

ELEVEN DEAD.

Steamer Lunenburg Hits on the Rocks.

A VIOLENT STORM.

Blinding Snow Increased the Dangers of a Terrific Sea Near Magdalen Islands.

Meat Cove, C. B., Dec. 6.—Eleven lives were lost as a result of the striking of the steamer Lunenburg on the rocks off Amherst harbor, near the Magdalen islands, Monday.

The Lunenburg had been running between Pictou and the Magdalen islands since last spring. During a high gale Monday, which was accompanied by blinding snow flurries, it is thought that the steamer went out of her course in trying to make Amherst harbor and brought up on the rocks that lie some distance off shore in this vicinity.

SKULL FOUND IN A CELLAR.

Ghastly Discovery Made by New York City Police.

New York, Dec. 6.—While the police of the tenorlin precinct yesterday were examining a house at 112 West Twenty-sixth street, from which the occupants recently were dispossessed under police proceedings, they found a human skull in a pile of rubbish in the cellar.

When additional detectives were summoned the floor of the cellar was torn up and 20 human bones found. The police discovered also a pall which they declared bears evidence of having contained quick lime. The mystery of the finding of the skull and bones is heightened by the testimony of a sailor whose shop is opposite the house. He told the police that last Christmas evening he heard shots in front of his place and upon going out, saw two men carrying a third man into the basement of the house numbered 112.

WILD PANIC ON A STEAMER.

From Three to Six Persons Probably Drowned in Havana Harbor.

Havana, Dec. 6.—A wild panic on board the French line steamer La Champagne yesterday afternoon resulted in the injury of six and the possible drowning of from three to six persons. The Champagne arrived from French and Spanish ports with 350 cabin and 1,400 steerage passengers, 1,100 of whom were bound for Havana and 300 for Mexico.

The steamship had a small cargo, but little coal, and after anchoring and discharging the cabin passengers she began coaling. At the time she was slightly listed and the crowd of Spanish immigrants swarming to her side to watch the lighters, caused her to list more and to take on a quantity of water in her open coal ports. Some of the lighter men cried out that the ship was sinking and the frightened immigrants struggled and fought for a chance to escape. Some 400 men and women jumped to the lighters and a score of men into the water.

A DISASTER IN LONDON, ENG.

Roof Collapsed—Two People Killed, Two Missing and 28 Injured.

London, Dec. 6.—Ninety feet of the roof of the southernmost end of the Charing Cross railroad station collapsed without warning yesterday afternoon, carrying with it some 40 workmen who were engaged in repairs on that section of the roof. The casualty list of this extraordinary accident includes two persons who are known to have been killed, two persons missing and probably buried beneath tons of debris, eight seriously injured and 20 slightly injured. The falling walls of the depot crushed the roof of the Avenue theater adjoining the station, injuring several men who were at work there.

Probably Fatal Collision.

New York, Dec. 6.—Thomas Miller, master of the schooner Michael Collins, was perhaps fatally injured, the ferryboat Garden City had a great hole stove in her bow and 100 women passengers on the ferry were thrown into a wild panic during a collision of the two craft in the East river yesterday.

Many Hunters Killed and Wounded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 6.—The total number of hunters killed by accident so far this year in Wisconsin and northern Michigan is 26. Fifty-one have been wounded.

LIEUT. GEN. SAKHAROFF MURDERED

A Woman Assassinated the Former Minister of War of Russia with a Revolver.

London, Dec. 7.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph in a dispatch dated December 5, sent by way of Eutkuhnen, East Prussia, says: Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff, former minister of war, was assassinated yesterday. The government had deputed Gen. Sakharoff to visit the province of Saratoff for the purpose of quelling the agrarian riots there.

A woman belonging to the so-called "flying columns" of the revolutionary movement, called at the house of the governor of Saratoff at noon yesterday and asked to see Gen. Sakharoff. She fired three revolver shots at the general, killing him on the spot.

There are signs of a collapse of the post and telegraph strike. Two-thirds of the telegraph operators are daily offering to resume work, but they are prevented from so doing because the wires have been cut or the stations fail to answer signals.

London, Dec. 7.—The correspondent of the Times at St. Petersburg says: "I am informed on excellent authority that a revolt of the St. Petersburg garrison is certain to occur. The newspapers print harrowing details of the whipping by order of Gen. Sakharoff of the peasants whom he was sent to pacify."

Paris, Dec. 7.—The correspondent of the Journal at St. Petersburg sends the following: "The government has recommenced the acceptance of telegrams and is forwarding them by railroad to the frontier. Private banks threaten to suspend operations unless the postal service is immediately restored."

MADE PLEA IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

Albert T. Patrick, Convicted of Murder, Sentenced to Die in the Electric Chair.

New York, Dec. 7.—After making a final personal plea to the court in his own behalf, Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, convicted of the murder of William Marsh Rice, last night was sentenced to die in the electric chair in the week beginning January 22, next. Sentence was pronounced by Justice Rogers in the criminal branch of the state supreme court. Notice at once was given that an appeal to the supreme court of the United States on a writ of error will be taken. The application for the writ, it is said, will act as a stay of execution. Patrick was taken back to Sing Sing last night.

