HUNTLEY.

Harry Johnson and wife of Renovo, spent Sunday with Mr. Johnson's parents.

Mrs. P. Farrell was a business caller at Sinnamahoning Monday.

Mrs. E. D. Mahew of Eldred, is the guest of Mrs. P. P. Farrell.

Mrs. Susie Sullivan spent Sunday with her parents.

Miss Ruth Sullivan was an Emporium visitor on Friday.

Surveyors from Coudersport, accompanied by Mr. Eaton are surveying land through the valley.

B. J. Collins lost a valuable hog last Monday. It weighed nearly 400 lbs.

Boys, watch out a little how you sling the pastboards—trouble ahead. Carrie Nation is coming.

W. W. Johnson and wife of the east end, entertained the following friends at their residence Sunday evening: P. P. Farrell and wife, E. D. Mahew and wife, Ervin Parks, Nome Barr, C. J. Miller.

While Selbourn Logue was plowing for J. F. Sullivan Monday he found a large copperhead snake under a rock. With the assistance of Harry Johnson and brakeman Hefner the reptile was killed. It measured four feet, two inches.

A stag party was given at the Huntley Social club rooms Saturday evening in honor of Irvin Parks, who has resumed his former position as head sawyer for the Willson Bros. Lumber Co. Among those present were Wm. Logue, P. Farrell, E. D. Mahew, W. W. Johnson, John Jordan, A. W. Smith, Alf Smith, Roy Smith, Levi Smith, Henry Layton, Dan'l Logue, Major Barry, Mr. Cole, E. D. Krape, C. W. Barr, W. R. Smith and Dan'l Kilbourn. Upon his arrival at the hall Mr. Parks shook hands with all the friends and was given a seat of honor, whereupon W. W. Johnson after making an eloquent speech, presented him with a silver mounted "cant hook." Squire Smith was then called upon for a song which he rendered very satisfactorily in his rich baritone voice. The song was as follows:

We welcome you dear brother Parks,
Into our little town,
We missed your kind and gentle voice,
In the days when you were gone.
We love to hear the saw-mill roar,
It fills us with delight,
But your temper must be hard to keep,
When the saw runs on a spike.
And when our daily tasks are done,
It stirs our hearts within,
To listen to the music swell,
From your sweet violin.
So while you stay in Huntley town,
A sawing up our wood,
The best of things to eat and drink,
For you are none too good.

Levi was encared three times on his performance and after the excitement had subsided Parks arose and thought visibly touched by his warm greeting sang the following song accompanied by the violin:

I have roamed to far Australia,
I have traveled to Japan,
I have seen the Czar of Russia,
And shook him by the hand,
I've crossed the ocean wild and wide,
To Klonoyke and Cape Nome,
But no place seems so dear to me,
As my dear old Huntley home.
O let me stay in Huntley town,
And work in the old mill,
With all my friends beside me,
We'll labor with a will,
I will not leave again my friends,
So wipe your weeping eyes,
When we have all the logs cut up,
We'll go to making ties.

There was not a dry eye in the house after the song.

A rare and pleasing sight was afforded the people of Huntley on Thursday afternoon, May 17th, when Mr. Wm. Wylie, assisted by his son George, brought a raft of pine logs from his home to the mill. Mr. Wylie handled this vast amount of timber with the grace and ease that would have done credit to a man 20 years younger, which goes to show the kind of timber our fathers and grandfathers were made of. Despite Mr. Wylie is 76 years of age, he walked from the mill to his home a distance of over four miles in one hour and 30 minutes. Mr. Wylie is in the best of health and the Press unites with his many friends in wishing him a good many long and prosperous years to stay with us.

Clarence M. Archer, the young man who has undertaken to make a trip from Williamsport to San Francisco on foot, called at Huntley tower Friday, May 18th on his way west. Mr. Archer is a gentlemanly appearing young man of a quiet disposition, but possessed of all the pluck and self reliance necessary to make the trip a success. He says he has full confidence he will accomplish the journey unless some unlooked for accident interferes. He speaks very highly of the courtesy shown him by the people he has met along the route.

It will be remembered he is not allowed to accept gifts in the way of money or is not to ride in any way unless it is to cross a lake or river that cannot be crossed otherwise. The people at large wish him a safe journey.

NORTH CREEK.

All our farmers are hustling these nice days.

Mesdames Lewis and Taylor attended missionary meeting at the parsonage Wednesday, where a missionary society was formed.

