The Pope Comments.

ROME, Dec. 17.—The Pope is rejoicing that the happenings in France are not so serious as had been feared. He expressed the hope that the good sense of the French people would end in their finding a way to triumph over the present difficulties.

The pontiff received Cardinal Satolli, who was former papal delegate in the United States. The cardinal explained the situation with regard to Catholicism in the United States, saying the benevolent attitude of the states toward religion resulted in the complete and dignified liberty of the church.
"That," explained the pope, "is really a regime of progress."

This charming gold decorated line of glass is finding great favor this year, and certainly make beautiful and acceptable presents.

It is a sort of compromise between cut glass and hand painted china and works in beautifully with both.
The new tinted decorations are very artistic and the large assortment at Metzger's will enable any one to be suited. By the way if you haven't been through Metzger's store lately you have missed a treat and will be astonished at the splendid line he has. It will be well worth your time even if you do not want to buy a thing and he will be just as glad to see you.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merit for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. E. A. Humphreys, well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock, of Alice, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and colds in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.
