What Do You Think—

Of a place where things grow every day in the year
Where you don't have to depend on rain-fall—
Where an acre yields from $80 to $500 and upwards—
Where you will find orderly, intelligent and settled communities, the best of schools and well-built and safe toll roads—
Where you can live better on less outlay than anywhere else—
Where you will find the best climate on earth—
This spells, of course, Southern California.

Distinction and Difference.

In Dean Ramsay's book of anecdotes there is one which refers to a conversation between a Scotch minister and a sexton. The minister was a stranger to the gravemaker, and discussed with him the doctrines of the neighboring clergy. As one after another was mentioned the sexton wagged his head gloomily, and said: "He's no sound." At last the minister—who was a long-winded and rather empty preacher—mentioned his own name, and inquired: "Mr. — now, isn't he sound?" "Oo, aye," said the sexton, with a twinkle in his eye. "He's a' sound."

His Word Not Good.

John and Jim agreed to settle a difference by fighting it out. It was understood that whoever wanted to quit should cry "nough!" John got Jim down and was hammering him soundly, when Jim cried "nough!" But John paid no attention to his cry and kept on pounding him. Again and again Jim called out "nough!" But John paid no heed and kept busy with his fists. A boy standing near asked: "Why don't you let the feller up? He's yelled 'nough!'" "But he's such a liar you can't believe him."

The Barker and St. Luke.

The rubberneck wagon, filled with sightseers, was approaching St. Luke's hospital, says the New York Times. A white-haired woman stood in the grounds, and near her a man was using a lawn mower. "There," said the barker, with a swing of his arm toward the hospital. "Is St. Luke's hospital, one of the most noted in the metropolis. The white-haired lady is one of the nurses, and there you see St. Luke himself cutting the grass."

Troublesome Growth.

"Does the child ever keep still a minute?" asked the woman as the youngster sprawled noisily over the couch in a dozen squirming positions at once, it seemed to her. "No," answered his mother. "They are growing when they do that, they say."
"Will you please ask him to stop growing," implored the woman, "just for this week while he is visiting me?"

SCHOOL TEACHERS

Also Have Things to Learn.

"For many years I have used coffee and refused to be convinced of its bad effect upon the human system," writes a veteran school teacher.

"Ten years ago I was obliged to give up my much loved work in the public schools after years of continuous labor. I had developed a well defined case of chronic coffee poisoning.

"The troubles were constipation, flutterings of the heart, a thumping in the top of my head and various parts of my body, twitching of my limbs, shaking of my head, and, at times after exertion, a general 'gone' feeling with a toper's desire for very strong coffee. I was a nervous wreck for years.

"A short time ago friends came to visit us and they brought a package of Postum with them, and urged me to try it. I was prejudiced because some years ago I had drunk a cup of weak, tasteless stuff called Postum which I did not like at all.

"This time, however, my friend made the Postum according to directions on the package, and it won me. Suddenly I found myself improving in a most decided fashion.
"The odor of boiling coffee no longer tempts me. I am so greatly benefited by Postum that if I continue to improve as I am now, I'll begin to think I have found the Fountain of Perpetual Youth. This is no fancy letter but stubborn facts which I am glad to make known."

THREE HORSES ON A WAGON.

Successful Method Followed by One Farmer in Illinois.

Bolt one end of a 1x4 oak block 15 inches long (A) on the upper side of the tongue in the hammer hole, putting an iron brace on under side of tongue and block. Put bolt through middle hole of tripletree and end hole of block. Put that bolt through ring in the end of a common wagon stay chain on upper side of tripletree, also through another chain on under side of block. Pass the two chains diagonally across the tongue hounds, one above, the other below, and hook them into a third stay chain put around the front axletree just outside of front hounds. The purpose of the block is to keep the tripletree away from the tongue so that the horses can work freely. The draft all comes on the chain. The tendency of the block is to push the tongue to the right; the tendency of the chain, to pull it to the left. They balance each other and the draft is straight.

Our meadows were so soft this summer that most farmers used four horses on their hay loaders. I used three, with this hitch, and did the work well, writes an Illinois correspondent of Wallace's Farmer. It can be changed from one wagon to another in less than three minutes. To do so remove bolt from tongue and unhook chains. It is so simple and cheap that any farmer can make one in a few minutes.

I have used such a hitch on my land roller for 25 years, except that I have a rod instead of a chain for the draft. Any three-horse hitch fastened to the tongue as a doubletree will crowd the middle horse and make the team work hard.

For driving the team put lines on the outside horses, snapping checks to the bit of inside horse; fasten inside bits of outside horses to hame rings of middle horse with hitch reins. With such a hitch as this in front and behind there is no need of a fast horse or a slow horse, of urging one forward or holding another back. The draft is equal on each, and each horse is equally well guided or backed with the lines.

I often wanted to take an "empty" out or bring a loaded wagon in with two horses. To do so, put a common doubletree clevis through the ring that connects the two clevis at the short end of tripletree, put clevis pin through hole in doubletree strap. The draft is straight and hitch so short that tripletree will not rub wheel.

POINTS FOR THE FARMER.

A teaspoonful or two of oilmeal a day may be fed to breeding ewes, especially during the winter.

England's potato crop averages over six tons an acre. Russia grows barely two tons to the acre, and Italy little over one and three-fourths tons.

Most hired men chafe under nagging at trifling omissions and commissions. The farmer who has the habit of picking flaws is sure to lose love and respect.

