Sights and Scenes in Colorado. The most beautiful mountain region in the world. Describing a few points of interest along the way.

The limited trains that cross the country, that have every comfort and convenience of hotel life, find greatest favor with the tourist's and traveling public on account or their quick service to distant points.

The Colorado Midland train which leaves Denver every morning gives the traveling public the same elegant car service as the Overland Limited, pullman sleepers with beautiful toilet rooms and the best Observation car with smoking room and reading room and a chance to view the grandest mountain scenery on earth.

Leaving Denver, the run of seventy four miles to Colorado Springs gives the traveler a chance to see the results of irrigation in the substantial farm houses throughout the Valley, while to the right are the foothills, with the snow covered peaks in the distance, the most prominent of which is Longs Peak, 14,271 feet; Grays Peak, 14,411 feet; Torrys Peak 14,336 feet and long before we reach Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, looms up prominently before us to the height of 14,108 feet.

From Colorado Springs to Cheyenne Mountain where Helen Hunt perished in the snow; Bald Mountain and Pikes Peak tower with their snow covered summits way above the clouds.

Leaving Colorado Springs we pas through Colorado City once the Capital of the State. Then on into Manitou, the widely known health resort at the foot of Pikes peak. From there one can take the Cog Railroad which extends to the top of Pikes peak and carries more passengers every year than any road of its kind in the world. Leaving Manitou our train climbs the mountain up through Ute pass, where the roadbed is blasted out of solid rock. Manitou and Colorado Springs are away below us now and the vast plains of the Great American Desert extending off to the East, dotted with Lakes and farm houses makes a scene never to be forgotten.

We cross a high bridge then through a short tunnell and soon reach Green Mounain Falls, a summer resort very largely patronized by people from all parts of the world. The three great water falls that come plunging down over the rocks, the pure embracing mountain air, the beautiful scenery with first-class hotels and cottages makes this an ideal spot to spend the summer months. Leaving the falls we see Pikes peak to the north, as it seems to stand out in bold relief we can view it from different points as the train climbs the grade to the Divide, there a branch road leads to the great mining camp of Cripple Creek. From the mountain views are beautiful and very interesting. Then as we pass on through Granite Canon with it's great walls of stone and ragged cliffs, makes one shudder to think what would happen should one of those large boulders come tumbling down on our train, but as they have stood sentinel there for ages there is no fear of danger. Soon we enter South Park. Here at an altitude of about 16,000 feet is the largest mountain park in the state Here upon a time nearly all the large game such as buffalo, elk, deer and antelope as well as hundreds of Indians roamed where they would, where now in their place are thousands of cattle horses, and many hay ranches. This park is surrounded with mountains from which there has been millions of dollars work of precious metals taken. Near Hartsels they have just lately discovered some very pomising leads that prominent Mining men are preparing to develop. Leaving Hartsels the scenery is grand and ever changing. The many mountain peaks are pointed by the rallroad men until we reach the Arkansaw Valley. Our next step is Buenna Vista. This town lies on the Delta be-

The state reformatory can be readily seen in the distance. The Arkansaw River flows through the fertile valley, to the left is the Collegiate range of mountains with Mt. Yale some 14,187 feet; Mt. Princton, 14,190 feet, and Mt. Harvard, 14,374 feet with their lofty peaks extening away above the clouds. election for the street once.

ville is a beautiful ever changing panoramic view of mountain scenery with lumber camps, saw mills, lime kilns and smelters showing the many industries of the people. Leadville once the most noted city in the world, is to-day a quiet city, situated among the mountain peaks at an altitude of some 10,103 feet, and is yet quietly producing from her numerous mines much of the precious metals which help to supply the markets of the world. Over three hundred millions in gold and silver have been mined in Leadville to date. As we leave Leadville, Mt. Massive which is the highest mountain in the state looms up before us. It being 14,425 feet and is continually coverus. It being 14,425 feet and is continually covered with snow the year around. Again climbing up mountains we reach Busk, where a tunnell more than two miles long greets us, and pieres the Continental Divide. Passing through this tunnell we emerge on the Pacific slope. Here some of the grandest and most magnificent of recombain scenary greet us, the rugged chasm mountain scenery greet us, the rugged chasm with cliffs 2000 feet to the gulch below, and the towering peaks around us make an awe-inspiring scene never to be forgotten. One can see th railroad tracks a half mile below us as our train winds over these tracks among the hills for four-teen miles, then we reach Hellgate, and as we look back from Horseshee Curve we wonder at the magnitude of railroading in the Rockies. On down through the Frying Par river valley; mines and mills are at work, trout fishing is fine in the stream and the region is known as the "Hunters Paradise". Red Rock Canon presents another wonderful scene unlike that on the other side of the Divide. There are great massive mountains of red sand rock that look like Castles built for the Ancients. Mt. Sopris stands like a sentinel close in this region at an altitude of about 14,300 feet and is very im at an attitude of about 17,000 receive in its grandeur.

At Cardiff are the great coal mines and hundeds of coke ovens that supply coal and coke for the railroads of the Great West. At Glenwood the railroads of the Great West. At Glenwood Springs is one of the greatest resort hotels in the state. The great curative properties of the hot mineral springs bringitourists from all over the continent. From Glenwood Springs our train follows the Grand River. The next place of interest being at Rifle where our President stopped last year to make his hunt for the mountain lion in the White River country to the Northward. Emerging from the mountairs we enter ward. Emerging from the mountains we ente the great fruit section of Western Colorado. The Grand Valley fruit has gained wide spread re-nown and and high national reputation. Peaches, peas, plums, apples and grapes are shipped by train load to the Eastern and western markets.

