FREE TRADE RECOMMENDER

The Pet Aversion of Gov. Folk, of Kansas, Is Prosperity Promoting Protection.

At a Democratic banquet in Kansas Gov. Folk made a bitter attack upon the protective tariff principle. In his remarks on grafting he spoke of "the tariff grafters, with their millions of ill-gotten wealth, wrung from the people by means of special privileges given them by law." Mr. Folk, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, has harped on "tariff robbers" in previous speeches in Ohio and Massachusetts. A protective tariff excites him to vituperative anger. Mr. Folk is a free trader. In his attitude as a public man this is the most significant fact, because it is the direction in which he could work the greatest damage if he had the power. He is against all protection. He would not resort to it to protect American wages, or for any other purpose. If the matter rested with him, protection would be wiped out at a blow. He calls it robbery and its results the accumulations of graft. It is the extreme free trade view, with the addition of abusive rancor. Protection is Folk's pet aversion, and he bubbles over with epithets when he It is a matter of consequence to put

They prefer to talk about tariff revision or reciprocity. But Mr. Folk was born and raised in a southern state, where the Democrats accept the South Carolina view that protection is something utterly depraved. Mr. Folk degotten wealth wrung from the people by legalized special privileges. He has taken his stand for absolute free trade, and it will count for more than anytring else in estimates of his public purposes. Missouri has a great stake in protected industries. Its manufac-turing interests have increased immensely and keep on growing. pose Mr. Folk had his way, and ripped them up with free trade? Would Missourians gain or lose by that cataclysmic act? Would every wheel continue to turn? Would employment at the best wages continue to be abundant? The answer is self-evident. The sounhouse era of a dozen years ago would return. Factories would again shut down. The dinner pail would be empty. There would be two or three men for every job. There would be misery and ruin on every hand, as in the free trade period between 1893 and the conclusion of an expert employed the defeat of that prosperity-killing

CLAIMED BY BRYANITES

Credit of the Railroad-Rate Issue Is Taken by Democrats in Congress.

From the viewpoint of the political maneuvering, one may applaud the claim of the Democrats in congress, and the use they are making of it, that the railroad rate issue is of Democratic parentage, says the Washington Star. It may not bear the closest examination, for the populists were busy in that field years ago. But it is true that within the past few year the Bryan wing of the Democracy, taking its cue from its leader, has had a good deal to say on the subject, and as the populists have all but entirely disappeared, their imprint is faint And, anyhow, Mr. Bryan has always been half populist, and may fairly maintain the right to dabble in populist doctrine.

It is to be questioned, however, it those Republicans are wise who are using Mr. Bryan as a bugaboo in the premises; who are insisting upon a particular line of conduct by asserting that if that line is not taken smash is just ahead for their party, and Mr. Bryan will be the next president of the United States. To sound that note is virtually to concede al! that is claimed for Mr. Bryan by the most active of his supporters and assist them in their campaign for his renomination. For if only this rate bill stands between Mr. Bryan and the White House, he is reasonably certain to occupy the comfortable man-

This is true, for the reason that no matter what bill may be passed by congress, the railroads will challenge it in the courts, with the most formidable array of legal talent ever em played in this country. If the bill holds, then the Bryanites will quote Republicans as conceding that it was Bryan pressure that passed it. and other legislation is nece sary, then the Bryanites will claim that they are the proper ones to give the people the remedy required.

It is the duty of the Republicans to give the country a sound and sincers statute on this subject. While not the only issue before the country, it is perhaps the most important of all at this time, and certainly the one most talked about. To trifle with it, therefore, would be to alienate public confidence. If a coach-and-six can ba driven through the law, the team is all ready to go through, and if it does go through good-by to the men who shall have arranged the opening.

TARIFF AND THE SOUTH.

Industrial Prosperity Chiefly Responsible for Protection Sentiment.

While some New Englanders are demanding tariff revision, an increasing number of enterprising and progressive men in the south are favoring adherence to the policy of a protective tariff. The change in southern sentiment in this particular is very noticeable and highly significant, says the Denver Republican.

President Roosevelt's personal popularity in the south is no doubt working wonders among the people of that section in respect to their attitude toward political issues and parties. The fact that the Republican party advocates protection and the further fact that its most conspicuous representative at the present time is President Roosevelt makes many southern men feel more kindly toward the organization. They may not be prepared to announce themselves as Republicans, but they certainly no longer look upon a southern Republican as a traitor to his section of the country.

