Mrs. Bradley Not Guilty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.—Every one was late and looked tired this morning when court opened in the Bradley case. His honor's melancholy face was sadder than usual.

The prisoner came in wearing a new chiffon gown, the gift of her sister. She looked anxiously at the jury, which avoided her eyes, as they filed in looking pale and exhausted.

"We find the defendant not guilty," said the foreman. A long sobbing breath went up from the men and women at the announcement of the verdict. "Order, keep your seats," shouted the court crier.

The prisoner's body quivered like an aspen leaf. Her life long friend Emma Pischall violated the order of court, but no one chided her as she went to the side of her friend, and leaning close brushed her cheek with her lips.

The case went to the jury at 4:17 o'clock Monday afternoon and it was 10 o'clock at night before any word was heard from the jury room.

After deliberation for five hours and forty-three minutes, the jury in the case of Mrs. Annie Bradley, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Brown, of Utah, failed to reach an agreement and was ordered locked up for the night. It was 10 o'clock when the court crier announced that they would be unable to reach an agreement and that court would convene Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Fifteen minutes after the verdict had been announced Mrs. Bradley was spinning through Judicial Square in a big touring car with Mrs. Hayes, wife of Judge Hayes of the internal revenue, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Masters, Attorney Hoover and Wells.

News of the verdict spread rapidly and thousands of people gathered about the machine. Mrs. Bradley smiled upon those about her although evidently much confused.

Ten minutes later she returned to the court house and met the members of the jury. As each jurymen was introduced she shook hands and expressed her gratitude over the verdict. She will remain indefinitely at the home of Judge Hayes.

Sound as a Rock.

If any of our citizens feel "shaky" about the banks they have only to read the quarterly statement of Emporium's solid banking institution, the First National Bank, in this issue. Uncle Sam deposits there and if you have money buried in your cellar get it out and join Uncle Sam.

Humphreys' "Seventy-Seven."

"Even the doctors
When at their wits end
Take Seventy-seven
Their colds to mend."

Humphreys' "Seventy seven" is taken alike by the wise and the simple. The difference is that the wise keep it handy and take a dose at the first sneeze or shiver and stop the cold at once.

The foolish let it run on and it takes longer to break it up—but "77" does it at any stage.

All druggists sell it, most druggists recommend it. 25c. Humphreys' Homeo. Medicine Co., Cor. William and John Streets, New York.

A dozen photographs will make twelve Christmas presents. Now is time to have them made. W. G. Bair has something fine this year. 42-2t.

Caterers.

Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Dorsey, first-class reference furnished, parties furnished and served in their own home. Prices reasonable. Fancy dishes; table linen and silver. 41-1t.

A large line of dolls; closing out at cost at L. Taggart's.

Itch cured in 30 minutes by Woodford's Sanitary Lotion. Never fails. Sold by L. Taggart, druggist. 32-1yr.

It will be unnecessary for you to go through a painful, expensive operation for Piles if you use ManZan. Put up in collapsible tube with nozzle, ready to apply to the soreness and inflammation. For any form of Piles, price 50c, guaranteed at R. C. Dodson's drug store. 3m.

Boarders Wanted.

Two large front rooms, with board, and use of bath. Gas in rooms.
