

IS LEARNING FARMING

JOSEPH MEDILL PATTERSON
STUDYING AGRICULTURE.

Young Millionaire Socialist of Chicago
a Student at Wisconsin University—Plans to Run a Model Dairy.

Madison, Wis.—There came to the Wisconsin state university last fall a young man who told the professors that he wanted to learn how to milk a cow and plow and sow and mix bran-mash for hogs—he wanted to learn to be a farmer.

This was nothing extraordinary, because there are several hundreds of farmers' sons there now taking the course in agriculture. Very many of them are earning their own way. But when the newcomer gave his name even the staid professors who teach the rotation of crops and the methods of preparing ensilage were surprised.

The new student didn't need to learn how to work. He is a millionaire and has an income now of $50,000 a year, with more to come. His name is Joseph Medill Patterson, Yale graduate, who intends to live what he calls "the honest life," despite his fortune and his expectations. He means to do his share of the everyday labors of men less fortunate than he.

His golf clubs are left to grow rusty in their bag. His automobile has been disposed of. Society is a closed book now. What he purposes to do is to establish a model dairy on a large farm near Chicago. He expects to supply high-class dairy products to the sick and ailing.

To begin with, he is living the simple life. He took his family to Madison, and they have taken an eight-room cottage near the university. Any carpenter or dairyman could well afford to live in it. Four or five times a day the young man walks over from his modest home to his dairy work at the university.

The household consists of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, their two baby girls and two maids. What little leisure the young man enjoys is spent at home, playing with his babies or reading.

Occasionally he finds time to write for the socialist press. For these articles he refuses pay, but when he writes for the every-day magazines he demands the regular recompense that would go to any writer.

Just now Mr. Patterson is working so hard over the problems of scientific dairying and up-to-date agriculture that he hasn't had any time to write about his socialistic ideas. The course he is taking is arranged for two years, each term lasting four months. The other eight months of the year are spent in practical work on the farm. Mr. Patterson thinks he can get all he needs in one year.

Dean W. A. Henry has arranged a special course for him, and it requires 36 hours a week. The usual course takes only about half as many hours. The studies include the value of different feeds for livestock, dairying, livestock judging, plant life, soils, selection of seeds, agricultural engineering, veterinary science, farm mechanics and similar subjects.

The young millionaire pays a tuition fee of $42.75, of which $35 is because he is not a resident of Wisconsin, seven dollars for general incidental purposes and 75 cents for the privileges of the general gymnasium. He is regarded by the faculty as an exceptionally good student and by his fellow students as an agreeable associate.

Few of the latter, however, really know who he is because of the short time he has been at the university.

and because of his rather retiring disposition. He mingles freely with the 3,000 students in the institution, meeting many of them on the campus, in classroom, at the gymnasium and libraries.

Mr. Patterson has bought a farm of 220 acres at Libertyville, Ill., 35 miles northwest of Chicago, and will make his future home there. He is building a new house and a number of stock barns on it, and intends to stock it with thoroughbreds and make it a model farm in all respects.

Mr. Patterson's father is Robert W. Patterson, editor of the Chicago Tribune, a graduate of Williams, and a son of the late Rev. R. W. Patterson. His mother is a daughter of the late Joseph Medill, one of the founders of the Chicago Tribune. Young Patterson was editor-in-chief of the Tribune during the absence of his father in Europe in the fall of 1904.

Excellent Advice Which Our Readers Will Benefit By.

Now is the time to get the rheumatic poisons and foul acids from the blood and system, states an eminent authority, who says that Rheumatism and Kidney trouble are caused by the blood, which often becomes sour from excessive acids, and also tells what to do to make it pure and healthy.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple blood cleaner and tonic at the first sign of Rheumatism, or if your back aches or you feel that the kidneys are not acting right. Any one can easily prepare this mixture at home.

