Word for Motor Car.

Every improvement in locomotion bas caused both discomfort and danger. It is probable that the users of sledges viewed with indignation the advent of wheeled vehicles. Old prints show that the fast coaches scattered flocks and herds and left postchaises in the ditches, behind them. The railway was regarded for some time as an outrageous nuisance. It will be within the recollection of us all, says the Fortnightly Review, that for years bicyclists were detested, denounced and persecuted, and that every horse shied at every bicycle. In all these cases the public has had to grow accustomed to new conditions of traffic. So it is and will be with the automobile. To-day, in the minds of the unthinking, it is an offensive innovation: in a few years it will be regarded as an invaluable and indispensable condition of social and industrial life. The pedestrian will have to learn to look before he crosses the road, and that proper place, as a rule, is not the middle of the road but the sidewalk. And it is permissible to hope that greater devotion to public welfare will In the future provide the children of the poor with other playgrounds than the public highways. Not long hence it will seem a condition of barbarism that horses should have been misused as they are in the omnibus and the night cab of to-day, and that they should have been allowed to deposit thousands of tons of offensive manure in the streets of the metropolis every day, causing an unending supply of septic dust, to be breathed by millions Meanwhile, a certain amount of public discomfort and danger is unavoidable; it is one of the conditions of progress. To attempt to hinder this progress because of this temporary discomfort and danger would be-to quote a proverb of the people to whom we look with so much admiration just now, the Japaneseto "mend the horn and kill the ox."

Craze for the Rostrum.

The cable from St. Petersburg, referring to the douma, speaks of "the all-prevailing craze for the rostrum." It is no bad sign for members to want to speak. Many of them have something to say, and a tempting opportunity-the first of its kind in their lives-seems to present itself. Let us try to sympathize with men so placed, says the Washington Star. At the end of nearly a century and a quarter of popular government we have a John Wesley Gaines in our douma. In time this spirit will pass. Wait until the Russians learn the trick of inattention; of reading newspapers, or writing letters, or retiring for luncheon, while the talkfest is in progress, and the rush for the rostrum will not be so great. Orators cool off when interest flags. Not one in a thousand is so fond of the sound of his own voice as to take pleasure in addressing building. empty chairs.

At the meeting of the Wisconsin Society of Sons of the American Revolution in Milwaukee a few days ago Neal Brown, of Wausau, was one of the speakers. In the course of his humorous remarks he rather ruffled the feathers of some of his hearers by declaring that the Mayflower must have been leaded down with furniture; that nearly every household in the country contained a relic in the shape of a chair or a table that came to the country in that old historical ship, while nearly every American citizen traced his ancestry back to the passengers or crew or to men who who fought in the revolutionary army.

"San Francisco reports," says a contemporary, "that a number of persons who suffered from various ailments previously to the earthquake and fire in that city find themselves complete ly cured. One paralytic, who for 15 years had been crippled by his disease, is now 'entirely cured,' and numerous other recoveries have been recorded." Nor should it be forgotten that among the ailments cured by the earthquake is celibacy. There is evidence of many well autherticated instances of San Franciscans earthquaked into matrimony.

A meat inspection provision was completed by the house committee on agriculture and will be presented to the house for action at once, which it is declared by the committee will insure that American meats and meat products are healthful, clean and in every respect wholesome and fit for President Roosevelt notified Chairman Wadsworth of the house agricultural committee that the substitute to the Beveridge amendment was "totally inadequate in its entirety." He asserted that while he might approve the agricultural appropriation bill he would attach to it a memorandum de-claring the meat inspection provision to be insufficient. Such action would continue the present agitation and certainly would not tend to restore confidence in the products of the packing houses

DUN'S TRADE BULLETIN.

Preparations for Fall and Winter Business are on a Huge Scale.

New York .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

A moderate reduction in commer cial activity is to be expected at this time of the year, but confidence in the future is so strong that there is evident reluctance to assume seasonably quiet conditions. This attitude is most pronounced in the industrial world, preparations for fall and win-ter distribution being on an unprecedented scale, and several leading producers announce that the customary summer shut down will be entirely omitted or curtailed to the extent necessitated by repairs. The heavy movement of merchandise is attested by an increase in railway earnings thus far reported for June of 11.8 per cent. over the corresponding period of 1905.

There is no diminution in the activity of steel mills and iron furnaces and the consumption keeps pace with production and new business holds the date remote at which shipments can be made in most departments.

Failures this week numbered 183 in the United States, against 229 last year, and 15 in Canada, compared with 25 a year ago.

CONVICTED OF FRAUD.

A Baltimore Man Who Was Receiving Large Sums of Money Comes to Grief.

Baltimore, Md.—"Dr." Thomas H. White, who conducted a so-called "college" in this city in which he sold a "higher correspondence course" in spiritualism, magnetism, hypnotism and the "white and black art," was found guilty Friday by a jury in the United States district court on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails. Sentence was suspended pending mo-tion for a new trial.

The trial lasted nearly two weeks and during its course witnesses from many distant states, including Texas and Minnesota, were examined for the government, all off whom testified that in response to advertisements in magazines they had sent by mail sums ranging from $2 to $7 for "life readings," charm parchments and a "magic Egyptian breastplate" advertised as a cure for every human ill, all of which had proven to be without any virtue or merit whatever.

When White was arrested by the postal anthorities over $12,000 in cash was found at the "college." His business is said to have brought in from $1,200 to $1,500 a week.

PEPPERY LETTERS.

They Are Exchanged by President Congressman

Washington, D C. - Chairman Wadsworth, of the house committee on agriculture, last night made public the correspondence between Presi-dent Roosevelt and himself regarding the meat inspection bill prepared by the committee.

The president in his letter says that almost every change in the house amendment was for the worse as com-amendment was for the worse as compared with the senate amendment and in his judgment so framed as to minimize the chance of rooting out the evils in the packing business.

In his reply Mr. Wadsworth declares the president is "very, very wrong" in his estimate of the committee's bill, calls attention to provisions in the bill and concludes with an expression of regret that the president should feel justified by innuendo ident should feel justified by innuendo at least in impugning the sincerity and the competency of a committee of the house of representatives. "You have no warrant for it," says Mr. Wadsworth in closing.

APPROVES A LOCK LEVEL CANAL.

The House of Representatives Declares Its Views on the Type of Isthmian Canal.

Washington, D. C.—By a vote of 110 to 36 the house on Friday at the end of a two hours' debate on the appearance of the second o propriations for the Panama canal decided that the canal should be of a lock type. After listening to the speech of Mr. Burton, of Ohio, in favor of the lock canal and consuming an hour in discussion of the amend ment defining the type as presented by Mr. Littauer (N. Y.), the house in committee of the whole expressed its opinion in favor of the lock canal.

By a decisive vote the house refus-d to sanction the purchase of materials in the markets of the world for the Panama canal, the general posi-tion of the republicans being that as the canal was to be built by American taxes the American workingman and the American manufacturer should have the advantage.

Indictments in Land Fraud Cases.

Omaha, Neb.—The federal grand ary on Friday returned indictjury on ments against 13 prominent Nebraska cattlemen in connection with land fraud cases.
