FROM OUR REPORTERS.

STERLING RUN.

Miss Brink is on a vacation to Philadelphia, New York and poets east. She is being relieved by Operator Morrison.

Miss O'Sullivan and Miss Brooks have resumed duty at school, after attending institute last week.

Dorsey Spangler, electrician for P. & E., spent Saturday in Erie.

Mr. Spangler, of Altoona, is spending a few days with his brother, Dorsey Spangler of this place.

Joseph Furlong is visiting his brother in Pittsburgh for a couple weeks.

Mr. Houser and wife, of Buffalo, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Houser's parents for a few days.

D. W. Eastman has quite a large contract delivering ties via P. & E., for an electric line down east, which is making things boom.

D. J. McDonald and Wm. Vrooman, of Diftwood, spent Sunday in town.

The city ought to put lights along the street across the bridge, as nights are so dark some of our young men find it difficult to keep their parent leathers out of the mud, on returning from that part of town about 11 p. m.

A thoroughbred black Holstein, cow belonging to Ebersole, while drinking from the reservoir on Monday, lost its equilibrium and fell in and but for the timely arrival of P. J. Robinson, proprietor of Sterling Run House, G. H. Howlett and O. H. Howlett, the cow would have been drowned. Sam ran for 500 feet of rope to drag the cow ashore but by time he returned the cow had been safely landed on terra firma, by simply giving her a sudden pull on the left horn. After rescuing the cow she was taken with severe chills but the timely application of hot drinks and blankets soon brought her to her normal condition. Shakspeare says:

Sammy Ebersole had an old cow,
That kicked up a duce of a row,
She jumped in the creek,
And made herself sick,
Without asking wherefore or how.
While Sammy ran after a rope,
The cow was beginning to choke,
But some men came along,
Pulled her out by the horns,
And then Sammy set up the smokes.

An Awful Cough Cured.

Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Sick Headache Cured.

Sick headache is caused by derangement of the stomach and by indigestion. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets correct these disorders and effect a cure. By taking these tablets as soon as the first indications of the disease appears, the attack may be warded off. Get a free sample and try them. For sale by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Palm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Keep the bowels open when you have a cold and use a good remedy the inflammations of the mucous membranes. The best is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates, moves the bowels, drives out the cold. Is reliable and tastes good. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

CAMERON.

G. W. Wood, of Grampian, Pa., was in town Friday and Saturday, looking over his property here, the Valley Houses, with a view to making some extensive repairs.

Mrs. Gilbert Morse of Emporium, who has been visiting her son, W. H. Morse, returned home Saturday.

J. P. Lynch, one of the Penny plumbers from Renovo shops, placed the heating furnace in the cellar of the new tower Saturday.

As't Supervisor, R. H. Robb, of Diftwood, was looking over the waterline to furnish the station and tower with spring water.

J. H. Robinson spent a few hours in Diftwood Sunday, among friends.

A. A. Smith, spent Sunday with his family at Lock Haven.

Chas. Johnson of Emporium, who will have charge of the interlocking and electric plant here, expects to locate here in the near future.

Rosa Lawson, of Beechwood, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Robinson, this week.

Wm. Wykoff is helping in the erection of William Hathaway's new house, which is being built on the old Strawbridge farm, about two miles below here. Mr. Hathaway, purchased this farm some time ago. He was formerly in the hotel business at Emporium.

The Emporium visitors for this week were: Albert Lord, Jr., F. E. Comley, J. H. Robinson, D. C. Linniger, John Levenski, R. D. Graham, E. M. McFadden, A. F. Walker, Chas. Pennington, M. Phoenix, J. P. Eddy, E. D. Krape, J. H. Yocum, John Schwab, B. W. McClure. The ladies were: Hulda Olsen, Mesdames Greenaleh, Margaret Sullivan, C. H. Lupro, Wm. Greenalch, C. B. Potter, Wm Wykoff, John Schwab.

G. L. Page, the hustling operator, secured two fine pheasants on Friday. As there were no shot marks on them it was discovered that one died of heart failure and the other was blind and hit its head against a tree. However, aside from the above the birds were in excellent condition.

J. F. S.

HUNTLEY.

Elmer Hill, of Grove Hill, spent Sunday with W. R. Smith.

B. J. Collins and crew are finishing their corn crop, the heaviest in many years.

Weasels killed 17 nice pullets and two ducks for Operator Sullivan Monday night. It never rains, but it pours.

