BRYAN AND EMERY

They Are Linked Together In the Pennsylvania Campaign.

PLAYING NATIONAL POLITICS

Republicans Are Prepared to Meet the Issue With Roosevelt and Stuart As Their Leaders.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.

The home-coming of Bryan this week brings national politics to the front all over the country, and especially in Pennsylvania, where the democratic state convention which named Emery for governor in its platform declared Bryan the certain successor to Roosevelt.

There is now a clean-cut issue whether Roosevelt or Bryan shall be endorsed by the voters of Pennsylvania this fall.

Republicans For Reform.

It is the argument of the democrats and of the so-called Lincoln Party, which has been swallowed by the Democrats, that only local issues are involved. They claim—the Democrats and the Lincolnites—that they alone can give good government. Yet, if we take into consideration the work of the recent session of the special legislature, we find that every reform demanded by the most drastic reformer was adopted. In other words, the Republican party gave direct proof that it was not only willing but anxious to lend the movement for political reform and political regeneration.

The platform of the Republican party and the candidates in person stand for the purest and the most advanced ideas. The Republican state platform is linked with that of the Republican party of the nation. To separate the two is impossible. When you vote for Stuart you vote for the endorsement of the policies of Theodore Roosevelt. When you vote for Emery you give aid and sustenance to the supporters of William J. Bryan.

In plain words, we are going to decide in November whether we are Roosevelt Republicans or Bryan Democrats.

There will be those who will declare that their support of Emery is not an endorsement of Bryan. But it will be just the same.

The situation is one of deep interest and it is useless to deny that it is also one of concern. Two years before the nominating convention will be held, Bryan is as good as nominated already. State after state has declared for him through Democratic state conventions. During the past week two more states fell into line. Wisconsin went wild over his name and endorsed him outright as the standard bearer of 1908. Pennsylvania Democrats went on record in practically the same manner, for they hailed him as the great "Democratic commoner, who is now regarded as the certain successor of Theodore Roosevelt."

To drive the wedge in Pennsylvania the Bryan leadership has joined hands with the Lincolnites by taking the candidate of the latter for governor.

Opening Mass Meeting.

Philadelphia Republicans are deeply interested in what will probably be the initial meeting of the state campaign. It will be given in the Academy of Music in this city on Wednesday evening, September 12. The meeting is to be held in connection with an immense demonstration to be given under the auspices of friends and neighbors of Mr. Stuart in the southern section of the city. Leading businessmen and manufacturers are working with the Republican clubmen to make this occasion a grand success. It is predicted that there will be the largest turnout of Republican clubs ever made in that section of the city, and that the Academy of Music will not be large enough to hold the thousands who will join in this tribute to one of the most popular Philadelphians ever named for public office.

Stuart's Personal Strength.

There are new evidences given daily of the admitted strength of the Republican nominee for governor.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, an independent newspaper which supported Berry and the entire fusion ticket last fall, says:

"The nomination of Edwin S. Stuart for governor places at the head of the Republican state ticket a clean, upright and respected member of the party. It would not have been possible to find among the regular Republicans any other man of reputation who enjoys more of the good will of the people of Philadelphia than the ex-mayor, and this good will extends in large measure into the state."

"Throughout his career he has been associated with no scandals or abuses of his making or his sanction either in official life or in party management; his personal character is high, and his instincts as a citizen and as a party man are in the direction of honest politics and good government. His administration as mayor of Philadelphia was one of the two best under the Bullitt act, and in every public or semi-public post to which he has been summoned, his tact, sense and integrity have enabled him to be useful and successful."

"There is no doubt that Stuart is in entire sympathy with the strong platform on which he has been nominated, and that if elected governor he may be depended upon to carry it out in the purposes of his administration."

"Stuart today is unquestionably stronger than his party, or rather the party organization behind him."

ROOSEVELT IS ALERT

President Keenly Interested In Political Situation In Pennsylvania.

WANTS BIG REPUBLICAN VICTORY

His Visit to the York County Fair Will Not Be Simply to See the Prize Cattle.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, Aug. 28.

"President Roosevelt is not going to the York county fair simply to see the prize bulls, you can depend upon that," remarked a well-informed Washington correspondent a few days ago in discussing the president's anticipated visit to Pennsylvania next month. This newspaper man is in touch with members of the cabinet and other leading officials of the national administration, and he knows the keen interest the president and all of those associated with him are manifesting in the coming election.

While it is possible that at the dedication of the new capitol building here the president may not touch upon politics, there is reason to believe that in his remarks subsequently at the York county fair he will make clear his desire for the election of a Republican congress.

It is known that the president has made a number of inquiries regarding political conditions in Pennsylvania, and he has on more than one occasion expressed an earnest wish for the success of the Republican party in this state this fall.

President Roosevelt has taken advantage of several opportunities recently to arouse interest in the Republican cause.

Mr. Roosevelt's Dollar.

Anent his subscription to the Republican congressional committee's campaign fund, Editor Earle C. Tuten, of the Bellefonte Republican, has this to say about "Mr. Roosevelt's dollar":

"One of the first to heed the call of the chairman of the Republican campaign committee for one dollar contributions to the campaign fund is President Roosevelt. The president believes in the virtue of example and gives his dollar early with an implied injunction to all Republicans who share with him a true spirit of loyalty to party principle to go and do likewise. Undoubtedly the president's example will bear fruit. Its special value consists in the fact that every public act of the chief executive of the nation commands the attention of the whole people, and that accordingly his recognition of the dollar a head idea will bring the merit thereof home to hundreds of thousands of citizens who otherwise might let it pass unnoticed."

He Leads the Way.

"Naturally this simple device commends itself to the president because of the conditions which have made it necessary. In former times the great corporations were the chief donors of campaign funds, and very little money was obtained from the privates in the ranks of the political parties. Largely through Mr. Roosevelt's instrumentality, a death blow has been dealt to the practice of collecting funds from such sources."

"Henceforward, therefore, the campaign committee of all parties must look to individuals for the wherewithal to meet the heavy cost of campaigning. There should be no difficulty on this head if it is only possible to enlist individual attention and to inspire generally an adequate sense of partisan obligation. It is this that Mr. Roosevelt has in mind, and he has taken the one method of emphasizing his views where good results are sure to be achieved."

A State Dollar Fund.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, of the Republican state committee, has followed the lead of Chairman Sherman, of the congressional committee, and is soliciting one dollar subscriptions to the state campaign fund. The radical anti-corporation declarations made in the Republican platform in Pennsylvania, coupled with the knowledge that Edwin S. Stuart as governor will see that all the party pledges are carried out, will without doubt deter many capitalists from contributing to the Pennsylvania Republican state committee this year.

But this is to be "a people's battle," and the dollars of the people will bring returns in a triumphant Republican victory. Fortunately, the Republican party has cleaned its household and has placed itself in the van of reform legislation, thus giving no valid excuse for any Republican to desert the Republican ranks. If Emery stands for a principle, Stuart likewise stands for it, and Stuart, furthermore, has the advantage of representing the Republicanism of Theodore Roosevelt.

Common sense is going to win the coming battle in Pennsylvania, not hysteria, and when the people begin to see, as they will, that Stuart is a Republican who owes allegiance only to that which is best in Republicanism and not to individuals, that he is a Republican who stands shoulder to shoulder with Roosevelt for the Square Deal, they will discover only danger in the movement for Emery.
