Our genial mail messenger, Colonel J. M. English smilingly delivered the usual supply of edifying postal cards Saturday, from the dear friends (?) below, (as usual the Irish) had to take their regular dose. However, Assistant Postmaster, Thad Brooks, kindly erased the pencil work before mailing in order to spare our feelings, for which we extend thanks. Colonel English says that the route must be kept up regardless of any one's feelings and while he is very sorry for the PRESS correspondent he is prepared to deliver anything from a hair pin to a feather bed, as long as it is properly stamped. Let the good work go on and be joyful.

FIRST FORK.

Howard Burlingame and wife have installed a new house keeping outfit in the Billy Moran house just off Main street, near the B. & S. depot their place, where they will be at home to their friends after Oct. 15th.

Fred Caldwell went out a few days ago to set a bear trap, where one had devoured one of Wm. Logue's sheep all but the head and one leg, and had the mis-hap of getting caught himself, one of the spikes running through his hand. Bears have chased Wm. Logue's sheep in from the woods several times this fall but the hunters have been unable to get a shot at them yet. A large one crossed the road just below the Company line and went across the creek the other day.

About 40 men are working on and near the site of the new stone crusher above Haynes Bros' place, and we understand it will be crushing stone in a few weeks at the earliest. Several of the men are boarding at W. W. Wykoff's at the Lushbach depot.

A number of our citizens are attending court this week. Geo. Goss, Fred Caldwell, LeGrand Wykoff, Miles Smith and R. M. Williams.

Hot weather has delayed fall seeding and other farm operations though most of our farmers have their potatoes nearly all out of the ground. Potatoes are not a good crop here this year, being small potatoes and few in a hill. Some fields have a good many rotten ones.

A. S. Bell formerly of Emporium has moved onto the Bowen place.
