FUNERAL SERVICES

Over the Remains of Dynamic Victims at Sinnamahoning.

Last Thursday morning, at ten o'clock, joint funeral services were held over the remains of the victims of the gelatine explosion at Sinnamahoning—J. D. Nelson, Edward Cole, Harry Cole, Samuel Shadman and Fillmore Summerson—one casket each for the remains of Nelson and Summerson, while one casket held the remains of Sam'l Shadman, Ed. Cole and Harry Cole.

Rev. Mr. Dickson, pastor of M. E. Church of Sinnamahoning, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Robertson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Emporium, conducted the services. The church was crowded with the relatives and friends of the deceased, many coming from surrounding country to pay their sad tokens to the departed ones.

A choir consisting of V. E. Crum and wife, Thomas Piper, Mrs. Anna Fulton, Mrs. J. H. Baird, Miss Mabel Buchanan and Miss Lottie Brooks, organist.

The remains of Mr. Summerson were taken to his old home at Hammersley Fork for burial. The remains of the others were laid to rest in the village cemetery, being followed to the "silent city" by a large number of people. The powder makers served as casket bearers for the remains of Nelson, while the P. O. S. of A., took charge of the union casket, sixty of their members being present in full regalia. It was indeed a sad day for Sinnamahoning.

Hon. Josiah Howard, a large stockholder in the Powder Company, and Mr. Chas. T. Logan, also an official of the Company, were present at the funeral; also Mr. W. C. Swartwood, of Emporium.

The floral offerings were very beautiful and were presented by the Company, employees, P. O. S. of A., and friends. The committee composed of Mrs. Nelson, Miss Mabel Buchanan deserve great credit for their thoughtful work.

In times of sorrow and distress there are always those who come to the relief. The large amount of work to be done at a time like this was, the one to lead in all arrangements has his hands full. Mr. Victor E. Crum, surrounded by such assistants as Al. Ensign, E. D. Debuque, J. V. Strayer, E. S. Randolph, and others, took full charge of every detail—gathering up the remains, (about 300 pounds in all) procuring caskets, and a thousand and one other matters—deserve great credit for their faithful work.

Overcome by Heat.

E. L. Mason, C. B. Howard & Co's band saw filer, was overcome by heat last Monday. He felt himself getting faint and left the filing room, going back of the mill, where he was found some time after by one of the employees in a precarious condition. Dr. Heilman was hastily summoned and injected powerful restoratives, after which he was taken to his room at the City Hotel. He has been very sick ever since, but hopes to be able to sit up to-day. Mr. Mason, while a large and powerful man, could not stand King Sun's heat.

Not a Mind Reader.

A grocer in a nearby town happened around when a farmer was unloading several boxes filled with groceries which he had ordered from a Chicago department store. The grocer asked the farmer the price of the articles purchased and then told him that he could sell them just as cheap. The farmer then said: "Is that so? I take the home paper, but you seldom or never advertise. I am not a mind reader."

No Paper Next Week.

"In accordance with the time-honored custom," the Press will not be issued July 4th week. Our office will be open for the transaction of business, each day except the Fourth. Please bear this in mind, friends. Let the old Eagle scream.

Base Ball.

Johnsonburg played here again Monday and Emporium received another defeat. The home team should have won the game by a nice margin. While the game was hotly contested from start to finish we had the game won but for an over throw to first by Gilbert in the eighth. Score.

Emporium	0	1	0	2	2	1	0	0	6	12	6
Johnsonburg	0	0	3	0	0	2	0	2	0	7	7

Base Ball Pickups.

The team showed up to better advantage Monday and should have won.

The management is still on the hunt for players and expects the team to be further strengthened by July 4.

Cummings has been out of the game the past two games, but will be in again on Saturday. We need him badly and will be glad of it.

Gilbert batted like a fiend, but was somewhat off in his fielding.

Overturf had an off day, but is forgiven, as all players are likely to have them.

Liston had three singles and played a magnificent game.

Fox on third is a marvel.

Fisher has forgotten how to bat.

Don't forget St. Marys on Saturday.

Eschbach is holding up his reputation as a catcher. He certainly can't be beat.

"Look at us win the next four games in succession. This is no idle boast." Good. We like your nerve.

Drowned.

Last Sunday, two Polish men, employed at the furnace, went to enjoy a swim above Howards old mill dam, but on their arrival, the water looked too deep for one of the men, and he decided not to venture it, as neither of them could swim, but the other man would not heed, and made just a few steps and sank in about eight feet of water and never raised again. Word was sent to the furnace and Jas. Wright went to the place and after diving three times, brought up the lifeless body. The drowned man leaves a wife and four children in Poland to mourn his death.

DEATH'S DOINGS

NEILON.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Nelson, widow of Almeron Nelson, Sr., died at the home of her son, Almeron Nelson, Saturday evening at 10:30 o'clock. Early last winter Mrs. Nelson fell, breaking her hip and from this she never fully recovered and has been a great sufferer for many weeks.

