

Bring Out Your Money.
President Roosevelt, in his letter to Secretary Cortelyou approving of the issue of $100,000,000 interest bearing certificates and of $50,000,000 in Panama bonds, gives the people of the United States a bit of advice which it would be well for them to follow.

"What is most needed just at present," he says, "is that our citizens should realize how fundamentally sound business conditions in this country are, and how absurd it is to permit themselves to get into a panic and create a stringency by hoarding their savings instead of trusting perfectly sound banks."

Precisely. It is the doctrine which The Inquirer has been preaching from the start. There is nothing the matter with the banks, nothing with business conditions, but there will be if this absurd policy of hoarding money and keeping it out of general circulation continues. Denude the banks of money and lock it up at home and you put an end to prosperity, because business cannot be run without money.

"There is no particle of risk involved in letting business take its natural course," continues the President. "The people can help themselves and the country most by putting back into active circulation the money they are hoarding. The banks and trust companies are solvent."

And to prove that they are solvent and that the United States Government has every possible confidence in their integrity, the government already has deposited $60,000,000 with them and the proceeds of the sale of the Panama bonds and of the certificates of indebtedness amounting to $100,000,000 more, will also go into the banks.

This marks the faith of the government in the sound condition of affairs, and the President asks the people to evince their faith in the same way.

"I appeal to the public to co-operate with us," he says, "in restoring normal business conditions. The government will see that the people do not suffer, if only the people themselves will act in the normal way."

The masses have had every confidence in President Roosevelt. They have followed wherever he has led. Now is the time for them to show their confidence in a practical way.

Let them restore their money to the banks from which so many thousands of them have withdrawn it. And if there are still those who doubt, then by all means let them take their dollars from the hiding places and purchase the new government securities, upon which they will be paid three per cent. interest.

This is a good deal better than letting the money lie idle at home and subject to risks of loss. If the government of United States cannot be trusted, then the world will come to an end and there will be no use for money.

But if the people have a duty to perform, so have the banks themselves. Let them put a stop to their own hoarding of currency at the earliest possible moment and there will be an end to this abnormal and wholly senseless situation. When a depositor finds that he can get all of the money he wants from the funds he has on deposit at an instant's notice, he is perfectly contented to do without. He doesn't want that money, in fact. And that is all there is about it.

The government has taken a step which should put almost immediately a large amount of ready money in circulation. It is for the banks and the people to co-operate. Absolutely the only thing needed is confidence.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"I'm Married Now.
Considerable interest is being manifested in the coming of that funny comedian George F. Hall, in the new musical vaudeville mixture, "I'm Married Now." It is the clever work of Mr. Hall and the specialties introduced by the capable company. This company will appear at opera house in the near future. Watch for the dates.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by all dealers.

An Appeal for "The Bread Line"
The Bowery Mission "Bread Line," of which 1,000 men who are out in the streets for the night are given a breakfast of hot coffee and rolls every morning at one o'clock, is one of the most pathetic sights in all the wide world. Long before the hour of opening, these poor, starving men stand in a single line that some times extends for blocks in length, waiting for coffee and rolls. During the last winter, this breakfast was given to a total of 144,000 homeless men and boys, and up to date nearly nearly half a million of the homeless have had their weary tramp restfully interrupted by this unique ministrations. The first of these breakfasts is given on Thanksgiving morning, and the last on the following Easter morning. Altogether the Mission supplied, this year, over 233,000 meals and 10,072 lodgings to homeless men and boys.

It is for this grand, philanthropic work that we ask your kind and practical co-operation. The homeless, friendless, disheartened and despairing men and boys of the Bowery are not native New Yorkers, but men and boys who, until within a year, lived happily at the old homestead with father and mother, and perhaps wife. They are stranded here, and in despair appeal to the Old Bowery Mission, which, for over thirty years, has been to the unfortunate, as the rescue cities of old, a heaven of encouragement, rest and protection. Shall we turn them away? It rests with the good people of the country to decide the question, and may God graciously help you to decide it right.

"Sis in New York."

"Sis in New York" is coming Wednesday, Nov. 27, to the Emporium opera house. Sis and her Indiana neighbors have been so long before the public entertaining and delighting those who have an ear for the quaint brand of comedy found just the same nowhere else save Posy County, Hoopletown, Indiana, needs no introduction. This season's edition of fun, frolic takes Sis and her rural friends into New York and she is carefully kept busy dodging the autos and cars for she insists on walking in mid street in case any of the big buildings should fall.