After being brought to this city from Sing Sing, Patrick listened yesterday afternoon to a rehearsal of all the details of his case by the district attorney, and it was long past midnight when, apparently feeling the court was about to decide against him, he arose to speak in his own behalf. His action caused a stir in the crowded court room and the lawyers in the case held a hurried consultation. Patrick spoke for nearly 15 minutes.

DEPEW RESIGNS AS A DIRECTOR.

It is Reported that President McCall, of the New York Life, Will Also Step Down and Out.

New York, Dec. 7.—The resignation of United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew as a director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society was one of the most interesting developments yesterday in the situation growing out of the life insurance investigation. The senator's resignation was tendered to President Paul Morton, of the Equitable Society, in a brief note, in which no reason for it was stated.

The report was published last night that President John A. McCall, of the New York Life Insurance Co., will resign from that company before the next annual meeting of the trustees in April, and that if he does not tender his resignation at a meeting of the trustees next Wednesday he will refrain only at the request of the trustees, who, the report said, do not wish to have to elect a temporary president. The published report also stated that the presidency of the New York Life Insurance Co. has been offered to John Claffin, a trustee of that company, and that Mr. Claffin has refused to accept the office.

The attention of the legislative investigating committee was devoted yesterday chiefly to the affairs of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Birmingham, N. Y., whose president, Charles M. Turner, was on the witness stand most of the day.

A Murderous Negro.

New York, Dec. 7.—William Brown, a negro, walked into the crowded room of a colored organization known as the Cedar Social club, in West Thirty-second street, last night, and shot and killed William Butler and mortally wounded Thaddeus Washington. The shooting created a panic in the place and men and women fought each other in efforts to escape through doors and windows. Brown walked to the nearest police station, where he surrendered. Washington died at a hospital.

MRS. ROGERS

Expiates Her Crime on the Scaffold.

AT WINDSOR, VT.

Few Persons Witnessed the Hanging and She was Calm and Brave to the Last Moment.

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 9.—Without a tremor and without a word, Mrs. Mary Mabel Rogers yesterday marched to her death on the gallows at the state prison here and paid the penalty of murdering her husband, Marcus Rogers, at Bennington, on August 13, 1902. To all appearances Mrs. Rogers was the calmest person in the chamber of death. She faced her end with the same indifference that had marked her demeanor ever since her arrest, more than three years ago.

Although the woman was not officially pronounced dead until 14 minutes and 30 seconds after the trap was sprung, she evidently suffered no pain. Her neck was broken and she lost consciousness instantly the drop fell.

The execution took place after the woman had been twice relieved on account of appeals made in her case by her counsel and after the United States supreme court refused to take action in the case.

Only a few persons witnessed the hanging, the number being restricted by the laws of Vermont.

The career of Mrs. Rogers has been a remarkable one. A wife at 16 years of age and a murderess at 19, she was but 22 on the day of her death. Ignorant and depraved she still had a strange influence on those she met, and her admirers were many. In 1902, having won the affections of three men, she encompassed the death of her husband, Marcus H. Rogers, with the aid of another admirer, Leon Perham, to the end that she might marry a third lover, Maurice Knapp. Perham confessed and is serving a life sentence here. Mrs. Rogers was born in Hoosick Falls, N. Y., and when married removed to Bennington, Vt., where the murder was committed.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Senator John H. Mitchell, of Oregon Crosses the Divide.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 9.—United States Senator John H. Mitchell died at the Good Samaritan hospital in this city Friday, death resulting from complications which followed the removal of four teeth at a dental office Thursday morning. A hemorrhage of unusual severity followed the removal of the teeth and, despite the application of the most powerful styptics known to dental science, the flow of blood could not be stayed.

The senator's condition soon became alarming and it was determined to remove him to the hospital. When the senator reached the hospital he was very weak and it became apparent that unless the flow of blood was soon stopped he would die.

Senator Mitchell had long been a sufferer from diabetes and other vitiating diseases and, in his weakened physical condition, rapidly succumbed to the inevitable weakness following such violent hemorrhages and lapsed into a state of semi-consciousness.

John Hippie Mitchell was born in Washington county, Pa., June 22, 1835. It was only when his connection with a conspiracy to defraud the government of its public domain was made manifest by his conviction in the federal court that he lost the political influence which he had held for a greater part of half a century. From his 70th birthday, June 22 last, the day on which his guilt was decreed Senator Mitchell rapidly declined.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Industrial Activity was Never So Great as at the Present Time.

New York, Dec. 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Trade broadens in a healthy manner in response to lower temperature and holiday demand. Staple lines of heavy weight wearing apparel are readily distributed, and the movement of Christmas goods promises to add one more to the many new high records established by 1905. Many manufacturers in these lines are unable to fill orders, notably those producing jewelry, candy, toys and novelties.

Wholesale business is on a scale that promises well for next season, shipping departments are taxed to the utmost and mercantile collections are satisfactory, with a few exceptions, which are confined chiefly to southern districts where cotton has not been marketed promptly. Industrial activity is showing greater progress than at any previous time.

Failures this week numbered 232 in the United States, against 239 last year, and 24 in Canada, compared with 26 a year ago.
