TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in convention at the Lyceum Theatre in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, June 6, 1906, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, viz:
One person for the office of Governor;
One person for the office of Lieutenant-Governor;
One person for the office of Auditor-General;
One person for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs; and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.
In accordance with the rules governing the party, the representation in the State Convention will be based upon the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules each legislative district is entitled to one delegate for each two thousand votes cast for Republican electors in 1904, and an additional delegate for every fraction of two thousand votes polled in excess of one thousand.

By order of the State Committee,
W. R. ANDREWS, Chairman.

No Trouble in the Republican Party.

It is very evident from the general tone of the Republican journals throughout the State that with an untrammelled convention they do not look for any trouble in the Republican ranks.

The testimony that they give concerning conditions is that the Republican sentiment which broke away last fall and went to the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, Mr. Berry, is ready to support a Republican ticket that shall be named by delegates acting on their own responsibility and free from bossism.

There can be no doubt that they accurately reflect the situation. The Republican Party in Pennsylvania is strong. It has nothing to explain. It has met all requirements. It has given the people reform legislation of the most drastic character, and it has followed this work by the choice of delegates to the coming State convention who do not wear the collar of political servitude.

These delegates will assemble in the capacity of men representing their constituents. Thus the demands of independent thought have been met in every particular. Not even the most active of Republican opponents can point a finger at any example of bossism within the Republican Party. The only exhibition that has been given anywhere thus far has come from political schemers in Philadelphia who have laid violent hands upon the Lincoln Party machinery and hope to run it for their own benefit.

These reckless plotters have done their best to make deals with leading Republicans, but their conspiracies have become public property and with exposure has come their undoing. There is still some bluster on their part. They are now trying to exaggerate their importance for creating trouble and continue to insist that some understanding should be arrived at with them. But there seems little possibility of that, for deals of any sort are extremely unpopular, and besides, bossism is bossism, whether the bosses are labeled Lincolnites or go under some other title.

There is no danger to Republicanism unless it should listen to the so-called Lincoln Party manipulators of Philadelphia, who are the same political experts who have built up the Mack Combine of unsavory reputation. The Republican convention can have nothing to do with self-styled Lincolnites. It would be ruinous to deal with them. This is a year when there must be no semblance of a deal with anybody.

Such is the manner in which the Republican newspapers are talking. They are almost unanimous in their belief that with a fair convention, a convention that shall be freely open to all candidates who aspire to nominations, all will be well in November.

The Inquirer heartily agrees with them. The Republicans who went to Berry last year did not leave the party for good. They were ready to return when certain reforms had been accomplished.

These reforms have been accomplished, and to-day there exists no reason for a Lincoln Party or for any factional opposition.

All genuine Republicans concerned in last year's independent movement can have nothing but praise for the recent attitude of the representatives of the party in the Legislature and for the manner in which, only two weeks or so before the convention, the delegates are left to carry out their own judgment.

Let the Republican Party have a convention which will own itself in every particular it will move on to battle for Roosevelt and his policies confident in its own strength.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CATARRH A GERM DISEASE.

Breathe Air Medicated by Hyomei and Kill the Germ.

Now that physicians and scientists universally agree that catarrh is a germ disease, the reason for the failure of the old-fashioned stomach-dosing in this trouble is readily seen.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei, a treatment which cures catarrh by filling the air you breathe with germ-killing and healing medication, statistics showed that at least ninety-seven out of every hundred persons in this state were suffering from catarrh of some form. Although Hyomei has been known only a few years, the remarkable results following its use are shown by the much smaller percentage of those who suffer with catarrh to-day.

The treatment with Hyomei is very simple and pleasant; a small inhaler comes with every outfit and three or four times a day Hyomei is breathed through this, making the air at that time like that found on the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

Used in this way, Hyomei penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose, throat and lungs, absolutely killing all catarrhal germs and effecting a complete and permanent cure of the disease.

The complete outfit costs but one dollar, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents. L. Taggart has seen such remarkable results from the use of Hyomei that he sells it under an absolute guarantee that it costs nothing unless it cures.

It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by L. Taggart; J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.