A FATAL COLLISION!

Three Men Instantly Killed and Burned.

Last Saturday, about 1:40 p. m., a collision took place at Howard Siding, five miles west of this place, between two freight trains. Extra train No. 465 stopped at Howard to take water, when train No. 84 came thundering down grade at a rapid speed and crashed into No. 465, demolishing ten cars and killing three men—conductor Casper Fey, of St. Marys; brakeman, John H. Curry, of Johnsburg and flagman Thomas J. Welsh, of Renovo, but a native of Emporium, being a son of our townsman, Mr. John Welsh. Young Welsh was married, his wife being a daughter of Krebs, of this place. They have no children. The other poor unfortunates were unmarried. Immediately upon the piling up of the cars the wreck took fire and two of the men were roasted, although dead when the flames broke out. Casper Fey, the conductor, was not burned. He was thrown against the engine and crushed to death. As soon as possible the P. & E., fire brigade of Renovo, the Kane and Renovo wrecking crews reached the scene. The men could be seen before the fire engine arrived, lying in the wreck dead.

The bodies were recovered late in the afternoon and brought to Emporium and placed in charge of Undertaker LaBar's assistant, Mr. C. W. Rishel, to prepare for burial. Pending an investigation it cannot be told how the accident happened, or the cause. Mr. Welsh was noticed by the engineer William Brennan, come to the door as his train was almost upon the crew, and hastened back into the caboose, evidently to warn his companions, when he was caught with the rest. What caused all three of the men to be in the caboose at this time will always remain a mystery.

The remains of Mr. John H. Curry, aged 29, were shipped to Johnsburg, while those of Casper Fey were taken to St. Marys. The remains of Thomas J. Welsh, aged 32 years, were kept here and the funeral held at St. Mark's Catholic Church Tuesday morning, at nine o'clock. The funeral was under the direction of Mr. William Deitzler, one of Undertaker LaBar's assistants. Father Downey delivered appropriate sermon. The funeral was very largely attended by relatives and friends many coming here from Renovo and other towns.

Women and the Saloons.

An article in The Sun yesterday, under the caption of "A Glimpse at the Dark Side," is a sad commentary upon the lives and conduct of some of the youths and girls of this city who follow the deplorable practice of street roistering and saloon visitation. It also is glaring indictment of the proprietors of such places as lend themselves to the business of thus graduating young folks in immorality and begetting the causes and the circumstances that finally lead to the local police courts and worse. It was shown by this disclosure that there are saloons in this city where the side door entrances swing open in voracious invitation to boys and girls whose ages, if nothing else, would be a barrier to their entrance if the proprietors of these places sought either to consult a sense of decency or the law. As to the latter, there is very evident laxness shown by the ward officers whose duty it is to pay vigilant attention to the provisions of the license statutes and report violations of the same to the court. The court only at the last license term called attention to the fact that complaints had been made to it that some of the hotel men of this city and out-lying district were permitting the indiscriminate intermingling of the sexes in their places of business and that this custom must stop, else revocation of license would follow.

To the credit of some of the landlords of this city let it be said that women are not allowed in their places. This ought to be true of every one of them, and the man who is not willing to conserve to this rule ought not to have a license. There can be but one consequence in the custom of permitting women to frequent drinking rooms—it invariably leads to more flagrant evils, for both themselves and their male companions.—Williamsport Sun.

Help the Editor.

An editor puts forth this plea: "My friend, help the editor in his wide eyed search for news. When your friends come to visit you, if you are ashamed of it, tell him; when your wife gives a tea party, if you will have recovered from the effects of the gossip, drop in with the news; when a baby arrives fill your pockets with cigars and call; if you go to a party, steal some of the good things and leave 'em with the item in our sanctum. If your wife licks you, come and let us see your scars and tender sympathy through the paper. If your mother-in-law has died, don't be bashful about it, give in all the common place news. In short, whatever makes you feel proud, sad, lonesome or glad submit it to our twenty-four cent wisdom and our matted locks part and stand up on end with gratitude, which will pour from every pore with moisture from a dew besprinkled earth."