The Diftwood callers this week were: W. H. Logue, J. F. Sullivan and Henry Layton.

We have had plenty of rain the past week. That is about all we have had since payday.

A. W. Smith Henry Layton are building a winter camp in Wylie Run, as they have a large contract of the making for the coming winter.

Quite a number of our townsmen were Emporium callers Tuesday.

W. H. Logue's buckwheat flour, together with his number one salt pork and York State cheese, are the best advertisements that could be desired for his increasing trade. Mrs. Henry Layton still holds the medal for baking the best pancakes in the county.

Referee W. H. Logue announces a "six round go" on Friday evening, between A. T. Smith, of Huntley, and A. W. Smith, of Sterling Run. Both boys are wonders in their class and A. W. Smith's footwork is especially good. Samuel Barr, of Sterling Run, will challenge the winner. Delegations from Rich Valley, Sterling Run, Castle Garden and Mason Hill will be present. Music will be furnished by W. R. Smith's brass band. Everybody invited.

J. F. S.

GROVE HILL.

Hellen and Grace Jordan are visiting on the hill this week.

The recent snow and freeze was very hard on our tropical fruits.

J. S. Jordan is assisting his son Albert reducing grain this week.

T. M. Hill made a flying trip to Diftwood the early part of the week, time 2:04.

Albert Jordan has purchased a machine that looks to us very much like a stump puller, but he informs us that while it will pull stumps it is better adapted to enticing potatoes from the ground and he has accepted a contract from Squire Robinson to harvest his potato crop.

A gentleman from a county outside of the district, while on a visit here made the remark "that Cameron county was a hundred years behind the times and that the people were heathens," but when we gently whispered to him that little Cameron county had some of the best talent, including electricians, poets, teachers and last but not least the best lady butter makers and poultry raisers in the country, also that we were going to elect a president Judge and a member of Congress from Cameron county, the aforesaid gentleman went way back and laid down. It is needless to add that the party in question was a Democrat. Moral: Vote for Judge Green and subscribe for the PRESS.

Institute on Wednesday, October 17th, was formally opened in the morning by prayer led by Rev. John E. Calvin, followed by singing for ten minutes under the able leadership of Prof. Yoder. The next period of time was given to Prof. Green, whose topic was "The Keystone State in Literature." In strong forceful language the speaker urged upon all the crying need of more intimate knowledge, of more familiarity with writers and poets in Pennsylvania, who has added to the literary world such talented writers in prose and poetry as Dr. S. Wier Mitchell, Stephen Foster, Bayard Taylor and others of equal genuineness and merit. Dr. Howarth followed Prof. Green. The Dr's. sub. just was "The Raw Material of the Public School." He spoke of the necessity of arousing the interest of the child in school and school work, by the employment of any of all legitimate methods and of the equally important task, which once that interest has been aroused, of directing the same to the lasting good of the child.

In the place of the regular intermission a short period of time was spent in singing, following this Dr. Becht, to the great satisfaction of his hearers, spoke on "The What and How in Arithmetic." Owing to a limited time in which to speak, the Dr. omitted the "How" of his subject and devoted his attention only to the "What." His plea was for elimination of useless matter in Arithmetic and the substitution of practical, that arithmetic may be of real value to the child when he leaves the school and enters into his life's work. One thing specially urged upon teachers was the absolute necessity of urging and impressing upon pupils the value of accuracy, first, last and always. After Dr. Becht's talk, Institute stood adjourned until 1:30 in the afternoon.

The afternoon session was opened as usual by singing; following this Dr. Howarth spoke at great length upon the subject he lightly touched upon in the morning, viz: "The importance of directing interest, once aroused, in the right channel"—his forcible, witty and interesting remarks, were as always directly to the point and listened to with great attention. Miss Collins then introduced an old friend to Cameron county teachers, Prof. Sweeney of Elk county, who made a brief, interesting address, followed by the presentation to the audience of Prof. Tietrick of Jefferson county, who in turn gave an earnest address of short duration. Both addresses were carefully followed by the hearers. Dr. Becht on "The Spelling Problem," claimed and held the entire attention of his audience for the next period. The use of devices, original or otherwise was commended by Dr. Becht in the endeavor to make good spellers out of the "rising generation"; incidentally, too, in the course of his remarks the speaker paid his respects to the list of the three hundred words spelled phonically and endorsed so enthusiastically by our president.

