BEDS ON WHEELS.

"WAIT FOR THE WAGONS AND WE'LL ALL TAKE A RIDE;" AND SLEEP AS WELL.

(By W. M. Wright.)

NORFOLK, VA.—If the question where shall I sleep while attending the Jamestown Exposition has been troubling any one there is now no use for further anxiety. If "Necessity is the Mother of Invention," Genius is the father, and of him it cannot be said "Everybody works but father." The old man has been exceedingly busy for many years and every time the Mother of Necessity told him that the "kid" needed anything he at once produced it. He has never been yanked up in the church or courts for non-support or dereliction of duty.

For some time Old Mother Necessity has been distressed because Invention did not provide some means by which the denizens of this mundane sphere could carry their houses along with them something after the order of the tortoise. She finally mentioned it to Father Genius and he sat down and pondered over the problem for a few minutes and then went out to a manufacturer of vehicles and gave them a friendly tip.

The result is that visitors to the Jamestown Exposition need have no further anxiety about where they will repose at night if all the hotels, boarding houses and park benches are full.

They can stand on a corner of the grounds or some of the streets or avenues of the grounds for a few minutes and a handsome equipage will drive along. They will hail it and say, "I wish to retire at some desirable spot along the water front on Hampton Roads and be left at the Military Catering Company's cafe for breakfast. They will then step into the vehicle and the driver will seek the desired spot; dismount from his seat, touch a spring and the team will walk away. He will touch another spring and lo! and behold, the guests will find themselves sitting in a cozy little room with berths on each side, Brussels carpet on the floor and all other modern conveniences, figuratively speaking. The driver will then take the team to another like equipage and attach them to it and set out for another "fare." In the morning he will land them all at their breakfast rendezvous and collect fare.

This may be a little over-drawn but it is virtually descriptive of a vehicle that is now in use for touring in wagons for market purposes and various other uses. It is built with a collapsible top that in a few minutes can be transformed into a market booth with roof and walls and a stand on which to display vegetables or other produce, or into a neat compartment. When assembled it looks very much like a regular handsome covered delivery wagon with side windows, such as you see every day in cities.

Prisoners Sentenced.

At argument court held last week Judge Hall sentenced the following persons, who plead guilty:

Daniel McFadden, larceny, fifteen months in penitentiary.

William Smith, larceny, 18 months in penitentiary.

Sensabaw and Best, larceny, sixty and ninety days in jail.

Considerable business was transacted. Judge Hall decided to hold argument court once each month—the first Tuesday after the first Monday.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

COLEMAN.

MRS. SARAH F. COLEMAN, aged 88 years and three months, passed away—peacefully slept away—Thursday, Feb. 7th, 1907, at five o'clock, p. m., at the residence of her son, Mr. E. G. Coleman, West Fourth street. Grandma Coleman was one of the sweetest characters it has ever been our good fortune to know. Her advanced age might, and usually does, enfeeble one of her age, but in her case—until the last few months—she was as spry and jolly as a young girl, full of fun, witty and entertaining. Coming to Emporium about fourteen years ago she rapidly became a favorite and every one had a pleasant word for her. Her kind and dutiful son, our esteemed friend, Mr. E. G. Coleman, was untiring in his efforts to make her life pleasant and nothing that money or attention could do to make her last days comfortable was denied her. Grandma Coleman's husband, who in his early days was mate to a ship Captain and cruised upon the high seas, died about fifteen years ago. Deceased leaves three children, viz: Mrs. Coe, Wampsville, N. Y., E. G., at home and another son, an invalid. Funeral services were held at the residence Sunday afternoon, Rev. Johnston pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiating. The remains were taken to Tidouite, Pa., Monday morning and interred Tuesday, beside her deceased husband. Mr. Coleman, on account of illness, was unable to accompany the remains, but his sister, Master Edward Coleman and Miss E. Marth, of Olean, attended to the sad duty. At Tidouite they met hosts of friends who loved the dear old lady as fondly as did her Emporium friends.

ROBINSON.

