FROM OUR REPORTERS.

SINNAMAHONING.

The Liars Club met in regular session in their hall Monday evening, at 1:32, when the crowing cocks awakened Pap Blodget from his first sleep. The club discussed the whopper about the bear killing that bear as published last Sunday. We are trying to find the author of the yarn. He would make a shining light in our club and would be accepted as a full member, with all the degrees free of charge. Jim Mead saw the track of the bear and took up a sapling. The bear was so frightened that it was white in the face. There were more truths told in ten minutes than the secretary could record in six days. Frank is learning fast and in one week more can tell as big a truth story as any member. Pap Blodget and Batchelder are debarred from practice.
