THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in convention at the Lyceum theatre in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, June 8, 1906, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, viz:

One person for the office of Governor. One person for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. One person for the office of Auditor-General. One person for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

In accordance with the rules governing the early representation in the State Convention will be based upon the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules each legislative district is entitled to one delegate for each two thousand votes cast for Republican electors in 1904, and an additional delegate for every fraction of two thousand votes polled in excess of one thousand.

By order of the State Committee, W. R. ANDREWS, Chairman.

And These Talk Reform.

Democratic newspapers and politicians delight to characterize Republicans as the "gang."

They overlook the disgraceful and utterly indefensible things which have been done in the name of Democracy.

They even forget that the last Democratic Mayor of Harrisburg was elected by methods which, with like methods elsewhere, forced the Legislature to pass a corrupt practices act to protect the ballot.

Republicans are growing weary of the constant abuse and misrepresentation and downright lying of the Democratic organs which have mistaken silence for fear.

Discredited Democratic leaders are now pushing to the front as "reformers." They presume upon the credulity of the people in their brazen attempts to besmirch and destroy better men.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

A shop girl hasn't much time for a nap that can't enable her to show off.

Fred Bliss Practical Painter. It's sound sense that we tell you.

Your work costs less dollars and is best every time you use the L. & M. Paint.

You do more painting with one gallon of L. & M., than with two gallons of other paints and the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M., White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

Four gallons L. & M., mixed with three gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

L. & M., Paint costs only $1.20 per gallon.

A. T. Terrell, Riverhead, N. Y., writes: "16 years ago painted with L. & M. Only now requires repainting."

Sold by H. S. Lloyd.

Be patient; card houses are built in a hour, cathedrals take the centuries.

Afflicted With Rheumatism. "I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Bayne, editor of the Herald, Addington, Indian Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm an able one more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments."

If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinaamahoning.

You can get all kinds of good cedar shingles at C. B. Howard & Co.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

L. Taggart Guarantees a Cure by Hyomei or Will Refund the Money.

Until very recent years, it was thought that catarrh was a disease of the blood, but now modern science has proved that catarrh is a germ disease, and can be cured only by a treatment that will kill the germ and heal the mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

Therefore, when you have catarrh, you can readily see that if you want to cure it, you should use Hyomei, which medicates the air you breathe, thus killing the catarrhal germs and healing the smarting and raw membrane of the passages through the nose and throat. In breathing Hyomei you are really treating your catarrhal troubles with the only natural method, for it will make the air you breathe as pure, healing and antiseptic as that found on the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh, the usual way in which it is sold by L. Taggart should destroy all doubt, as he offers to refund the money should Hyomei fail to benefit.

The complete Hyomei outfit consisting of an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and a medicine dropper, costs only $1, while extra bottles can be obtained for fifty cents.

L. Taggart has sold a great many Hyomei outfits, and the more he sells, the more convinced he is that he is perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

It takes more than willingness to be nothing to make you amount to something.

Letter to J. Lockwood, Emporium, Pa.

The police are finding us out. Officer L. H. Pinney, of Erie, Pa., painted his house Devoe, perhaps two or three years ago—the tale don't tell when the painter objected but Pinney insisted.

Two neighbors of Pinney's have painted since one lead-and oil, the other some other paint, don't know what.

But officer Pinney lives in the nicest painted house of the three. The rest of the story we don't know; what it cost the three to paint. We can guess; about half for officer Pinney.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co., New York.

P. S.—Murry & Coppersmith sell our paint.

Some men think they are weary in well doing because their jaws ache.

The best way to rid the system of a cold is to evacuate the bowels. Kennedy's Honey and Tar acts as a pleasant yet effectual cathartic on the bowels. It clears the head, cuts the phlegm out of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

A woman's vanity is never due to the compliments of other women.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. It is the original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

The way to heavenly mansions may be through mean tenements.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion of your stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon. Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Fortunate is he who can extract amusement from his labor.

Always Keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His Home.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only do when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinaamahoning.

The Observer.

A few weeks ago the Observer was reading "Henry Esmond" (for the first time, he will confide to the reader), and was glad to get the first hand views of Dick Steele and Marlborough which that charming novel by Thackeray affords. Through his interest in Marlborough, the Observer was beguiled into reading a chapter or two in Knights' "Popular History of England." A reference in this to Marlborough's correspondence with Charles XII of Sweden led the Observer to drag out from a dusty closet an old volume, brown with age, entitled "Histoire de Charles XII, Roi de Suède." The fly leaves and title page are missing, but there can be no doubt that it is a copy of Voltaire's well known work.

It once belonged to a young man who, as a student at the University of Edinburgh, saw the decimated ranks of the Scots Greys enter the city on their return from Waterloo in 1815. As this student was not in the habit of tearing leaves out of his book, (unless, perchance, being a Seceder, he wished to avoid the scandal of having in his possession a book bearing the name of Voltaire), it is almost certain that he bought it second hand. Just because the title page was missing, the Observer became all the more curious to know, if possible, what year the book was printed. Men, in their way, can be as idly curious as children—or women. However, it is less reprehensible to try to discover the age of a book than it is to pry into the mystery of Mrs. Dorcas Youngheart's age.

