Down on His Knees Went Berry.
 HARRISBURG, Oct. 8.—During the inspection of the capital after the parade on Thursday a party went to the governor's room. In it were Governor Pennypacker, Chief Justice Mitchell of the supreme court, Harbor Master Pollock, Speaker Walton and Al Hetherington, of Philadelphia. Thousands of admiring people were pouring through the building. As the governor's party entered one of the executive offices they found a figure down on his hands and knees looking at the carpet. It was State Treasurer Berry. Mr. Fow, who represents a textile district, gave a grunt of disgust. He walked over to Berry and said: "If you really want the truth about that carpet, I will tell you it is the finest made in the world. Moreover, it is a Pennsylvania product from start to finish, and was woven in Philadelphia. Moreover, if you are still interested, I will tell you the entire bill of the carpets for the whole capitol is less than the cost of a single rug in the Hotel Majestic in Philadelphia."
 Discussing the incident afterwards Mr. Fow said: "I am a democrat, but I have no sympathy with the attempt to belittle the greatest architectural achievement of the state for the sake of a little political capital. Any man who would see that building and find fault would wear a celluloid collar on Sunday or worse."
 "In its design Architect Joe Huston has builded himself a monument as great as the crowning glory in the life of Christopher Wren, St. Paul's London. No man can see that wonderful capitol and not feel proud that he is a Pennsylvanian."
 "Al Hetherington, who was with us, is an expert in fixtures and furnishings. He said the furnishings and chandeliers were the finest he ever saw, and that their duplicates did not exist in the world."
 "This great building was constructed without costing the people of Pennsylvania, one cent in taxes. Every cent was paid for out of taxes levied on the corporations whose bulk of business is done out of the state. There is no campaign material in Pennsylvania's new capitol."

The Right Man.
 Captain Charles F. Barclay, the Republican nominee for Congress from this District, stands for Personal Integrity Business Integrity Political Integrity.
 He represents the popular policy of our popular President; the sound standard of political economy that means stability in government; the maintenance of equal commercial opportunity in the use of transportation facilities; the control of corporate power by National supervision and authority.
 His patriotism was proven in the Civil War; his business capacity by honest success; his moral standard by the testimony of his neighbors.
 He represents the highest type of a citizen and when elected will represent the highest standard of official life.
 A vote for Barclay is a vote for a clean man. It is a vote for clean politics in the interest of a clean administration of just laws. He has never subverted business honor for commercial success; he will not barter political honor for official preferment.
 All men who desire the best in government, can conscientiously vote for Capt. Barclay.—Clearfield Journal.

Letter to R. H. Hirsch.
 Emporium, Pa.
 Dear Sir: You know, diamonds don't go by size. So with paint.
 We make paint, one gallon of which goes as far as two of another and lasts twice as long; that's four to one.
 You know it is true in diamonds; they don't go by the gallons, do they?
 If you're going to paint your house, you go first to your painter and say: "I'm going to paint; do you want the job? and what'll it cost?"
 If he happens to know, he'll say: "Depends on the paint. I can do it for somewhere about $100 or $200 which ever you like; $100 will make a good job, $200 a poor one."
 And you, if you happen to have your wife, "I'll say: 'I'll take the good one, white'll you do it?'"
 Painters ought, all, to know about paint; and jewelers ought to be able to get a good job. We do what we can to help both.
 One gallon Devoe is better than two of average paint, goes as far—that is, your house will take about 20 gallons Devoe and 40 of average paint—and Devoe will wear a long time; the life of average paint is very uncertain, it may be a year, it may be five.
 Why is it that painters don't know about paint? Do jewelers know about diamonds? They know more than they tell sometimes. There are painters and painters; so there are jewelers; so there is paint; and the least gallons paint is Devoe.
 Yours truly,
 F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
 New York.

DEATH'S DOINGS.
 MRS. P. P. FARREL.
 After a lingering illness of over three months Mrs. P. P. Farrel died at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullivan, Sr., Thursday evening, October 4th. Her death was caused by chronic bowel trouble. Every effort was made by expert doctors to save her, but without avail. Mrs. Farrel was twenty-four years of age and is survived by her husband, Mr. P. P. Farrel, and two daughters, Mary and Nora, both small children; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullivan, parents; four sisters and three brothers, besides two half brothers and one half sister. The funeral was held from St. Marks Catholic church, Emporium, Sunday, October 7th, The Rev. Father Hickey, of Allegheny, officiating. Funeral director B. Egan, of Emporium, had charge of the burial. All the near relatives were present except Mr. Farrel who is in British Columbia and who was unable to reach home in time to see his wife before she died or to attend the funeral. The two half brothers and the half sister were unable to come for the same reason. Mrs. Farrel was born and raised in Cameron and was well known and highly respected throughout Cameron county and her loss will be deeply mourned by her many friends who extend heartfelt sympathy to the family in their great bereavement.
 Our Maggie is called by the Father to come
 To share in the glory of His bright home;
 No more her voice in gentle tones
 Will our life's pathway cheer.
 May God give us the strength to bear
 Our heavy load of grief and care,
 For at His throne she's waiting there
 To meet her loved ones dear.
 Cameron, Pa., Oct. 9, 1906. JFS

Are We a Courteous People.
 "Are we Americans as courteous in all our relations of life as well-disposed visitors occasionally think us? Are we as courteous as mixed blood, equitable laws, and a prevailing sentiment of self-respect might be reasonably expected to make us? Do we not sometimes confound issues, confuse disinterestedness with politeness, and believe that, because good breeding comes from the heart, all good-hearted people are consequently well-bred? Yet there are men and women who stand ever ready to help their fellow-creatures, and who are seldom or ever polite to them. Dr. Johnson was one of the kindest of men, but of that courtesy which respects the feelings as well as the rights of others, he had never the faintest perception. "Now what harm does it do a man to contradict him," he used to say; and contradiction was the guiding principle of his talk. It is a guiding principle with people of much less intelligence to-day, and it gives to conversation a rough acerbity, destructive alike of pleasure and persuasiveness. It is supposed to be a masculine prerogative, but, like other masculine prerogatives, has been usurped by an advance guard of women."
 Agnes Repplier in the November Delinquent.

Autumn Exposition

The highest type of clothing for men, young men and boys. Nothing less will do for this age of high ideals. It is such clothing that is here to-day to be seen and tried on. We especially invite the skeptical man. Examine it, compare it, test it in any way that you may. Then you will appreciate its value.

In our departments fall lines of underwear, hosery, hats, caps, shoes, trunks, suit cases, are well stocked.

We are sole agents for the Stetson Hats, Crawford Shoes and Desbecker Block Tailoring Co. All the above named firms cannot be beat for styles and wear.

Jasper Harris,

Opposite Post-Office, Emporium, Pa.

The LaBelle

For Women $2.50

No other modern design so fully meets all the requirements of the ideal ladies shoe. It is an unequaled combination of style and fit, shapeliness and comfort. The high but rather broad heel, arched instep and slightly manish appearance makes it the swellest sort for the feet.

If you are a victim of faulty shoes, we can soon enable you to walk with ease and comfort, and eventually cure your tender feet. These shoes will wear twice as long as the ordinary "ready made" shoes and have a style and finish that is essentially distinctive.