Deceased was born on what is known as the Taggart farm two miles from Coudersport in 1841. In 1867 she became the wife of Almeron Nelson, who died eleven years ago. The union was blessed with two children, Mrs. Fred Jones, now of West Paulet, Vt., and Almeron T. Nelson, of Coudersport, and a step daughter, Mrs. Eunice Park, of Binghamton, N. Y. Surviving is also one brother, Hon. L. Taggart, of Emporium and three sisters, Mrs. Annie Burt of Shingle House, Mrs. Flora Ryan and Mrs. Alice Wamsley, of Ridgway.

The funeral will occur this (Tuesday) afternoon at home at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Snodgrass officiating and the burial will be made in the Coudersport cemetery. Deceased had for many years been a consistent member of the Methodist church and her going takes from our midst a good woman, a kind friend and a faithful mother.—Potter Enterprise.

MCCARTHY.

John E. McCarthy, aged 28 years, died on Saturday, June 22d, 1907, at Emporium, Pa., at the residence of his sister Elizabeth—Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hauber—on Fifth street. Deceased was the eldest son of Thomas and Eliza McCarthy. Upon the death of their mother, when small, children they were placed in Erie Orphan's Home, where the young man was educated. At the age of 16 he entered the employ of the Erie St. R. R., and continued one of their trusted employees until Jan. 28th last when that fatal malady, consumption, compelled him to give up work, coming to Emporium about six weeks ago to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hauber. He gradually failed.

John was a good boy, thoughtful energetic, economical and kind. We knew him well and feel that his spotless life and high-mindedness guided him from dangerous ways. During his busy life he managed, by strict economy to save some money and pay his way during his illness, and when his Master called, he left directions to prepare his funeral arrangements, to purchase a lot in St. Mark's Cemetery, to erect markers on the graves of his departed parents, as well as his own. He showed that he was grateful to those kind sisters at Erie who cared for him in his youth by willing them $300.

The funeral services took place at St. Marks Catholic Church, Monday morning, High Mass being celebrated by Father Downey. The life of this young man was food for an eloquent sermon by Father Downey, who touchingly referred to the grand life of the deceased and pointed others to his object lesson.

Beautiful floral offerings from Supt. and Mrs. Topper, K. of C., and C. M. B. A., Erie; Employees of Erie Street Ry.

The following relatives and friends, from out of town, were in attendance at the funeral: Mr. Thos. McCarthy, (brother) Erie, Pa, Mr. and Mrs. (sister) A. F. Morgan, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Kate Dippold, Andrew Dippold, Geo. Hauber, St. Marys.

ULLRICH.

The remains were brought in Emporium, her former home, on the Buffalo Flyer, Monday afternoon and were taken to her sister's home, Mrs. Chas. P. Fisher, from which place the funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, at 1 o'clock. Rev. C. W. Dickson, of Sinnamahoning, assisted by Rev. J. E. Calvin, of Emporium, conducted the service. A quartette composed of Miss Grace A. Lloyd, Mrs. John Kackemeister, Mr. George Metzger, Jr., and Mr. Harry Cox, sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "My Jesus as Thou Wilt."

Mr. Murphy and family will continue to reside in Emporium their many friends will be glad to learn. They have always conducted a good respectable house.

Severe Storm.

The big electric storm last Saturday afternoon did considerable damage in this section. While the ball game between Johnsonburg and Emporium had started and the grand stand crowded, the excitement was noticeable, especially among the ladies, who became very nervous. Several buildings were slightly damaged in town among the number being the houses of Andrew Blinzler, Robt. B. Warner, H. L. Burns, occupied by Mr. Mulcahy, and other damages. The heavy rain damaged Jos. Kaye's new lawn quite severely. It has rained almost incessantly ever since.

See the Indians, July 8.

The famous Cherokee Indian baseball club will play here on Monday, July 8. Two games daily, afternoon and night. Don't forget the date. They carry a canvas fence 1,200 feet long and ten feet high, also a portable grand stand, and travel in their own Pullman hotel car. The greatest achievement in baseball history is the night game. The following is from the Princeton Leader: "At night the 50,000 candle power lights evidenced themselves and the Indians with their lights aflame entered the night game and then the Princeton ably demonstrated their skill and ability on the diamond by a victory of 6-3. The scene was fully up to the advertised display."

Consulting Specialist.

John A. Johnston took his son Lloyd, who severely injured one of his legs while coasting last winter, to a Buffalo specialist for treatment. The little man has suffered terribly for months and we hope may receive some help.

Not a Cancer.

For some weeks Mr. John E. Smith and his friends have been greatly exercised on account of a growth on his tongue having been pronounced of cancerous nature. Mr. Smith informs us that a specialist tells him it is not a cancer, but might develop into one if allowed to go without attention. This will be good news to his many friends.