MRS. JANE ROBINSON, aged 66 years, one month and 24 days, died at the family residence West Fifth street, Sunday morning, Feb. 10th, 1907, of pneumonia, after an illness of only a few days. Mrs. Robinson accompanied her husband the late Thos. Robinson, to Emporium, from New York city about forty years ago, and has resided here ever since, rearing a large family. Being a lady of more than average intelligence it was chiefly due to her good planning and economy that the family secured an excellent property. She maintained the respect of our citizens with whom she lived these many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson came to America from the North of Ireland, where the wife early in life united with the Episcopal church and reared her family in that faith. In addition to a large family of her own she has assisted in caring for her grand children. Of the nine children born to them, all are alive but three, and the living children were in attendance at the funeral, viz: Mrs. Lizzie Reed, of Johnsonburg, and John, Andrew, Anson and Thos. of town. The children, all of whom were greatly devoted to their mother, have lost their best friend and will feel more keenly each day their loss.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon from the old home, at two o'clock, services being conducted at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, of which the deceased was a member and loved to attend when her domestic duties permitted.

DALPHY.

Albert Dalphy, aged 51 years, six months and three days, passed over to the great beyond, Tuesday morning, after an illness of several years. Mr. Dalphy, who came here many years ago from Rutland, Vt., was always, when able, an industrious man and good citizen. He leaves a faithful wife who patiently cared for him during his long illness. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, West Fourth street, Rev. Cleaver officiating.

KINSLER.

Mrs. Kinsler, aged 72 years, mother of Jos. and Frank Kinsler, and Mrs. Adam Market, died at the residence of the latter at Sizerville, Tuesday night, of Bright's disease, after an illness of two years. Her remains will be brought to Jos. Kinsler's residence this afternoon, the funeral taking place at St. Mark's Church at nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

Letter to Tax Payers of Shippen.

EDITOR PRESS:—

Fellow citizens of Shippen! I do not feel that I disgraced the public who elected me in 1905 Supervisor, nor the man who appointed me Road Master in 1906. I have worked no other man's team in my name. I will show by my report only 330 hours for my team and teamster. While the general funds lasted, in six months I don't say that our bill was not big on West Creek. Two iron bridges were erected and four stone bridges and iron for another bridge. It has cost Shippen township nearly $150 to pay the Road Master to meet with the Supervisors. If the law was enforced to meet twelve times a year it would have been only half the price and reduce livery bills one-half. I asked the President of the Board of Supervisors why we should meet every two weeks, when he replied that "they could not live on their creek without meeting every two weeks." I can show teams and teamsters for all the teams I hired and who drove them. Hit where it may, my January report, dated Jan. 26th, 1907, for men and teams, was $72.25, for filling the Beechwood bridge approach. Jan. 26th, 1907, the report on main stream was eighty hours, for one man and fifty hours for team, $36.00. I am not in the "ring," neither am I a coward.

JACOB ANDREWS,

Road Master.

The Schehlmann Memorial Organ at College Park, Va.—A Project Started by the Late Miss Anna Metzger.

When Miss Anna Metzger was first called to Randolph-Macon Woman's College at College Park, Va., her work was in association with that of the late Professor Schehlmann, whom at his death a year or two later she succeeded as the head of the musical department. In her characteristic spirit of generous appreciation of the work of another, she started the project of providing an organ in the new college schapel as a memorial to Professor Schehlmann. She was not permitted to see the completion of her undertaking, but it is a source of deep gratification to her friends to know that the organ has been installed. It will stand as a monument to her generous and enthusiastic spirit; as well as a memorial to her predecessor.

The following is an extract from a letter to Mr. George Metzger, Sr., from Mrs. W. B. Lane, a member of the faculty at Randolph-Macon, under date of the 7th inst:

"Last Saturday night the V. P. I., Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Frank Abbott, gave a concert in the college chapel for the benefit of the Schehlmann Memorial Organ, an enterprise which Miss Metzger launched last year. She would have been glad to see the fine instrument that her thoughtfulness and resource and musical magnetism were largely instrumental in securing for the college, as it stands in its nave in its new chapel. That of course was not to be, but I thought you might be interested to know of the success of her project. And also I feel like telling you of the profound impression that was made upon the audience, consisting of town people and students, when the Glee Club sang a hymn set to one of Miss Metzger's own compositions. The tribute of silence that was eloquent, and of tears that would not stop, manifested the double influence of her musical power and of her beloved memory over the hearts of the people who knew her and of those who knew her not. And I am sure that the public here, as well as her private friends, who are many, will not let her memory die easily or soon among us."

Wanamaker's Home Burned.

Jenkintown, Feb. 9.—Lyndenhurst, the handsome country estate of John Wanamaker, was completely ruined by fire last evening. The expensive furnishings, with the exception of practically all of many valuable paintings, were destroyed. Half a dozen fire companies were powerless, owing to the freezing up of the water supply. The loss will exceed $1,000,000 and may reach $1,500,000. Mr. Wanamaker and family are in Philadelphia during the winter, and the country house is in charge of a caretaker.