A good nights rest as we go across the Utah
Desert gives us a chance to appreciate the Great
Sait Lake valley as we descend from Soldiers
Summit in th moruing and see how grand the Mormon pioneers have made the desert bloom as Mormon pioneers have made the desert bloom as roses, and build a city that compares with any of its size in the world and contains many points of interest to the tourists. This ride only takes twenty-four hours from Deaver, and through the grand old Rocky mountains over the Colorado Midland Railway which is the grandest of railway scenic lines of its kind in the world.

Why journey to far countries,

To view their wonderous sight,
When here in our Native land.

When here in our Native land when here in our Native land, Dame Nature takes delight, In lavishing her wonders, So splendid to behold, With Virgin Forests—Endless plains, And mines of precious gold)

The Rocky Mountains rear their heads, In greeting to the sky.

Their peaks reach far above the clouds,
That float so gently by The awe inspiring Canyons,
Wherein swift waters flow,
While far above yet plain to see
Are Peaks all wrapped in snow.

So take a second thought dear friends E're seeking Foreign clim And visit Colorado, Via the Midland Line, You never will regret it, Nor will you feel ashamed.

Cameron County's Opportunity.

Cameron county was formed in 1860, by aking small slices of contiguous territory from McKean, Potter, Elk and Clinton counties, but it has never had a citizen as representative in Congresss, or a President Judge on the bench.

Year after year for more than 40 years have Republican leaders in this county taken part in Congressional, and Judicial conferences, and conventions, sometimes with candidates of their own. And year after year they have been invited to come again, till the heart grew weary, and faith sickened and well nigh died. Still a few faithful and proper products and the sickened and well nigh died. faithful souls never gave up, and at last their efforts are crowned with success as shown in the nomination of B. W. Green for President Judge of this Judicial district, and Capt. Charles F. Barclay, for Member of Congress, from this Congres sional district.

Now what is the duty of the voters of this county under the circumstances?
To me their duty seems very clear.
Self preservation is the first law of nature. Our county is young, young and small, and if we would not be eaten up alive by surrounding counties we must stick together, and work and vote for our own men regardless of politics.

The beauty of this situation lies in the fact that both candidates are men that Cameron county does well to honor.

With such men in office there will longer be any question as to just where Cameron county is located.
Capt. C. F. Barclay, is the peer of any man this district has ever sent to Con gress, and as to Judge Green's legal and forensic ability his confreres have spoken and will speak.

There is no question as to the crying need for a non-partisan Judiciary. All parties are agreed on that point, and here Judge Green has made his position perfectly clear. His court will be a court of Justice, and not a place to play politics. "Even handed justice" he says, "to rich and poor alike." And no man who has And no man who has know: B. W. Green for the last 27 years as I have done will doubt for one minute that he means just what he says.

There is no earthly reason why any Republican should vote any other than the straight Republican ticket, and it eems to me that every voter in the county no matter what his party affiliation may be, who has the good of Cameren county at heart will vote for C. F. Barelay, for Congress, and B. W. Green, for Presi-dent Judge, to the end that men may know that we are loyal to our own, and a force to be reckoned with. Then when men say that Cameron is a small county they may qualify that adverb as did a friend once who was speaking of our worthy Chief of Police, when he said, "He is a small man, but he is one of the biggest small men that you ever saw.'

This is Cameron county's opportunity to make an indelible impression on the surrounding counties, and this chance once gone may never return.

Five children were born to them, of which but two survive the father, namely, D. Floyd, an unusual promising young man of 16 years and master Hamilton a bright boy aged seven.

Mr. Seaver was born and reared a farmer and had a fondness for rural life beyond that of any vocation. Some years ago he bought a farm on Whittemore Hill where he moved his family in 1903

In removal of Mr. Seaver the widow oses a devoted husband, the sons an affeetionate father, the church a distinguished member and an excellent citizen. Mrs. Seaver is a lady much esteemed in our minds and will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Death of John McGee.

John McGee, who has made his home in Emporium for many years, following the woods for a living, died in the Elkins Hospital, at Elkins, W. Va., Aug. 3rd. He was aged about 60. We are unable to learn the particulars. McGee was a member of Emporium Maccabees and carried $2,000 insurance in favor of his brother Jas., who resides in Prince Ed-

Sad Death of Little Guy Robinson

While playing near an exhaust pipe at the Johnsonburg paper mill last Wednesday, eight year old Guy Robinson was badly scalded, and died ten hours afterward. The little fellow was playing with a younger brother, when the pipe which gives out steam several times a day left off its supply resulting in his death. Athough the flesh was dropping from his body, he ran to home some distance away. The child is the son of the late Wm. Robinson formerly of this place. This is the fourth child that has died since the father not a year His remains were brought to this place last Friday, interment being made in the Catholic

Add Insult to Injury to Clinton's Candidate.

Quite a delegation of friends accompanied Harry Alvan Hall, Esq., of Ridgway, to Lock Haven yesterday to attend the Democratic judicial conference, which met in this city yesterday afternoon. A numof Renovo Democrats were with the party to help stir up en-thusiasm for the Hall candidacy. We understand that George A.

Brown, Esq., Clinton's candidate for judge, sent a written request to Clinton's conferees that his name should not be presented to the conference, but for some reason the request was ignored. It is said that Mr. Brown had no official notice of the meeting of the conference and that he and his friends Methodist church at this place Sunday afternoon at three e'clock, conducted by conferees and to this slight was added an ignoring of him in arranging for the meeting of the conference. The Elk county Democratic machine manipulated the whole proceeding from beginning to end.-Lock Haven Express.