New York Life's New President.

After a contest unparalleled in its severity, the New York Life Insurance Company has been reorganized under its new Board of Trustees.

They represent the "administration," they were chosen by a majority of 138,000 and they undoubtedly stand for the policy and the man of overwhelming mass of policy holders desire. The first election has shown, as there was every probability it would show, that the agents who had persuaded men to insure retained their confidence after they were insured.

The new trustees have chosen as president Darwin P. Kingsley, a man who passed through all the fire of investigation unscathed. No charge was made against him. No dubious act was uncovered. He has held every post in the company, agent, field agent, superintendent of agencies, third vice-president, first vice-president and now president, succeeding Alexander E. Orr, who has held the place for a year and a half, with the avowed intention of retiring as soon as the company was reorganized.

This reorganization has now been effected. It has resulted in the choice of a man connected with the past management of the company, a son-in-law of John A. McCall, the former president; but in addition, a man of long experience, high character and enjoying the confidence of the business world. A graduate of the University of Vermont, he is a trustee of the institution, selected to deliver the address at the centennial, and enjoying the esteem of his fellow-alumni.

He stands for the best in the calling he represents; he brings to his work skill, knowledge and reputation and he comes to his post fully acquainted with its needs and duties. The investigations and exposures of the past, the heavy vote cast for a new board and the consciousness that the policy holders exercise this power to vote on a scale never before known, render it certain that the new administration will take up its work with a sense of responsibility, a determination to safeguard every right and a vigorous policy, such as will continue the growth and maintain the security of the society.—Philadelphia Press. The New York Life's representative in Cameron county is H. H. Mullin, Emporium. Drop him a postal to call on you.

The Black Bass Law.

Misinterpretation of the law in regard to the catching of black bass may cause trouble for careless fishermen.

A section of the law provides that it is illegal to catch black bass under nine inches in length in any waters "mentioned under the first section of this act." The first section of the act, however, refers only to lakes and bays, and the nine-inch limit therefore applies to those waters only. The minimum size for other streams is the same as last year—seven inches. One section of the new law that it will be well for fishermen to keep in mind is section eleven, which reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to catch or kill more than ten black or yellow bass in one day. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall, on conviction, be subject to a fine of ten dollars for each fish so captured and killed, over and above the amount therein named, or, in default of payment, be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of one day for each dollar of fine unpaid."

Furnish the Evidence.

MR. EDITOR:—I am officially receiving communications similar to the following, but in every instance no name signed. If our citizens wish to aid in the punishment of violators of law they must furnish at least a clue to work on otherwise we are powerless to act:

"Why is it that the foreigners on Tannery Hill are allowed to sell beer at five cents a bottle, and whiskey without a license all day on Sunday to men and boys. You can go into their house and in it will find lots of men and boys drinking almost any Sunday, especially after pay day. See yourself some time and see how many 'drunks' come down from tannery hill. An American and a cripple was made to cut it out. Now, why are not the foreigners made to cut it out. It is a shame on Emporium to have such places."

Now this party complained of resides in Shippen and it is not in my powder to act, but if the writer will furnish the names the State's attorney no doubt would act promptly.

FRANK MUNDY,
Chief of Police.

Close Call.

Two young men, stealing a ride Tuesday night in a car loaded with bridge iron met with a narrow escape. While shifting the car the heavy iron was bumped together. One of the men named Frank Keys of Westons Mills, was caught between the iron, his face and head being severely cut and bruised. One inch more would have crushed his head. Dr. Smith fixed him up and sent the chap home. Always ride on passenger trains, especially in Emporium yard.

HOTEL PORTER SHOT LANDLORD AND WIFE.

CLEARFIELD, June 25.—An attempted double murder and suicide to-night has thrown Clearfield into a spasm of excitement such as the town has not experienced in many moons.

The victims of the murderous assault were Daniel Leipoldt, proprietor of the Allegheny house, and his wife, and the would-be murderer and suicide is William Moore.

Moore had been employed about the hotel as a porter and this afternoon was discharged by Mr. Leipoldt. This seems to have so angered him as to bring about the shooting.

About 10:45 o'clock to-night Mr. and Mrs. Leipoldt and a Miss Hooper were sitting in the parlor of the Allegheny house when Moore entered and drawing a revolver, shot Mr. Leipoldt, the ball entering through the jaw and coming out above the left ear.

He then turned the revolver on Mrs. Leipoldt but the shot only inflicted a slight scalp wound.

Evidently believing he had killed both he placed the revolver to his own temple and fired again, the ball entering above his left eye.

How Miss Hooper came to be spared will probably never be known for Moore will probably never recover consciousness. His injuries are regarded as fatal.

Mr. Leipoldt's wound is serious, but at midnight he was resting easily and has a good chance for recovery.

Mrs. Leipoldt's wound is only a slight scalp wound.

The revolver with which the shooting was done was a 32 caliber weapon.