Statesman's Simple Life. Herr Bebel, perhaps the most impressive orator in the German reichstag, usually speaks without notes of any kind, thinking as he goes. Not even well off, he leads the simplest of lives, shunning society and finding his chief recreation in the cultivation of flowers. He told an interviewer once that when he wants to get ready for a speech he goes into his little garden and trims the rose trees.

Buttons Their Own Waists. New York Women Have Surmounted Great Obstacle.

Marvelous as it may seem, New York women have lately discovered a way of fastening their waists up the back without calling for assistance. Thought not lacking in generosity, they became so tired of the outstretched palm of the chambermaids that they now feel that it is time to guard their pockets. The Gotham woman discovered that if she put her blouse on hind side before, with the sleeves hanging free, it could be fastened from top to bottom, with the exception of the hooks at the neck, and then turned around and the arms slipped into the sleeves without unduly straining the fastenings. So simple! So strange that no one had thought of it before. Or is it possible other women have used the plan and meanly kept it to themselves? Will the waist that buttons in the back now have a new lease of life?

GOOD NATURED AGAIN. Good Humor Returns with Change to Proper Food.

"For many years I was a constant sufferer from indigestion and nervousness amounting almost to prostration," writes a Montana man.

"My blood was impoverished, the vision was blurred and weak, with moving spots before my eyes. This was a steady daily condition. I grew ill-tempered, and eventually got so nervous I could not keep my books posted, nor handle accounts satisfactorily. I can't describe my sufferings.

"Nothing I ate agreed with me, till one day I happened to notice Grape-Nuts in a grocery store and bought a package, out of curiosity to know what it was.

"I liked the food from the very first, eating it with cream, and now I buy it by the case and use it daily. I soon found that Grape-Nuts food was supplying brain and nerve force as nothing in the drug line ever had done or could do.

"It wasn't long before I was restored to health, comfort and happiness. Through the use of Grape-Nuts food my digestion had been restored, my nerves are steady once more, my eyesight is good again, my mental faculties are clear and acute, and I have become so good-natured that my friends are truly astonished at the change. I feel younger and better than I have for 20 years. No amount of money would induce me to surrender what I have gained through the use of Grape-Nuts food." MAN OF DELICATE NERVES.

Rosenthal, the Pianist, Made Much Trouble in Hotel.

Rosenthal, the pianist, is one of those entitled to have his crankiness termed "the eccentricities of genius," says the San Francisco Chronicle. When he inspected his rooms at the Majestic upon his arrival very late the other night, he went softly to the adjoining doors, and placing his ears close to the cracks, exclaimed in broken English, "Zgodd, no sounds pass thees." After nodding his approval of the grand piano and the furniture he frowned at the tan-colored window shades. "Must be green." He was assured that a change would be made especially for him the next day.

At five o'clock in the morning Rosenthal, clad only in his pajamas, came scurrying excitedly down stairs and into the office, where the drowsy night clerk was nodding at the desk. "Ze street cars! Noise! Must stopped! Nervous me! I cannot sleep."

The clerk hurriedly sent for Manager Gustav Mann, and Mann spent two hours telling Rosenthal funny stories in German trying to divert his mind while the clerk was upstairs squaring the magement for waking a guest on the Gough street side and ordering him to move at once to the Sutter street side as a gas pipe had burst under the floor and had to be repaired!

PE-RU-NA A MEDICAL COMPOUND

In any medical compound as much depends upon the manner in which it is compounded as upon the ingredients used.

First, there must be a due proportion of the ingredients. Each drug in the pharmacopoeia has its special action. To combine any drug with other drugs that have slightly different action, the combination must be made with strict reference to the use for which the compound is intended. The drugs may be well selected as to their efficacy, but the compound ENTIRELY SPOILED BY THE PROPORTION in which they are combined.

It takes years and years of experience to discover this proportion. There is no law of chemistry, of pharmacy, by which the exact balance of proportion can be determined. EXPERIENCE IS THE ONLY GUIDE.

