverting specialties, such as Spanish dances and topical songs, the chief one being "In Mexico," sung by the Spanish dancer and an American newspaper correspondent. The latter, by the way, has a budget of well-received songs, the favorites being "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and "My Irish Molly-O."

The Observer.

The shade of Oliver Wendell Holmes has reason to be perturbed at the present time. Secretary Bonaparte has issued an order that "Old Ironsides" be taken from its place of asylum in Boston and used as a target for the guns of more up-to-date vessels of war. In 1890, when Andrew Jackson was president and John H. Eaton, of Tennessee was secretary of the navy, an order was issued for the demolition of the Constitution on the ground that it was unfit for service. Immediately there appeared in the columns of the Boston Daily Advertiser a lyric which roused the patriotic sentiment of the nation to a fever heat, and saved the old ship from destruction. That lyric, written in his twenty-first year, marked the beginning of Holmes' career as a poet. No one can read it to this day without a thrill:

"Aye, tear her tattered ensign down!
Long has it waved on high,
And many an eye has danced to see
That banner in the sky;
"Oh, better that her shattered bulk
Should sink beneath the wave,
Her thunders shook the mighty deep,
And there should be her grave;
Nail to the mast her holy flag,
Set every threadbare sail,
And give her to the god of storms,
The lightning and the gale."

"That's the idea," we may imagine the Secretary saying to himself, "Shatter the old hulk with projectiles and sink her beneath the wave. Inasmuch as her thunders once shook the mighty deep, what more appropriate than that she should be lowered to her grave amid the salute of thirteen-inch guns? Of course I shall not follow the suggestion about nailing her flag to the mast, for it would never do to fire on the flag; but what a nice test of marksmanship it will be to clip off with a six-inch shell the top of the mast where the flag once flew! 'Storms' and 'lightning' and 'gale' are all good,—just the words to describe the scene of a naval target fire."

Holmes predicted that:
"Some prouder muse, when comes the hour at last,
May shake our hillsides with her bugle-blast."
The hour has come at last;
"Again patriots dare profane
The mast that Britain strove to hew in vain."
But there is no need for a "prouder muse." The lyric that stirred the nation seventy five years ago has lost none of its potency. The sentiment which it inspires envelops the honored hulk as with heaviest armor plate, and not all the guns of the new navy can puncture it.

Installation and Banquet.

The annual election, installation and banquet of Emporium Lodge, No. 382, F. & A. M., was held Tuesday evening, District Deputy Mussina, of Lock Haven, installed the following officers: W. M. Adolphus C. Blum; S. W. Charles T. Logan; J. W. Thos. H. Norris, Treas.; Geo. F. Blum; Sec'y; John D. Logan; Trustees, Geo. J. La Bar, Marcellus M. Larrabee, Everett W. Gaskill; Representative to Grand Lodge, Frank P. Strayer. An elegant banquet prepared by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church was served at the opera house. What the banquet lacked in members, many of the mighty eaters being absent, it made up in elegance. Mr. B. W. Green as toast master, was a decided success and held down many of the Chauncey papers to reasonable time and sent all home in good order. Those annual gatherings should be more liberally attended.

Birth-day Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Leutze elaborately and pleasantly entertained about fifty friends at their home on South Broad street, on Wednesday evening, in honor of the 20th anniversary of their son, Charles Edward Dobson, one of Emporium's best young men. An elaborate supper, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, was served in great abundance. The evening was pleasantly passed and the occasion will long be remembered. The guests departed for their homes at a late hour, wishing the young man many pleasant days, not forgetting to thank Mr. and Mrs. Leutze for the pleasant entertainment. Charles was remembered by many useful and substantial presents.

Useful Gift.

Editors are seldom the recipients of presents, yet we are, for once, an exception. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sullivan, "the poet laureat of Huntley," were PRESS visitors and presented ye editor with an elaborate pen wiper, the handwork of Mr. Sullivan's aged mother, who kindly remembered us. Mrs. Sullivan is in her 75th year. We appreciate the gift very much, especially from such a venerable lady.

| Number of visitors.....            | 30 74     |

The best attendance records were High School 96; Miss Larrabee's and Miss Griffin's 95. The month's record in this respect was marred by sickness among the children, including some contagious diseases, and by the results of the dynamite explosion as well as by several days of very bad weather.

The school work suffered from the poor attendance and also from the fact that many substitute teachers had to be employed, who, however skilful, are not able to take the place of the regular teacher. Much satisfactory work is being done and the teachers are working earnestly to keep the work up to the highest state of efficiency. Come and see the work.

A Wonderful Saving.

The largest Methodist Church in Georgia, used 32 gallons of L. & M., mixed with 24 gallons of oil, thus making paint cost about $1.20 per gallon. They calculated to use 100 gallons of other paint. Saved about $80.00 and also get a big donation of L. & M. Dealers gladly sell L. & M., because their customers call for it and say they used it 12, 14 and even 30 years ago.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for linseed oil, which you do in ready-for-use paints. Buy oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents per gallon, and mix it with L. & M. Paint.

It makes paint cost about $1.20 per gallon. Sold by Harry S. Lloyd.

Sunday, December 17th will be the last day, that I will promise photographs for Christmas.

THE WEATHER.

Cleaness carried to extremes at Cummings'—the Bakery of quality. A number of theatre parties from neighboring towns are making arrangements to attend the production of "A Royal Slave" when it comes to this city. There is a great deal of interest in this engagement among out-of-town theatregoers, and "A Royal Slave" will, no doubt, play to the capacity and record-breaking house of the season. Emporium Opera House, Tuesday evening, Dec. 19.

A poem for the palate—"Our pastry," The Emporium Bakery.

Manager Butler has been so fortunate as to book Gordon & Bennett's production "A Royal Slave" for an engagement of one night in the near future. This attraction is much above the average and will be one of the notable events of the theatrical season in this city. Emporium Opera House, Tuesday evening, Dec. 19.

Social Dance.

A social dance will be given at the K. G. E. Hall, Cameron, Monday evening, December 10, 1905. The public is cordially invited, come. A good time assured all.

Lily Dew.

The most delightful preparation for ladies and gentlemen's toilet. It imports to the skin a delicious freshness that can be gained no other way. Positively removes tan and sunburn. Will not irritate the most sensitive skin as it will not rub off or show like powder. Manufactured only by Mrs. Eva Tetter, Emporium, Pa. Rooms over post office. 39-14.