Oats may in some instances be profitably used as a nurse crop by sowing a less quantity of the seed than is usual and then cutting the oats for hay as soon as in head.

While it is all right to have the milk cows in good, thrifty condition, a cow that is giving a mess of rich milk will hardly be fat. In fact if milk cows put feed onto their backs they are not putting it into the pail. The average man is pretty liable to forget all about being kind to the cow when he is compelled to milk a kicking heifer in a hot stable, together with the flies and mosquitoes humming around like a swarm of bees hunting for a place to "hive." It's good-by theory then.

Leguminous Forage Plants.

A leguminous plant is one that has pods. Some of the pods are very small, like those on the clover, while other pods are large, like those on the bean and pea. There are many wild plants whose pods are so small as not to attract attention from the casual passerby. But in all cases the legumes are good things to grow, for the reason that they are themselves rich in nitrogen and as forage plants supply protein to the animals eating them, and also gather nitrogen from the air by which they fill their roots and so leave the soil richer in nitrogen than they find it. Every farmer should endeavor to grow some leguminous plants.

VETERAN OF THREE WARS.

A Pioneer of Colorado and Nebraska.

Matthias Campbell, veteran of the civil war and two Indian wars, and a pioneer of Colorado, now living at 218 East Nebraska Street, Blair, Neb., says: "I had such pains in my back for a long time that I could not turn in bed, and at times there was an almost total stoppage of the urine. My wife and I have both used Doan's Kidney Pills for what doctors diagnosed as advanced kidney troubles, and both of us have been completely cured."

FOUR SHAFTS OF HUMOR.

Pithy Remarks from One of the Foremost Jokesmiths.

With the truly artistic temperament the bird in the bush has scant notion of doubling its value by changing to the hand.

A has-been is a man who has spent his time with hair vigors, electric brushes and newspaper recipes, when he should have been winning a laurel wreath to cover his ignominy with.

When you enter a shop state just what you want. For then the merchant can go intelligently to work to sell you something else. The great law of commerce is to sell people what they don't want. What they do want will sell itself.

But, probably it is no harder to live up to your reputation when you are young than it will be to live it down when you are older.—Puck.

ITCHING RASH 18 YEARS.

Girl's Rash Spread and Grew Worse Under Specialist's Care—Perfect Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

"When my daughter was a baby she had a breaking out behind the ears. The doctor said that she would outgrow it, and it did get somewhat better until she was about fifteen years old, and after that she could get nothing that would drive it away. She was always applying something in the way of salves. It troubled her behind the knees, opposite the elbows, back of the neck and ears, under the chin, and then it got on the face. That was about three years ago. She took treatment with a specialist and seemed to get worse all the time. We were then advised to try the Cuticura Remedies, and now I don't see any breaking out. M. Curley, 11-19 Sixteenth St., Bay City, Mich., May 20, 1906."

Couldn't Discharge Him.

When the jury had filed in for at least the fourth time, with no sign of coming to an agreement in the bribery case, the disgusted judge rose up and said: "I discharge this jury."

At this, one sensitive talesman, stung to the quick by this abrupt and ill-sounding decision, obstinately faced the judge.

"You can't discharge me, judge!" he retorted.

"Why not?" asked the astonished judge.

"Because," announced the talesman, pointing to the defendant's lawyer, "I'm being paid by that man there!"—Lippincott's.

No Nature Fake.

The alleged case of a bird making a splint for its broken leg is no more wonderful than this:

A Welsh rabbit, about to be devoured by an enemy, made itself stringy and tied the strings to a plate, fork and toast in a brave effort to keep from being dragged to its doom.

I saw this with my own eyes but refrain from giving my right name for fear of drawing upon me displeasure.—Herald and Presbyter.

Suit Couldn't Concern Him.

Before the trial of a suit for damages was begun in a London court the other day it was remarked incidentally that the defendant, a laundry proprietor, had been dead 11 years.

True to His Promise.

A teacher in a tenement district hurried from the school to find the mother of a pupil who had been taken quite ill.

"Can you show me where Mrs. Angelo Scandale lives?" she inquired of a cherub transplanted from the sunny south to a dark, sunless alley.

"Yes, teach, I show you," and a willing, sticky hand dragged her on with such speed as to make her stumble over an Italian dame seated on the threshold.

After the teacher's breathless flight toward the clouds, the little hand stopped tugging.

"There where Mees Scandale live," indicated the horizontal arm and finger, "but she downstairs sitting on the step," finished the smiling lips.—Harper's Magazine.

Missed His Vocation.

Reginald de Koven, the composer, tells of a grocer and a druggist who attended a Wagner concert. As the program did not please them they began talking on music in general and on Wagner in particular.

"Another example of the fact that every man wants to do something out of his line," said the druggist.

"That's all right," assented the grocer. "Now, I'm a grocer, but I've always wanted to be a banker."

"You'd probably fail," added the druggist. "Look at me. I'm a success as a druggist, yet I've always wanted to write a book. This man Wagner tries his hand at music. Just listen to it. And yet you all know he builds good parlor cars!"—Success.

In the Church.

"Of course," said Tess at Miss Yerren's wedding to Mr. Timmid, "the bride looks lovely, as brides always do."

"Yes," replied Jess, "but the bridegroom doesn't. He appears rather run down."

"Run down? Oh, yes; caught after a long chase."

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.
In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E.