Dr. Green followed Dr. Becht with a most charming talk on "The Westminster Abby," which was quite as enjoyable, and far less expensive, than an actual visit, to that most interesting building. Prof. Yoder sang a solo and was so happy in his selection and rendition that an encore was vigorously demanded. Prof. Yoder complied with the demand and gave a very humorous little song, that was much enjoyed. Thursday morning session opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Robertson of the Episcopal church, followed by singing. Dr. Green occupied the first period and to the un-disguised pleasure and profit of his hearers. Dr. Howarth spoke during the next period on "Educational Forces"—the ones touched on being Heredity, Environment and Effort. The committee on the reading course for the next year, reported the two books selected to be Recitation by Dr. Hamilton and Essentials in American History. Prof. Yoder sang a solo, "Swinging in the Grapevine swing," enjoyed by all. Dr. Becht added to his talk on "What in Arithmetic," by mentioning some of the useless subjects that could with mutual profit to teacher and pupil be omitted from our text books.

The afternoon session opened promptly at 1:30 with singing. Dr. Howarth spoke during the first period on "A Literal Education," less frills, less obtruse, more real everyday material that can be used in every walk of life. Miss Collins then introduced Prof. Ira N. McCloskey of Clinton county who responded in a few well chosen words. Dr. Becht spoke during the next period on "The Gospel of the Higher Education," proving conclusively to all that it pays to be educated, and if the pay corresponds to the amount of education, the most sordid mind must appreciate the fact that "Education Pays." This was Dr. Becht's last talk and was a most powerful plea for the birthright of every child—on education. Prof. Yoder sang a fine solo and responded to an encore. Dr. Green occupied the last period with "A Peep at a Century of Literature," a most charming talk on general lines, highly enjoyed.

Friday morning, the last session of Institute was opened by music after which Dr. Green led in prayer. The first period of this session was chosen by Dr. Green for his farewell address, the subject being "October in Literature." He strongly urged upon the teachers the choosing of reading lessons to fit in with existing conditions and also the observance of noted birthdays occurring in October. Dr. Howarth followed with a last talk, his subject being "The Finished Product." The Dr. spoke of the value of concentration in education, even to such a degree as to produce absentmindedness, that being but a temporary result of a lasting benefit, also of the value of teaching the child to express himself clearly, concisely and with exactness, and of the importance of an aesthetic and social training in school. Miss Collins read a letter from Senator Landis in regard to the Stevens Memorial, in which he stated that Cameron county, averaged higher in contribution than any other county, concluding Miss Collins spoke a few of farewell to the teachers in which she urged upon them the great importance of attending the Educational Sessions, of being faithful in their work and keeping ever before them a high standard. At the conclusion of her remarks, the 4th annual institute of Cameron county stood adjourned for the last time.

The evening entertainments given during Institute week, as a part of the same, were of a high order and were unanimously enjoyed by all in attendance. While all were of a high grade, there were certain features of each that were especially enjoyed, as for instance the fine quartette singing of the DeKovens and the solo of "Sing me a Sleep;" the violin playing of Miss Blanch Sears on Tuesday night and the "Dainty Dolly Varden" of Thursday night. Wednesday night's entertainment, "A Lecture on Panama" proved to be an evening of great pleasure and profit, during which his hearers gained a vividly clear conception of Panama and the stupendous work being carried on there.

RESOLUTIONS. We the teachers of Cameron county assembled in the forthright annual session of the Teachers' Institute, in order to show our appreciation of the efforts put forth by the County Superintendent and the instructors, also of the support given by the general public; adopt the following resolutions: Resolved 1. That our cordial thanks are hereby given to our efficient superintendent for her able and dignified management, and for her presence over our meetings, and for having secured us so competent a corps of instructors and that we appreciate the labors of the same. Resolved 2. That to the very able corps of instructors, who have so ably and profitably instructed us during the week, we extend our thanks. Resolved 3. That we extend our thanks to the clergy for conducting the devotional services of the week. Resolved 4. That to the papers of this county, to the hotels and railroads, to the public in general, we express our appreciation for their courtesy and hospitality. Resolved 5. That to Miss Abbie Metzger, the musician, we extend our thanks for her services during the week.

Resolved 6. That we hereby express our appreciation of the interest shown by the superintendents of the neighboring counties, in visiting our institute.

Resolved 7. That to Prof. Yoder we express our hearty appreciation and thanks for the splendid solos and for his work in leading the music.