In compounding a catarrh remedy Dr. Hartman has had many years' experience. In the use of the various ingredients which compose the catarrh remedy, "Peruna," he has learned, little by little, how to harmonize the action of each ingredient, how to combine them into a stable compound, how to arrange them into such nice proportions as to blend the taste, the operation and the chemical peculiarities of each several ingredient in order to produce a pharmaceutical product beyond the criticism of doctors, pharmacists or chemists.

WE REPEAT, THAT AS MUCH DEPENDS ON THE WAY IN WHICH THE DRUGS ARE COMBINED AS DEPENDS UPON THE DRUGS THEMSELVES.

The compound must present a stability which is not affected by changes of temperature, not affected by exposure to the air, not affected by age. It must be so combined that it will remain just the same whether used in the logging or mining camps of the northwest or the coffee plantations of the tropics.

A complete list of the ingredients of Peruna would not enable any druggist or physician to reproduce Peruna. It is the skill and sagacity by which these ingredients are brought together that give Peruna much of its peculiar claims as an efficacious catarrh remedy.

However much virtue each ingredient of Peruna may possess, the value of the compound depends largely upon the manner and proportion in which they are combined. The right ingredients, put together rightly, is the only way a medical compound can be made of real value.

Thunder Castle to be Razed.

Once Sheltered the "Three Graces," America's Most Beautiful Women.

Baltimore, Md.—Thunder castle, the home of the Catons, the notable old buildings from which Catonsville derives its name, has been purchased by former Senator John Hubner and will be torn down to make way, it is said, for a more modern cottage.

The building is in the western part of Catonsville. It was the property of a relative of Gen. Winfield Scott, and many persons have believed it belonged to Gen. Scott. The old general used to spend considerable time at Castle Thunder.

The old house, tradition says, was at one time the leading hostelry of Catonsville. There the stages used to leave many a weary traveler westward, who desired a night of rest before continuing on.

The property originally belonged to Charles Carroll of Carrollton, first signer of the Declaration of Independence, and came into the possession of Richard Caton through the marriage of Mr. Carroll's 16-year-old daughter, Mary Carroll. Beneath the roofs of Thunder castle have been sheltered three of the most beautiful women of America. They were the three eldest of Richard Caton's four daughters, who married abroad and were known as "The American Graces."

Before the civil war a private school was conducted at Thunder castle by Mrs. Carrie Coale and her daughter. Since the war it has been occupied as a private dwelling.

The building is constructed of stone. Several years ago a large frame wing was added to the structure.

The old house is located on what was known in early days of the village as the national pike between Washington and St. Louis. It was the government mail route through Maryland, the western part of what was then the state of Virginia and the states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and was the first great internal improvement that the government of the United States undertook.

HEADS NEW RUSSIAN DOUMA.

Feodor Golovin, a Constitutional Democrat, Elected Speaker.

St. Petersburg — Feodor Golovin, who was elected speaker of Russia's new douma, or lower house of parliament, when that body met and organized in the Tauride palace, St. Petersburg, recently, is a man of great energy, and throughout the long-continued reign of turbulence has managed to hold the confidence of the people. He is a constitutional democrat and, although this faction has only 100 members, Golovin received 331 votes, against 91 for the conservative candidate, the socialists throwing their strength for Golovin. The new speaker represents the Moscow province.

FEODOR GOLOVIN.
(He Has Been Elected President of the New Russian Douma.)

He is 40 years old, aristocratic and clever. During the regime of Grand Duke Sergius he was president of the Moscow zemstvo and is said to be well qualified to preside over what threatens to be a stormy session of the douma.

A Remedy. "See here, Bridget," said Miss Housekeep, "the dishes you have put on the table of late have been positively dirty. Something's got to be done about it."

"Thru for ye, ma'am," replied Bridget, "if ye only had dark-colored ones, ma'am, they wouldn't show the dirt at all."