Mrs. R. B. Warner spent a pleasant day at the farm first of the week.

Millie Sprung and Jennie Berry were guests of their sister Mrs. E. V. Housler a few days.

Quite a few of our North Creek people attended a dance on Four Mile, Saturday evening.

A small party gathered at the home of Henry Carter on Saturday evening and enjoyed a social chat.

Ray Haskins of Four Mile, attended the party at Henry Carter's.

May and Blanche Moon were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Edward Coole, Friday.

Guy Brundage returned on Monday to Keating Summit, where he will resume his duties in the saw mill.

Mrs. Willis McClennahan enjoyed the masquerade ball at Cameron last week.

Norman Solveson spent a few days with the family of Warren in Rich Valley.

Mrs. Anson Swartwood visited her daughter, Mrs. McClennahan, the past week.

Bert Housler and Chas. Ross were seen the Valley Sunday.

Saturday night Moses Minard met with a serious accident on the North Creek road, between Mr. Barr's and Mr. Moon's, while taking five Italians to their camp. His team became frightened at a pile of lumber above the road and shied, putting men, team and wagon over the road. One Italian was killed almost instantly, but the rest escaped with but slight injuries.

D. N. Chandler has purchased a wagon.

Emporium visitors for the week were: J. W. Lewis, Wm. Lewis, Frank and Walter Smith, Willis McClennahan and Ernest Housler.

An ice cream social will be held at the residence of Mrs. S. M. Housler, Saturday evening, June 2; proceeds to start a library for our Sunday school. All will be welcome.

Cy. Lupro has been appointed by the courts to the office of constable for this township.

The National Protective Legion will hold its regular meeting next Thursday evening, in K. G. E. Hall. A large attendance is expected on account of deputies Merritt and Lynch being present and a number of applications to be voted on for membership.

The ball game between Cameron and Driftwood last Wednesday was won with high honors by Cameron, by a score of 7 to 4. Later in the week the Juniors played a game with the Sterling Run Juniors, resulting in a goose egg for the Cameron team. Arrangements are being made to have the Driftwood team here Saturday and a lively game is looked for by all. The Canoe Run locals went to Emporium on Saturday afternoon and they were defeated 16 to 4. The Cameron Athletics expect to meet the Athletics of Philadelphia soon.

Fred Comley has returned from a visit with friends at Bullis Mills and brought a fine pair of pigs. Ed McFadden says they are the finest he ever saw. Shakespeare says:

Cameron again comes to the front,
You cannot keep her down,
For Mr. Comley's pigs
Are the finest pigs in town.
You can talk about Bob Graham's calves,
Or Danny Sullivan's corn;
But just look in Fred's pig pen,
Before you blow your horn.

Choice for Governor.

Without in the least reflecting upon the character of any of the other distinguished Republicans aspiring to the great honor, we believe that the nomination of Hon. Charles W. Stone, would unite the party in Pennsylvania as no other candidate could, and at the same time be accepted, in advance by citizens of all parties as a guarantee of honest, efficient and capable government during his administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth. His ability, honesty and fitness are not questioned. His availability, is conceded. In no sense does he represent factional or selfish personal interests in the party, but standing for the principles of Republicanism, as expressed by the National Convention, with a wide experience in public life, as Assemblyman, State Senator, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of the Commonwealth, and Member of Congress, he represents all that is desirable in a candidate for the office of Chief Executive of the Keystone State. His public record is without blemish, and he stands the peer in ability and character of the foremost representatives of the nation in Congress. His private life is spotless and his personally strong, courageous and self-reliant.

As the nominee of the Republican party for Governor, no factional opposition would develop against Charles W. Stone because his nomination would not represent the triumph of any faction within the party. No independent movement would detract from the vote of the Republican party. No independent movement would detract from the vote of the Republican party, because no exceptions could be taken to his candidacy on public or personal grounds and no legitimate appeal could be made to Republicans, or reasons given why they should vote against him. On the other hand his honesty, integrity, ability, industry and untiring devotion to duty, together, with his wide personal acquaintance and popularity throughout the State, would attract to his support thousands of citizens upon whom the claims of party rest lightly.

We do not believe that under existing political conditions in the State, a more available or popular candidate could be named for Governor than Hon. Charles W. Stone. He is a Republican. Pennsylvania is a Republican State. His candidacy would unite the party. —Warren Mirror.

A FOOLISH PLAN

'Tis a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour; Because I rout indigestion with August Flower!

Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself. "I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course." What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills. August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.
