Earl Saunders and Russell McQuay visited at Portville, N. Y., last Sunday, guest of Mr. Saunders' parents.

Mr. Harry C. Mack, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends in Emporium, guest at the Miller home on East Fourth street.

Scott Sterner and Oland Rentz visited with friends at Portage Falls and Olean, last Sunday, especially at Olean.

Miss Mame Link, Mrs. Jno. Harrer and son Albert, of Buffalo, are visiting at the home of A. Nickler, on the Portage.

R. L. Schnu, of Montgomery, Pa., arrived in Emporium on Monday and hopes to remain here, expecting to engage in business.

Mrs. Geo. J. LaBar is visiting her daughter and family, (Chas. Diehl and wife) at Buffalo, remaining there for "Old Home Week."

Miss Jennie Loucks, one of the Emporium Powder Company's clerks has been spending a week at Patterson and Asbury Park, N. J.

Geo. Pepper and wife, and Mrs. W. W. Knickerbocker and daughter, returned on Thursday from an extended visit at Watkins Glen, N. Y.

Mr. Chas. B. Ott and bride, of Williamsport, visited R. H. Hirsch and wife and Mrs. Hirsch's sisters, Misses Edith and Minnie Ott, last of the week.

W. Harvey Welsh, for many years one of our most industrious and hard-working carpenters, is taking a few days rest before starting on the winter's work.

Master Lester Weil, of Buffalo, who has been visiting his uncle and aunt, R. H. Hirsch and wife, at this place, for seven weeks, returned to Buffalo on Sunday, delighted with his visit.

Miss Margaret Murphy who with her mother has been visiting at Bellefonte and other points, returned home on Monday, having enjoyed her vacation, Mrs. Murphy will remain there, and other points, for some time.

F. F. Hilliker and Lawrence Fisk autted to Corry last Friday, "old Henny" climbing Beninger Hill as frisky as a St. Mary's belle. Mr. Hilliker is yet at Corry visiting friends, while Lawrence came back on the steam cars.

Mrs. Thos. Sexton, of Olean, is visiting O. Proudfoot, and family this week.

Misses Mazie Gallagher and Flora Schlecht are spending a few days at Johnsonburg.

Geo. Diek, of Mosgrove, came up on Sunday to visit his wife, who has been visiting her parents, Hon. L. Taggart and family.

Dr. S. S. Smith who was taken seriously ill last Thursday is rapidly improving under the treatment of Drs. DeLong and Heilman.

Mr. E. G. Coleman and son Edward, Jr., returned on Sunday from an extended visit to New York, Philadelphia, Jamestown, Richmond and other cities.

Mrs. M. J. Dolan and company (Misses Rodgers and Bolger) are enjoying a visit at Niagara Falls. Upon their return all go to Allentown on a visit.

Geo. P. Shaffer, of Sinnamahoning, met with a number of our "unterrified" on Monday and went home with his head full of big Republican estimates for next fall.

Mrs. A. B. Armstrong, Smethport, was guest of Mrs. T. F. Moore over Sunday; also Mrs. W. K. Wright, of Renovo, on Wednesday, passed a few hours in town.

Fame Brooks, Supt. of the big Lincoln farm, located twelve miles from Driftwood, visited in Emporium on Tuesday. He says his potato crop is almost a failure.

Miss Edith Sterner, who has been visiting her brother and family, at Austin, returned home on Friday greatly improved in health. Mrs. Sterner, her mother, arrived home yesterday.

Jas. J. Creighton, always prompt with any business matter, quietly slipped a wad into our hand on Monday, in his usual quiet way—we knew what he meant and promptly mailed him a receipt for another year's PRESS.

Jos. L. Wheeler and wife, of Marion, S. C., visited in Emporium last Friday and Saturday, guests of Mrs. Wheeler's mother, Mrs. E. M. Hurteau. The south evidently agrees with them for they both are looking well. Mr. Wheeler is engaged in the lumber business, having a large tract of land.

Mrs. Robt. Faucette and daughter, Miss Florence, were PRESS callers on Tuesday, taking home with them a receipt for their paper. Their husband and father, Robt. Faucette, who came home from Mix Run lumbering operations, to spend a few days has returned to T. F. Moore's contract.

Mrs. C. A. Arnold, of Moore Hill, was a PRESS visitor on Saturday for a two fold purpose—to renew her paper for another year and to inform the PRESS that they had sold their farm to Mr. James McCarthy and purchased a 50 acre piece from the Sanford farm on West Creek, taking possession this fall.

D. B. Peterson, a practical and experienced teacher, of many years standing, has accepted a position in Cameron school for the winter. During the past year Mr. Peterson has been in the employ of W. H. Cramer, contractor, believing that out-door work would be beneficial to his health. Mr. Peterson is a pleasant and companionable gentleman and we feel sure will please the Lumber patrons, as well as the scholars.

We notice Max F. Balcom, clerk in First National Bank, of Emporium, was registered at Windsor Hotel, Philadelphia, on Saturday, while attending P. O. S. of A. State Camp, as Representative from Emporium Camp.

Conversation Party.
On Tuesday evening, Miss Jean and Mr. Joe McNarney entertained a large party of friends, at their home on West Fourth street, in honor of their cousin, Miss Elsie Leiter, of Williamsport. About sixty guests were present. The porch and lawn were beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns.

