who has been hailed as a successor of the great Deerfoot of other days, a red man whose exploits on the roads and cinder paths linger yet in the memories of the old-time followers of athletics. Longboat, since his vic tory in the great Marathon road race at Boston last spring, and his numer ous other exploits, both in Canada and the United States, in which he has all most uniformly been returned the vic tor, has been a much-sought athlete, and his appearance on any associa-tion's grounds has always been the signal for a record-breaking crowd. Last spring Longboat, in a three-mile match race, at Kenilworth Park, de-feated Buffalo's best runner, Frank Nebrich, and there has been great eageness to see the Indian again in correction in the dist (in the term competition in the city. This time Longboat, appreciating there is no local generally accepted limitation of human individual who could hope to measure strides with him successfully, agreed to meet a relay team of three of Buffalo's best runners, each man running a mile, and the red man running the three, without relief. Buffalo is rich in good men on the path and while none of Longboat's opponents singly could hope to beat him, it is confidently expected that he will have to break records to remain in the lead against the trio. Local and out-of-town and Canadian athletes and wheelmen will be invited to compete in the regular events, fornia who has held the American championship, and who recently returned from England, where for the second time she annexed the title of British champion in the national tournament on the Wimbledon courts, near London. The Park Club will maintain open house all during the week for visiting tennis enthusiasts On Saturday there will be motor-boat races and launch races under the auspices of the Letchworth club. All during the week, also, there will be in progress other sports, for which definite place in the week's schedule has not yet been assigned. These will include a trapshooting meet on the Audubon Club traps, in which all local and many out-of-town expert marksmen will compete for prizes. Golf tournaments will also be under way during the week on various links and negotiations are under way for a polo game on the Park Meadow, in which the Country club four will meet a crack team to be selected from a field made up of the crack Meadowbrooks and teams from Rochester and Toronto polo clubs. Buffalo's polo players have always been distinguished for their play with mallet and ball since the days that a local team cap-tured the national tournament, held annually at Newport, and this match should be one of the prettlest spectacles on the sport program. Bowlers of the country have been

On the Water on Labor Day.

On the water on Labor day the sportsmen will be busy. The Buffalo Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which is boasting a large and increasing membership of experienced watermen, has arranged for an Old Home Week regatta. Prizes will be given for single scull, pairs, fours and eightoar crews, and as the out-of-town and Canadian oarsmen are invited to enter it is expected the regatta will be one of the best ever known in this section of the country, famed as it is for such affairs. The races will be held on the local course in the Buffalo harbor, offering spectators a fine view of the course.

On Monday afternoon, also, the Buffalo Yacht club, which will have a general celebration during the weel for former members now living out of town, will start its program with a cruise from Port Maitland, finishing at the home of the yachtsmen, off toot of Porter avenue, where their

"At Home" to All the World.

Buffalo is to celebrate the 75th anniversary of its incorporation as a city by an "Old Home" Week, beginning Sept. 1. According to invitations received by prominent New Yorkers, the citizens of that town will be "at home" every minute to get acquainted with the thousands of people who are expected to pay the town a visit.

The chief event of the celebration will be the unveiling of a monument of President McKinley at which Gov ernor Hughes will officiate. This will be on Thursday, Sept. 5. There will be most imposing parades of soldiers. firemen, school children, maskers and societies; sports, fireworks and a scheme of decoration of great beauty. The leading citizens of Buffalo are characteristically enthusiastic over the unique celebration they have in view and will undoubtedly provide en tertainment for their guests which will make similar undertakings seem tame .--- [From the New York World.]
