Lesson From the Ridgway Explosion.

[From the Erie, Pa., Times.]
The growth of the tramp evil is becoming more noticeable every year and the Ridgway incident is one of many emphasizing the menace to the public from these "undesirable citizens."
Everybody knows how numerous tramps are and how easy it is for any vagrant to secure high explosives in a country where they are more frequent than in any other.
But the real neglect in this matter is by the state. The tramp is always a trespasser. He is most of the time a criminal. Every ride he steals is theft. He fills the countryside with terror. There is not a county in the state along the main line of any leading railroad where the country roads are safe for women.

Yet the state does nothing to suppress this chronic piracy. It shifts on railroad corporations the public duty of keeping the peace. There is no more justice in this than for a city to make a householder police his front door and back yard.

Large or small, rich or poor, every corporation has the right to the efficient protection of the laws. So far as the tramp is concerned, train hands go in peril of life. Trains risk derailing. Property is lost wholesale by tramp depredations.

Every state should meet this by a state police. Men at their honest work ought not to have to put up a fight for life as train hands daily do.

If a state police patrolled tracks and covered the country adjacent, the tramp would disappear and the countryside would cease to hold the hideous terror it has for every lonely woman. The mere increase of property value due to safety would pay for such a police.

State College Says Schwab Will Build.

Charles M. Schwab does intend to erect a new school at State College, an engineering building which will surpass anything in the world. This was confirmed Saturday evening by Dr. Judson P. Welsh, vice president of the college.

It is no secret that several years ago Mr. Schwab told the college authorities he would sometime build them an engineering building, and about a month ago, when General James A. Beaver acting president of the college, and Vice President Judson P. Welsh were in New York, Mr. Schwab again told them that he would erect and equip a building, plans and drawings for which have already been made, and Mr. Schwab intimated that the project might be carried through within the next year or two. The estimated cost of the new school which is to be for mechanical and electrical engineering, is for $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

A High Grade Commercial School.

The Rochester Business Institute is highly gratified by its large enrollment of students, and still more so by the kind of young people who compose its classes. The managers have assumed that superior advantages and facilities would attract young people of superior attainments and ability. The constant and increasing demand upon the school for graduates to fill positions requiring the highest qualification would seem to justify the assumption.

STATE TREASURY A PUBLIC TRUST, SHEATZ DECLARES

In Address to His Old Neighbors of Lehigh County he Gives His Conception of What the People Have a Right to Expect.

AMAU, Aug. 31.—Declaring himself in full sympathy with the new order of things in Pennsylvania politics, John O. Sheatz, Republican nominee for State Treasurer, today expressed his views as to the requirements of the office. Defining his conception of what the people have a right to expect from the next State Treasurer. Mr. Sheatz declared:

The man who is elected to that office and in assuming that obligation must understand from the very beginning that he is merely acting as trustee of your money and is not the owner of it.

He must stand ready to pay every just obligation of the Commonwealth and absolutely refuse to pay any sum where the expenditure is not clearly defined by existing law or when flagrant extravagance exists.

He must not be under obligations to any money interests or any political power.

As such a candidate nominated by the will of the people, free from any obligations whatever, excepting my duty to the people of this Commonwealth, I come before you.

IN HIS NATIVE COUNTRY.

Mr. Sheatz was the principal figure at the annual rally of the Republicans of Lehigh county. The occasion took an added interest in view of the fact that Lehigh is Mr. Sheatz's native county. Many of those assembled to hear him speak were friends from boyhood.

The fact that he spent his early years in Mechanicsville, a village near Allentown, and that he is conversant with the dialect of this region makes him a popular candidate in Lehigh.

The John Hay Association, of Allentown, several hundred strong, and headed by a band, was present and the Emaus band also furnished music. Because of hoarseness Mr. Sheatz spoke briefly, emphasizing the fact that he should not be held responsible for the Governor's vote of the soldiers' pension bill.

This part of his address demanding that the State Treasury be kept free from taint and declaring no punishment too great for the Capitol grafters was received with the greatest enthusiasm. Although a Republican rally there were many Democratic and Independent in the assemblage and they joined in the applause, which greeted the remarks of Mr. Sheatz.