One by one the grip patients place their names on the roll. The grip is just the same as Sherman called war.

Mountaineer Minstrels.

The much talked of minstrel entertainment advertised for last Friday evening, was a great success, the opera house being packed to its capacity, many being in attendance from other towns.

PART FIRST.

Interlocutor, Robt. H. Lyons; Tambos, Harry Derby, Jay P. Feit, John Quigley; Bones, Thos. Law, Clyde Fisher, Emmett C. Tullis, with the following array of talent: Jos. Burnside, Carl Blair, Russell McQuay, Gus. Whitmer, Frances Quinn, Enoch Buckley, Earl Saunders, Clifford Burkhardt, Frank Burfield, Chas. Leutze, W. S. Sterner, Chas. Shives, Cliff S. Larrabee and Geo. A. Walker. The circle formed in the above order with Prof. A. C. Brehm's orchestra elevated upon a platform at the rear of stage called a hearty reception when the curtain was "rung" up. The songs and jokes were hugely appreciated and pleased the vast audience. The boys very creditably filled their parts and for almost three hours entertained far above the traveling minstrels. They did not run out of material and had time permitted could have added many pleasing features. After the first part Prof. J. W. Lee, the champion slack wire walker, entertained the audience and was good. The favorite dancers, Jos. Farrell and Dawson Wright came in for a hearty encore, as did Sam Parks with his old-time jig dance. "Lafayette" Leon Felt and "LaCardo" Quigley in their slight of hand tricks were clever. Prof. Buckley in his contortion acts met with favor, as did Prof. Fisk's saw wood musical tricks. J. M. Davison delighted the audience with a cornet solo and was called to the front twice.

Space will not permit us to particularize further, yet we must state that the success of the entertainment is largely due to the persistent and hard work of M. J. Harris, the manager, who was ably assisted by Mr. Brehm, who gave much time and declined to accept one penny for his services. The boys will make the minstrel feature a permanent thing, believing the plan will please the general public more than dances and entertain all classes. The net proceeds were $245.33.

Congressman Barclay Banqueted.

While visiting in Harrisburg last week for the purpose of getting better acquainted with the Representatives and Senators of this Congressional district, Capt. C. F. Barclay was tendered a reception and banquet at Senate hotel. The occasion which took place on Wednesday evening, of last week, was highly complimentary to the Congressman-elect, being attended by all members in the district, regardless of party. Speaker F. B. McClain was a guest of honor. Our general Representative in Congress, after March 4th, makes friends wherever he goes and had the election been postponed his large and handsome majority would have been very materially increased.

Token of Gratitude.

The numerous employees of the Emporium Furnace Company overwhelmed their employer, Mr. Brady, last Saturday, when they presented him with an expensive and handsome travelling satchel, including a full set of brushes, combs, etc., each of sterling silver. The satchel is made of black English Walrus leather, gold trimmings. It is certainly a beauty—too nice to use. While Mr. Brady is delighted with the present and appreciates the kindness of his employees he hesitated to carry it when he went to New York on Tuesday, fearing the porters would take him for Harriman and expect a $2 tip.

Charm Lost.

Five dollars reward will be paid for the recovery of an Elk's Charm, that was lost in Emporium. "E. E. M." engraved on reverse side of charm. Finder will please leave same at New Warner House.

The Candidates.

The voters of Emporium should, and no doubt will, study carefully the several candidates nominated, all names appearing in this issue of the PRESS. The strong ticket placed in the field represents the best interests of the taxpayers and will receive the support of a majority of the voters. Study well the merits of the candidates and vote intelligently. The main contest appears to be on constable and collector and school director in Middle ward. Don't be caught by any clap trap arguments for an object. Study well all points and the wherefores.

Home Made Catarrh Cure.

Any one can mix right at home the best remedy of its kind known. The name "Cyclone" is given to the following prescription, it is supposed because of its promptness in driving from the blood and system every vestige of catarrhal poison, relieving this foul and dread disease, no matter where located. To prepare the mixture: Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This is a harmless, inexpensive mixture, which has a peculiar action upon the sensitive tissues of the Kidneys, assisting them to filter and strain from the blood and system all catarrhal poisons, which, if not eradicated, are absorbed by the mucous membrane, and an open sore or catarrh is the result.

Prepare some and try it, as it is the prescription of an eminent catarrh specialist of national reputation.
