Mrs. Davis who has been ill for some time with consumption, died at her home at Canoe Run last Sunday. Mrs. Harry Wilson of Croyland, who has been visiting in town the past week, returned home Sunday. One day last week people around the station were startled by sounds of a desperate struggle in the ticket office and upon investigation found that flagman John Kepler had station agent Schneider tied hand and foot upon the floor and making all kinds of motions around Schneider's head with a pair of sheep shears. At first it was thought that violence was intended but on inquiring it was found that Kepler was trying to cut the agent's hair. Strong hands disarmed the desperate flagman and quiet was again restored without calling the police. It is understood that the trouble started over a dispute about the length that gentleman's hair should be worn. J. F. S.

HUNTLEY.

Mrs. Eliza Johnson of Sinnamahoning is spending a few weeks with W. W. Johnson and family. Supt. Miss Mattie Collins, spent Sunday with B. J. Collins and family. Va., where they will conduct a boarding house for H. H. Cloyes. We wish to correct the statement made in last week's Press regarding Darris Ives moving on the David Logue estate. Mr. Ives has moved into Levi Smith's tenement house on East River street and will continue to work at team work this summer. Mrs. Wm. Johnson continues about the same at this writing. Dr. Beale of Driftwood is attending her. The Driftwood callers this week were W. H. Logue, Levi Smith, W. W. Johnson, Lloyd and Seiburn Logue. Mrs. Frances Logue and daughter Mrs. J. E. Johnson were Emporium visitors Saturday. Mrs. Wesley Barr has returned from Waterloo, N. Y., where she attended the funeral of her father Sam'l Brewer. Bears are getting very numerous in this section. David Ives, while hauling ties in Big Run Friday last, came upon an old bear and two cubs, aside from making his horses jump a little there seemed to be no excitement. A. Smith and Geo. Mason is very ill and will be taken to the hospital this week for treatment. Her many friends hope for her recovery. Last Thursday evening Mrs. William Logue had occasion to start a fire in her hen house in order to purify it from lice and in some way did not get the fire put entirely out. Shortly after building was found to be on fire and was entirely consumed together with about seventy-five nice chickens. When the fire was discovered it was too late to put it out. W. R. Smith was a business caller in Emporium Saturday. G. W. Starr called on friends in Sterling Run Saturday. A. W. Smith killed a fox Friday on the mountain and presented the hide at the Squires Office where he made formal application for the bounty. The onion growing contest between Levi Smith and John Jordan is getting interesting. Both gentlemen are doing their best to win the prize offered by W. R. Smith which consists of a full treatment of Dr. Dunlaps Spring tonic, seven bottles in all. D. will act as Judge and the contest will be watched with interest. Elmer Hill and Clarence Johnson were Emporium callers Sunday. Monday evening about 7 p. m., a small gray team belonging to Mr. Hayes, the liveryman, of Emporium and driven by George Carter were frightened by a dog at the residence of Alex. Mason, and ran away. Mr. Carter was thrown out of the wagon and the team ran down the township road as far as Squire Sullivan's hen yard where they fell on their sides after becoming entangled in the wire fence. In a short time B. J. Collins, W. R. Smith, Homer Ives and C. J. Miller were upon the scene and soon had the team on their feet and disentangled the wire from about them but C. J. Miller in trying to unhook a strap narrowly escaped being kicked in the leg, so near, in fact that his trouser leg was torn open at the knee. In about fifteen minutes after this Mr. Carter came down the road and took charge of the team. Mr. Carter was hurt somewhat about the ribs and was attended by Dr. Beale, of Driftwood. The team was not injured much outside of a few cuts about the legs but the wagon was damaged a great deal, the entire being demolished. Mr. Carter was driving a traveling man from Emporium to Sinnamahoning when accident occurred. J. F. S.