The Capitol's Cost Will Soon Be Known.

I. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent of Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 19.—A complete and thorough investigation of every official act of the capitol commission and of public grounds and buildings commission in connection with the new state capitol will be made by a legislative committee. There is sufficient authority for making this flat statement, although no member of the state administration or of the legislature cares to take the responsibility of saying so at this time. But sentiment in this direction is so strong there is no longer any doubt on the subject.

The investigation is sure to come, but it will not be forced by the Democrats. It will be carried through at the instance of Republicans who refuse to lie under the charges and insinuations of State Treasurer Berry and the fusionists. Republican state officials and Republican legislators believe the new capitol was erected honestly and that there was no graft in it. And they feel the only way to prove this beyond any reasonable doubt is by a legislative investigation.

On the other hand if such investigation should disclose crookedness of any sort, then the Republicans want the crooks tagged and prosecuted, Gov. Pennypacker and Attorney General Carson stand pledged to the punishment of any guilty man.

Hence the wild and unsupported charges of Treasurer Berry upon the stamp amount to nothing. Within three months the whole truth will be known. If there has been overcharge, fraud or substitution of inferior materials in the capitol building the people will know it. And if, as Gov. Pennypacker and other members of the commonwealth believe, the work has been done honestly and fairly, then Mr. Berry will stand convicted of misrepresentation and of uttering false statements for political effect.

Council Proceedings.

Special meeting Borough Council, Emporium, Oct. 22nd, 1906.

Present, Messrs. Cramer, Fisher, Friendel, Gregory, White and Green. Absent: Messrs. Marshall, Hamilton and Julian.

The President explained that the meeting was called for the purpose of taking action on sidewalk grades.

Moved by Mr. White, seconded by Mr. Gregory that the Street Committee be instructed to have Engineer Jones make surveys on Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets, and on Allegheny and Woodland Avenue for the purpose of fixing the grades of sidewalks thereon, and make report at next regular meeting of Council. "Carried Unanimously."

The meeting then adjourned.

EDITOR PRESS:—We receive the PRESS regularly, but some times it takes two weeks getting here, possibly coming via Panama or Canada. It makes no difference so it gets here, giving us all the news from Cameron county. I am a full pledged Washingtonian now and expect to deposit a vote in Nov. There are two of us now in our house. Were it possible to vote by proxy I would prefer to cast my vote in Cameron county this fall, for you have unquestionably good candidates on the entire ticket—men for whom I should be delighted to vote. Here it is different, I know nothing of our candidates. However, I shall exercise my right of suffrage, for the best good of the country. Hoping that the Republican bird may be at the head of the columns next Nov. I remain,

Very Respectfully,

A. CHAPMAN.

Nick Russell, the owner of the Big Comedy Company that bears his name, and which opens the season at the Emporium Opera House cannot read a note of music. Those who see him in his vaudeville stunt in which he plays a piano with boxing gloves on and in many and divers other extraordinary ways, will acknowledge that he is a musical wonder and worthy of the title that has been bestowed upon him, "the human pianola." Several other strong vaudeville acts will be seen with the show including the Australian acrobats, the Bedell Bros.; The Twentieth Century Trio, The Hawks; Louise Robbins; the petite soubrette in imitation of famous plays, and George Edwards, the funny German comedian. The opening bill on Thursday evening, Nov. 1st will be "Peaceful Valley," the play that made Sol Smith Russell famous, and which will be presented for the first time at popular prices, 15, 25 and 35 cents. Secure your seats at H. S. Lloyd's book store.

Letter to Harry S. Lloyd.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: Here's a tale with three or four tails to it.

Professor Irvine has an Academy, Mercersburg, Penn. He paints the floor in summer vacation. It used to take 90 gallons of paint. There were two paint stores there, and he used to buy (one year of one, next year of the other) 90 gallons year after year.

Now he paints Devoe, 60 gallons; and the difference is a saving of $150 a year.

H. C. Fallon was one of those dealers; good man; but he wouldn't take-up Devoe; so we turned to the other, J. A. Boyd. But Fallon has found it necessary to get a good paint to compete with Devoe. He got one of the eight honest paints. He has a big hardware store and is doing an excellent hardware business, but Boyd, of course, has the run on paint—he's a little hardware man.

We don't care how little or big a man is, if he wants good paint and is active and sound.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
New York.