Each guest was supplied with a card, upon which were arranged ten topics of conversation. The young men chose a partner for each topic and at a given signal the young ladies were led to one of the many seats or cozy corners arranged about the yard and porch and conversed upon the subject. At the end of ten minutes the signal was given and partners were exchanged and the next subject discussed until the end of the program.

During an intermission refreshments were served. The singing of many popular songs added enjoyment to the occasion, and all expressed themselves as having passed a very pleasant evening.

Not His Fault.
He—Do you think Styles and his wife live happily?
She—I'm sure of it.
"Well, she always seems to look uncomfortable when she's with him."
"That's not her husband makes her look that way. It's her boots."

Life in Panama.

William Gerow, formerly of Friendship, N. Y., accompanied by his wife, (well and favorably remembered as Miss Hattie Smith, who resided here with her parents, several years ago) are guests of Herbert Day and family on Woodland Avenue. They have resided in Panama for twenty months and came to the States on a visit, expecting to return Oct. 1st. Miss Ethel Day, expects to return to Panama with them. Mr. Gerow, was a PRESS visitor, accompanied by Mr. Herbert Day, giving us a very pleasant account of life on the big canal, where he is under contract as an experienced steam loader engineer. They like the country, climate and excellent treatment at the hands of Uncle Sam. They have their houses all furnished, fuel, electric light, ice, pure water, etc., free.

The Judge Uses Forceful Language
Judge W. B. Simmons, of Fineastle Va., told the reporter that L. & M. Paint was used on his residence in 1882, and held in color well for 21 years he furthermore said that 3 years ago he was induced to use another paint and is sorry he did, because the other paint didn't make good. The Judge will now always use L. & M., because he knows it any defect exists in L. & M. Paint the house will be repainted for nothing.

The L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. Paint wear like iron from 10 to 15 years. Actual cost of L. & M., about $1.20 per gallon. Donations of L. & M., made to churches. Sold by Harry S. Lloyd, Emporium. *

Dangerous Odors.

Some smells are dangerous. A single sniff of highly concentrated prussic acid will kill a man as quickly as a shot through the heart. The odor of a bad egg is due to the presence of sulphureted hydrogen, and the objectionable perfumes of sewers and bone factories are attributable chiefly to the same gas. Chemical laboratories are famous for bad smells. Berzelius, who discovered the element called "selenium," once tried the experiment of permitting a bubble of pure hydrogen selenide gas to enter his nostril. For days afterward he was not able to smell strong ammonia, the olfactory nerves being temporarily paralyzed. Selenium gas has the odor of putrid horseradish. Tellurium is even worse. There is a story of a physician whose patient, a lady, refused to take an absolutely necessary rest because she was so fond of being always in society. He gave her a pill containing a small quantity of tellurium, and her breath was affected by it to such an extent that she was not able to appear in public for a month. She never guessed what the trouble was. The volatilized essential oil of roses is supposed to cause "rose cold." This peculiar complaint is so far nervous in its character that paper roses sometimes excite it.

Why Elephants Fear Mice.

It seems incredible that so small and harmless an animal as a mouse is able to frighten an elephant almost out of his senses. One little mouse in the hay on which they are feeding will stampede an entire herd. In their native land there are little animals, known as chacanas, which feed on a small, sour berry of which elephants are very fond. They live in settlements, something after the manner of prairie dogs, under the berry bushes. When feeding, the elephants trample the little towns, and the chacanas, in their fright, run up the tubes of the elephants' trunks. Their long, sharp claws catch in the flesh, and they cannot be ejected. The more violently the monster blows through its coiled trunk the more firmly the hooked claws of the little animal become imbedded in the flesh. Inflammation and death are the result. In captivity the elephants think they are in danger of the deadly chacanas when they see a mouse.

Early Baseball Teams.

Baseball teams existed as early as 1845, but the first league was formed in 1857, when the National Association of Baseball Players was organized. This, as the title implies, was an organization of players—in fact, of amateur players. They did not remain true amateurs for long, however, and in 1871 baseball was placed squarely on a professional basis, when there came into existence the National Association of Professional Baseball Players. It will be noted that the players still governed the sport, and they continued to do so until 1876. It was in this period that there grew up the great abuses which menaced the very life of baseball—namely, gambling and the buying and selling of games. In 1876 the players were deposed from the government of professional baseball, and they have never since controlled the game.—Henry Bench Needham in Success Magazine.

Almost Prehistoric.

Her voice in the midsummer gloaming had a plaintive sound. "I haven't anything new to sing to you tonight, Cyril," she faltered. "Then sing me one of the old songs, love," said the man tenderly. High, thin and a little cracked, her soprano rose in quaint, sweet melody of "Over the Garden Wall." When the song was ended her lover laughed and said: "That was indeed an old one, Clara." Two hard lines formed about the corners of her mouth. "Yes, Cyril," she said quietly; "I sang that song to you the night we became engaged."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

They Let It Go at That.

They were holding down the parlor sofa together. "Women," he remarked to the dear girl by his side, "are not good listeners." The dear girl said nothing. And the dear girl's mother, who was doing an eavesdropping stunt at the keyhole, was not in a position to contradict him.—Chicago News.

It Takes Cash.

"Why are there no lynchings in this city?" said a New York policeman. "Because the officers always get there ahead of a rope. There are several patrolmen on each block, and it takes some time to hunt up a hardware store and get a rope. The man who goes after it usually loses his enthusiasm when he finds that even a clothesline means cash on delivery."