Industrial development in the south is, however, chiefly responsible for the growing sentiment in favor of protection. Cotton manufacturing and the production of iron and steel have increased enormously, and thus a manu facturing class composed of both capi talists and laborers has developed in that section. It is but natural if these people are as much in favor of protection as their competitors in other parts of the country.

Pacification of Germany, There will be no "tariff war" be-tween the United States and Germany.

This appears to be practically certain as a result of conferences at worry about President Roosevelt's State Root, Secretary of the Treasury future. # NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

A Desperately Serious Case Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Brought to the very verge of starva-tion by the rejection of all nourishment, her vitality almost destroyed, the recovery of Mrs. J. A. Wyatt, of No. 1189 Seventh street, Des Moines, Iowa, seemed hopeless. Her physicians utterly failed to reach the seat of the difficulty and death must have resulted if she had not pursued an independent course suggested by her sister's experience.

Mrs. Wyatt says: "I had pain in the region of the heart, palpitation and shortness of breath so that I could not walk very fast. My head ached very badly and I was seized with vomiting spells whenever I took any food. A doctor was called who pronounced the trouble gastritis, but he gave me no relief. Then I tried a second doctor without benefit. By this time I had become very weak. I could not keep the most delicate broth on my stomach, and at the end of a mouth I was scarcely more the chick and her was scarcely more than skin and bone and was really starving to death.

"Then I recalled how much benefit my sister had got from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to take them in place of the doctor's medicine. It proved a wise decision for they helped me as nothing else had done. Soon I could take weak tea and crackers and steadily more nourishment. In two weeks I was able to leave my hed. Dr. Williams! more nourishment. In two weeks I was able to leave my bed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were the only thing that checked the vomiting and as soon as that was stopped my other difficulties left me. I have a vigorous appetite now and am able to attend to all the duties of my home. I praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to all my friends because I am thoroughly convinced of their merit."

The foreign trade of Philadelphia last year reached an aggregate of almost $140,000,000, an increase of about $4,000,000 in exports and $14,000,000 imports, largely materials for use in American factories.

The report of the Mexican minister of finance shows the revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30 to have been $92,083,886, with disbursements of $79,-152,795. The revenue for the current year is estimated at $90,073,500, and expenditures $89,897,390.

Tientsin stands second among the treaty ports of China in the gross value of the trade that passes through the port, and also in the amount of revenue collected by the customs. so far as American goods are concerned, Tientsin even has a rival claim on Shanghai for first place.

The Chinese boycott of American flour is operating to the advantage of sailing vessels on the Pacific coast. It results in a smaller demand for flour, which in large quantities has shipped across the Pacific by steamships. In consequence a larger amount of wheat is being shipped by sailing vessels.

The total commerce between the United States and France amounted in the fiscal year 1905 to $166,000,000, of which $76,000,000 represented exports to France, and $99,000,000 imports from that country. The United States exported to France nearly all the copper and cotton used by that country, the total amount of these two articles being about $48,000,000.

A NECESSARY EVIL.

Experience of a Minister Who Tried to Think That of Coffee.

"A descendant of the Danes, a nation of coffee drinkers, I used coffee freely till I was 20 years old," writes a clergyman from Iowa. "At that time I was a student at a Biblical Institute, and suddenly became aware of the fact that my nerves had become demoralized, my brain dull and sluggish and that insomnia was fastening its hold upon me.

"I was loath to believe that these things came from the coffee I drinking, but at last was forced to that conclusion, and quit it.

"I was so accustomed to a hot table beverage and felt the need of it so much, that after abstaining from coffee for a time and recovering health, I went back to it. I did this several times, but always with disastrous results. I had about made up my mind that coffee was a necessary evil.

"About this time a friend told me that I would find Postum Food Coffee very fine and in many respects away ahead of coffee. So I bought some and, making it very carefully according to the directions, we were delighted to find that he had not exaggerated in the least. From that day to this we have liked it better than the old kind of coffee or anything else in the way of a table drink.

"Its use gave me, in a very short time, an increase in strength, clearness of orain and steadiness of nerves; and sleep, restful and restoring, came back to me.

"I am thankful that we heard of Postum, and shall be glad to testify ot any time to the good it has done me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