Another indication of the age of the book is the use of the old-fashioned long s's which look so much like f's. When did the long s's go out of use? An answer to this question would be of some help in determining the date of this old book.

A search through the Britannica and Globe Encyclopedias and the Standard Dictionary failed to find the slightest mention of the old long s. The only remaining method of finding an answer to the question was to examine the typography of such old books as were at hand. Here, for instance, is a volume of Puritan sermons published in London in 1858; also a Latin handbook of Calvinistic theology, published in Amsterdam in 1721; a volume of Jonathan Edwards, discourses published in London in 1795; a copy of Principal Campbell's book in refutation of Hume's celebrated argument against miracles, reprinted in Philadelphia in 1790; a set of Witherpoon's Works, published by Woodward in Philadelphia, in 1802 and a little volume of selection from Ovid, published in 1809. In all these books the long s's are used. On the other hand, a set of Quincilian (1810), a set of Christopher Swart's Horace (1812) and a Greek Testament 1820, are all printed without the long s.

This trivial investigation goes to show that the long s's went out of use with the year 1809; and consequently the copy of "Voltaire's Historie de Charles XII," was printed at some time previous to that date. In appearance it is older than the copy of Edward's Discourses (1795). The presence of catch words at the bottom of the page, (a usage no longer observed when the copy of "Edward's" was printed) confirms the story told by the darkened paper and faded ink. It is not probable that the book was printed later than 1790, and its date may easily have been a decade earlier. The first edition of "Charles XII" appeared surreptitiously in Rouen in 1731. Voltaire died in 1778.

Really, it makes not two cents difference whether this mutilated old book was published in 1731 or 1831; but the quest for its date has thrown a little light on the final dates of long s's and the catch words at the foot of the page.

Yes, the "Histoire" contains an interesting account of a highly characteristic interview between the two greatest generals of their age.

Speaking of "Henry Esmond," it is a novel that is in every way worthy of the great heart and splendid intellect of Thackeray.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mr. G. W. Tanner, about 78 years of age, died at the home of his son Bert on Mason Hill, March 5th. Mr. Tanner was born in Bradford county and came to Cameron county and has resided on Mason Hill for many years. He has been a sufferer for several years but was not taken bedfast until about three weeks ago and many times longed for death to end his sufferings. His family realizing he could never recover and that the end was near, summoned his relatives and every care that loving hands could give was rendered to him, making his last days as pleasant as possible.

The funeral was held at the house, Rev. Ebersole preaching a very able sermon, his text being "Prepare to meet thy God." After the sermon and the last view of the remains was taken by his many relatives and friends his body was taken to Pine Street Cemetery, where he was laid to rest beside his wife and two children, who had gone on before him.

He leaves five daughters and one son: Jane (Mrs. Bryan Duell), of Mason Hill; Amanda (Mrs. Wilhem), of Lock Haven; Milly (Mrs. Haverly), of Renovo; Neoma (Mrs. Barr), and Mrs. Nelson, of Huntley; Bert, resides on Mason Hill. All were present at the funeral, also two brothers, Mr. Samuel Tanner, of Renovo; and Mr. Ben Tanner, of Selins grove, and a number of his grand-children. His relatives have the most sincere sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

Samuel Locke Dead.

Samuel B. Locke, for 19 years a resident of this city and the first passenger conductor on the Buffalo division of the Western New York and P. R. R., died Thursday at his home, 314 North First street, aged 59 years. Mr. Locke was the baggage man at the local station of the W. N. Y. & P., road and for two years served the Pennsylvania railroad in the same capacity. He was one of the most obliging of men and had a very wide acquaintance.

He was a member of the Order of Railroad conductors and was well known among railroad men. Four years ago he suffered a stroke which left him in a helpless condition.

He leaves a wife and three sons, George, Emerson and Samuel, Jr., also a sister, Mrs. Etta Neubach, of Cattaraugus—Olean Democrat. Our readers will remember Sammy Locke; who was for many years a popular conductor on Buffalo division.

Dynamite Question.

At the time of going to press several railroad officials are in consultation with a committee of citizens appointed by the Council to settle the much talked about dynamite cars stored within the Borough. We believe the railroad officials are anxious to protect the town as well as themselves, and will take drastic means to compel a strict compliance. The meeting is in session as we go to press.

TO THE PEOPLE

Rich's Famous All Wool Sock has fallen into competition with a very inferior article. The imitation is so perfect that only an expert is able to detect the counterfeit with its cotton and shoddy mixtures, until the sock is put into service. Unscrupulous competitors are representing the sock as Rich's All Wool, thus deceiving the customer and injuring our reputation.

To protect ourselves and the trade, in the future Rich's Socks will bear a Red Seal Trade Mark printed in white, a fac-simile of which is shown above.