First Gathering of the Class of '08

The Class of '08, were entertained at the home of Miss Mary Blumle last evening. The evening was enjoyed by all present. After numerous contests, each member was awarded either first or booty prizes. Miss Nelle Swartz was more fortunate than the rest, carrying off three boobies. The honors ought to have been "Brace Knight's" in the German contest for translating the famous noun "Kuss," eight times.

After refreshments, served at a late hour, all decided to recross the hill for home. Those present were: Misses Margaret Weisenfluh, Marguerite Metzger, Jennie Robinson, Nelle Swartz, Dorothy Nelson, Florence Cleary, Mary Farrell and Mr. Frank Knight.

The Social Swim.

C. H. Cordie, chemist at Emporium Powder Works, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seger, entertained a few friends at dinner Friday evening, the occasion being Mr. Cordie's 21st birthday.

ENJOYABLE EVENING.

Hon. B. W. Green appreciating the fact that we poor men have been woefully neglected by the fair sex—in fact snubbed—resented the slight and invited his gentlemen friends, or at least about thirty of them, to be his guests Saturday, from eight until mid-night. To say the occasion was admirably arranged would be putting it mildly. The Judge, aided by his estimable wife and niece, planned well and after a few games of the Judge's favorite—pedro—all partook of one of the most elaborate course dinners we have tackled in a long time. The occasion is one long to be thought of. Mrs. Green's wide reputation for substantial, as well as palatable cooking, has not waned a little bit. We wish the Judge might have a birthday four times a year and be sure to remember us. At mid-night all departed for their couches to dream of their grand-mothers at the same time voted our genial friends royal entertainers.

To Cut Down Licenses.

We note by the Ridgway Advocate that Judge Hall will reduce the number of licensed saloons in Ridgway and notifies three saloon proprietors to make arrangements to retire from their places. Good for the Judge. Now put your meat hook into Emporium—deep.

An Honorable Man.

Mr. Fred O. Thatcher, of Philadelphia, is calling on his trade in this section this week. Mr. T., is a wholesale dealer in boots and shoes, enjoys a large trade and is one of the most popular men in the business. He is also honest as gold and his word goes for 100 cents on the dollar.

Box Social.

Miss Alice Quigley, teacher of Plank Road Hollow Intermediate school, announces a Box Social for Thanksgiving Eve, (Nov. 27th), the object being to start a fund for the establishment of a library for the use of the schools. It is hoped many may attend and aid the good cause.

Another Fiend.

An Austrian named Michael Brownich was arrested on Sunday for assaulting and attempting to rape the daughter of Alex. Furbaser, a child only ten years old. Chief Mundy served the warrant and arrested the man, aged about thirty and locked him up until Monday evening, when Justice Larrabee gave him a hearing. In default of $1,000 bail he was committed to jail.

Big Improvement in Money Situation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—As evidence of the marked improvement in the financial situation in this city came the announcement to-day that the Twelfth Ward Bank, one of the institutions which suspended payment during the early days of the crisis, will re-open for business to-morrow. The announcement was made in the form of a brief notice posted on the door of the bank. The local sub-treasury to-day received its first official advice from Washington regarding the government's issue of $100,000,000 of Treasury certificates. Subscriptions for nominal amounts were taken, but nothing was known of the $25,000,000 syndicate said to have been formed to take up a portion of the issue.

No deposit is required with subscriptions to the Treasury certificates and banks and brokerage houses in the financial district announced their willingness to forward bids without exacting any commission.

Proposals for the new Panama Canal bonds will have to be forwarded direct to Washington, as the various sub-treasuries are not authorized to accept them.

Struck by a Caboose.

C. G. Frantz, a trainman on the Medix Run railroad, was struck by a caboose while at work last evening at Medix Run and probably fatally wounded. At the time the accident occurred the crew were making a flying switch and the engine and cars had passed Frantz, who had been left to throw the switch. Forgetting about the caboose coming he stepped out on the track and was knocked down. One arm is broken and his head is crushed so badly that slight hope is entertained for his recovery.

Mr. Frantz is single and makes his home with his parents at Brockport.—Monday's DuBols Courier.

Fell Down Stairs.

On Monday, Thos. W. Welsh, the West Ward merchant, fell down a trap door in his back store room, tearing the ligaments in his right shoulder and arm. He is very painfully injured, but Dr. Heilmann will soon have him on easy street.
