WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.] Washington, July 6th, 1907. After official denials all round that there were going to be any additional warships sent to the Pacific Coast, the Navy Department has now made the official announcement that practically the whole of the battleship squadron is going and that just as soon as they can get off.

There will be sixteen battleships in the squadron, and they will take about two months to go around by the Magellan or Cape Horn route. They will be accompanied by a number of gunboats as dispatch boats and tenders, and there will be at least three armored cruisers beside colliers and possibly a repair ship. On the Pacific Coast they will be met by the Oregon and the Washington now undergoing repairs at Portland.

This will make the greatest fighting fleet that has ever been assembled under the American flag, and in fighting ability as numbers, it will be one of the greatest fleets ever collected by any power. The whole will be under the command of Admiral Robley D. Evans, who has seen more sea service than any other man on the active list of the navy. It probably will be his last sea command, and the handling of this great fleet will be a fitting close for a long and very active and effective career.

The exact route and stopping places of the fleet are not yet fully determined. They will go direct to South America and probably will make only one stop for coal on the east coast of the continent. Then they will pass through the Straits of Magellan and around to Valparaiso. They will make a very brief stop there and will proceed north to Peru. This will bring them to the last leg, as it were, of their course toward San Francisco. They will make a little longer stop in Peruvian waters and will then loaf up the coast, comparatively speaking, taking in San Diego and Monterey on the way to San Francisco. Their cruising speed probably will average about 12 knots, and this including the stops now contemplated, will make their voyage last about 60 days. This will beat the record of the Oregon, which took 43 days to come from San Francisco to Key West during the Spanish War. But she was accompanied by the little gunboat Marietta, which retarded her speed and she was very cautious about keeping well off all ports and skirting the outside of the West Indies as the Spanish fleet was then supposed to be in the neighborhood of South America.

The Charming Woman.

Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artists model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires, neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not ever to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed by all druggists 50c.

SUDDEN DEATH OF AUGUSTUS D. GOULD

PROMINENT IN AFFAIRS.

Bradford Era, July 9, 1907.

A. D. Gould died suddenly at his home in Eldred on Tuesday night, a victim of heart disease. His death was entirely unexpected. Mr. Gould was editor of the Eldred Eagle. He founded the paper during the early oil development of the Northern field and continued to own and conduct it up to the time of his death. Prior to locating in Eldred he had a job printing office in Tarport, now East Bradford.

He was prominent in the affairs of the Republican party, having been secretary of the county committee, delegate to the state convention, etc. For several years he had been connected with the State Pure Food department. In Eldred he was a leading figure in local affairs, a director of the Eldred Bank, president of the Home Gas Co., of Eldred and was always identified with movements which had for their object the improvement of his home town. He was prominent in Masonic circles and was a member of the Knights of Pythias. The deceased is survived by his wife and three sisters, Misses Jennie and May Gould of Emporium, and Mrs. Harry Mullin, of Emporium. He was born in Utica, N. Y., in 1856. His early life was passed there and in Binghamton, N. Y., where his father, the late C. B. Gould, established the first daily newspaper published in that city. Later the family lived at Emporium, Pa., where the remains will be laid to rest in the family burial lot this afternoon.

Mr. Gould's death will be sincerely mourned by many friends. He was a man of most excellent traits of character.

LEAVES A VACANCY IN ELDRED.

Port Allegany Reporter, July 5th.

Editor A. D. Gould of Eldred, died suddenly at his home on Tuesday evening at half past eleven o'clock. The news of his demise was a shock to his hosts of friends throughout the county. It seems that he retired in his usual health Tuesday evening, and shortly after complained to his wife of not feeling well. Though a physician was promptly summoned Mr. Gould had died before his arrival. The cause of death was heart failure. The funeral was held from the family home in Eldred Thursday afternoon at four o'clock and the remains were taken to Emporium on the evening express and on Friday (this afternoon) were interred in the Gould family lot. Mr. Gould was an excellent citizen and a splendid man. He was largely identified with all the successes of the town and had become to be looked upon as a leader in everything of benefit there. He was a Republican in politics and principle and was a councillor in the business of his party. His death leaves a vacancy in Eldred that will not soon be filled. He was nearly fifty-one years of age, and was born in Utica, N. Y., in 1856. He established the Eagle in Eldred in 1878, after first learning the printer's trade with his father, the late C. B. Gould of Emporium, and owned and operated it successfully up to the time of his demise.

HIGHLY ESTEEMED.

Driftwood Gazette.

A. D. Gould, the well known and highly esteemed editor of the Eldred Eagle, died suddenly at his home in Eldred on Tuesday night of last week, of heart failure, aged 51 years. He is survived by his wife and three sisters. The latter are Mrs. H. H. Mullin and Misses Jennie and May Gould, all of Emporium. * * * It is hard for us to realize that our good and kind friend is no more. Only last month we enjoyed a day together in Harrisburg, and he was the same jolly, good-natured "Gus" as of old, and was apparently in the best of health.

LAST SAD RITES.

The remains were brought to his old home at Emporium on Thursday evening July 4th, after short religious services at his Eldred residence by Rev. Webster, Rector of Eldred Episcopal Church, of which the deceased and his wife had long labored to maintain. The Eldred Lodge, A. Y. M., of which the deceased had served as Master, took charge of the funeral arrangements. Upon the arrival of the remains at Emporium, a delegation of Emporium Masons met the funeral party at Broad street station and accompanied them to the residence of his sisters on Sixth street.

At 2:30 Friday afternoon, funeral services were conducted at the old homestead, on Sixth street, by Rev. J. H. McCandless, of Smethport, and Rev. Webster, of Port Allegany, (our Rector being absent on his vacation) strictly confining the services to the ritual, at the request of the family. A choir, composed of Mrs. W. H. Howard, Miss Grace Walker, Mrs. T. F. Moore, Miss Lizzie Ludlam, Miss Alice Montgomery, Frank Felt, Chas. T. Logan and W. H. Howard sweetly rendered the service.

The funeral cortege silently wended its way to the "silent city," being preceded by the Masonic bodies of Eldred and Emporium, and also the Knights of Pythias of Eldred—about sixty in number. After the usual church service at the grave the burial service of Masonry was observed, when all that was mortal of Augustus Dixon Gould, and upright husband, brother and citizen was lowered to his last resting place, beside his father, mother and son, to await the resurrection morn. "Farewell, brother."

The relatives and friends from a distance in attendance were: John B. Schwab (father-in-law), Mrs. Jacob Scheeh (aunt), Utica, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. (sister) Geo. Gridley, and Miss Lorena Gridley, (niece); Buffalo, N. Y.; Hon. R. P. Habgood, Bradford; E. B. Sage, Foster Brook, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davison, Johnsonburg, Pa.; Miss T. Lawrence and Mr. B. G. McFall, of Eldred, the two latter being employees of his printing plant.

The numerous beautiful and artistic floral pieces from relatives, friends, Eldred Lodge, Eldred Gas Company, Knights of Pythias, Eldred Cornet Band including personal McKean, Emporium, Buffalo and Olean friends speak louder than columns of enlogy at our hands.