In the opening remarks Mr. Sheatz discussed in an interesting manner the rapid strides made by Lehigh County since his boyhood days. He dwelt at some length on the wonderful development of the cement industry and the mammoth mills for manufacturing this product at Allentown. Of interest to the many workmen employed in these mills was the statement by Mr. Sheatz that the estimated consumption of cement in the United States in the last year was about 50,000,000 barrels, of which quantity forty per cent. was manufactured in Lehigh and Northampton Counties.

PUNISHMENT FOR GRAFTERS.

Taking up political questions, Mr. Sheatz launched into a severe arraignment of the Capitol looters and predicted adequate punishment for them when brought to trial. On the subject Mr. Sheatz said:

The principles of our party are right. Republicanism has always stood for prosperity and cannot be held responsible for the wrongs that have been done. Evil worketh its own destruction, and to-day we await development in this line, not only in our own State, but throughout our Union. Evil may seem to prosper, but she slowly and surely paves her own way to a bitter ending. A party is not responsible for the wrong doers that slyly creep within her ranks and the men who willfully disgrace and betray their own glorious State—there is no punishment so severe, for we are proud of this great Commonwealth and will protect her.

Referring to the work of the recent Legislature Mr. Sheatz strongly commended its action in increasing the appropriation for public schools from $11,000,000 to $15,000,000, and added:

"I am looking forward to the time when the State government of Pennsylvania can appropriate all the money necessary to educate her children."

In concluding his address Mr. Sheatz paid a tribute to Governor Stuart for his magnificent effort to redeem his pledges to the people and assured his hearers that if elected he would exert himself to the utmost to render all aid possible along this line.

Mr. Sheatz, Congressman J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, and the county candidates came here from Allentown in an automobile this morning, arriving at 10:30 o'clock. They spent an hour viewing the sights of this quaint old Moravian town and then enjoyed an old-fashioned chicken dinner with an endless variety of pies for dessert. Meanwhile the crowds gathered and many citizens shook hands with Mr. Sheatz or listened to the county candidates as they presented their claims for support.

Rev. Knox Injured.

Rev. R. J. Knox, pastor of the South Williamsport Methodist church, formerly in charge of the Lock Haven circuit, wife and the latter two sisters, Misses Seba and Nora Barry, of Allentown, had a very narrow escape from serious injury and probable death while driving in Wildwood cemetery Thursday afternoon, says the Williamsport Sun. The accident happened near the McCormick mausoleum and was caused by the breaking of the double tree of the carriage. The minister is suffering from a wrenched shoulder and one of the visiting ladies sustained several bruises, the result of being thrown from the vehicle, while Mrs. Knox and the other sister remained in the carriage, thus escaping injury. That the entire party was not hurled down the bank, a distance of twenty or thirty feet, was due to the carriage running into a tree about six feet below the top of the embankment.

Church Wedding.

Last evening at half past seven o'clock, Miss Elizabeth Louise Farrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Farrell, Sr., and Mr. George Millard Lippert, both of Emporium, were united in marriage at St. Mark's Catholic church in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Miss Minnie Lippert of Olean, N. Y., sister of the groom, was bride's maid and Mr. Maurice Farrell, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Promptly at the appointed hour the strains of the wedding march broke the silence and the contracting parties marched down the middle aisle to the altar, where the Rev. Father Downey performed the ceremony, after which the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents on East Fourth street, where a reception was held and after congratulations an elaborate supper was partaken of by those present and the bride and groom departed on night train on tour of prominent eastern cities.

Miss Farrell is one of our popular young ladies, residing here most of her life and always bore an excellent reputation. Happy and pleasant disposition made her a general favorite with a wide circle of friends. That she will be a true and lovable wife we feel sure and congratulate the young gentleman upon his good fortune. Mr. Lippert is in the employ of the Pennsy railroad at this place and is a steady and industrious young man. The PRESS extends congratulations and wish the couple a happy future.
